MANHOOD: HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Impairment, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excess.

Price in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Improvement of Cows for a Milk Dairy.

The habit of copious and long continued milking, which is so prevalent in the dairy, is a condition of nature, and not natural. In a condition of nature, a cow provides for the wants of her calf only until it is able to graze, when the milk gradually decreases, and after three or four months, the secretion is discontinued. As our dairy cows, by long education and breeding, have acquired a habit of copious and persistent milking, it is evident that a course of neglect in these respects should tend to discourage this habit, and to some extent lead the cow back toward a condition of nature. On this account it is considered unwise to permit a dairy cow to nurse her calf even for one day, for the irregular and inconsistent milking of the milk operates to lessen the yield at once, and if continued for a month is seriously injurious to the milking capacity of the cow. The improvement of cows kept specially for milk, is, perhaps, the first and most important point to be considered. A milk-producer must start with purchased cows, or usually does so. When these cows are near their calving time they require good feeding, for a cow in good healthy condition will pass through the difficulties of parturition with ease and safety, whereas one that has been sparsely fed while dry will often fail in this respect and in her whole future season of milking. It is a question if it is more profitable to breed cows for yield at once, or to buy them when fresh and sell them as soon as they fail. After considerable experience and much figuring as to feed and other points, the writer has concluded that in respect to yield there is no difference; while if a dairyman wishes to improve his herd he must breed them. The next heaviest milker and perhaps the best dairy cow is the Ayrshire, a smaller cow and a lighter feeder, but one that will sometimes yield her live weight of milk in ten or twelve days. The grade Short-horn and the common natives are the best for the purpose of a dairyman who wishes to improve a herd. It need not be said that the best milk is good animals to start with. A bull of the breed chosen, either Dutch or Ayrshire, from a heavy milking cow, and not more than a year old, may be procured at a promising value. This produced should be put under a course of training as soon as dropped. They should be removed from the cow at once to a distant shed, where a separate pen should be provided for them. This prevents the learning of bad habits, as sucking each other, and tames and gentles them, and facilitates them with contentment and health. After the calf is valuable, and afterwards have a favorable effect upon the milking. The calf may be fed three times a day—the cow being milked dry at each time—for a week, as soon as the milk is in a proper condition, the milk may be set for cream and skimmed, and the skimmed milk warmed for the calf. The butter may often be made as profitable as the milk, and the raising of the calf cost very little in this way. A cow kept for milk needs bone and muscle, with a large capacity for digestion, and a large frame will form rather than fat. These qualities the spring months, in the manner above mentioned. The calf should be bred at twelve or fourteen months, and should be well fed until her calf is dropped; that growth may be maintained. If breeding is delayed longer, the total profit on the cow during her life is reduced in proportion. When milking, the young cow should be generously fed, so as to increase the flow of milk and extend the capacity of the udder, and should be milked at least six months before she is bred again, and milked as long as she will yield up to four weeks of calving. This management tends to produce copious and persistent milking, which are precisely what are required by the milk producer for feeding his calves. The most important element in rearing a cow. The more feed a cow can eat and digest without making fat, the more milk she will produce. A large and healthy digestive capacity is a necessary condition of a cow. The matter of education, to be begun with the calf and continued with the cow. For the production of milk, nitrogenous food is required. Feeding is an important element in rearing a cow. Perfect quietness and gentleness in the stable at all times is indispensable to a quiet and orderly disposition, and a necessary condition of good milking. BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY, JUNE 1.

The City Printing.

"At the meeting of the City Council last evening, upon the consideration of the printing accounts, Alderman Dickson charged that advertisements for the City were being inserted in the city press without orders having been given for the same, and that they were copied by one paper from another without authority. It is a fact that the City is not responsible for the printing of the City press. Let all accounts rendered the City be accompanied by the orders as vouchers. So far as this is concerned, any work done for the City has been done upon written orders, which are prepared to produce, and at as low rates as the same work would be done for any private individual."

Direct Taxation.

The prospect of direct taxation looms darkly before the residents of this Province. The cash surplus of $40,000,000 which was left by the Government of the late John Sandfield Macdonald to a people the majority of whom were led in 1871 by false promises to cast their votes in favor of a change of Government, has been almost entirely, if not wholly dissipated, and now it seems clear, either that direct taxation must be resorted to in the near future by our extravagant rulers, or that the Provincial Government must be relieved of certain charges which amount to a sum so considerable, as to cause the expenditure to overbalance the income.

In the election campaign which preceded the general election of June last year, the Conservative press and candidates showed the true position of affairs. They made it clear that, with a revenue which had decreased steadily and was certain to become smaller year by year, the expenditure was continually increasing, that the annual outlay already exceeded the revenue, and that the cash surplus was nearly if not wholly depleted or used up, and in consequence they urged a reduction of expenses, in order that direct taxation might not be resorted to. The partisans of the Government met these truthful statements with the confident assertions that the "Tories" had misrepresented the financial condition of the Province; that the surplus was still large—though to make this appear, they dragged in assets which were not considered by the Macdonald Government in making up their surplus—and that the income would speedily be made to overbalance the outlay. The people, seemingly believing these reckless statements, gave their confidence once more to Mr. Mowat and his colleagues, and they were returned to power with a majority in the Legislature even greater than they had formerly possessed.

The strongest justification of the position taken by the Conservative party in reference to the Provincial finances, and the most complete confirmation of the statements made, as above alluded to, are to be found in an editorial in the Globe of the 28th inst., in which it says, under the starting heading "Avoid direct taxation":

"The Province of Ontario cannot always expect to have a surplus. The time is coming when there will be a deficit, and it is certain that if the large and constantly increasing burdens now carried by the Provincial Government are to remain where they are

But now that these special works have been executed, now that the probability is that the surplus will gradually be reduced—nay, rather that in the future it will be entirely diminished—and that demands on the Provincial purse in new directions are constantly being made, the opinion is forced home to us that the time has come to cry halt, or at least to review our career as a Province, and to endeavor to forecast the future as fairly as we can with all allies. We certify that the maximum in outlay has been reached, and that it would be unwise to increase it beyond present figures. To do so would only mean on the day of direct taxation, a consummation to be staved off to a distant period as possible."

A more crushing condemnation of the false assertions made on behalf of the Government, and the true expression of the feelings of the people, could hardly be made by their own organ could not be expected from an opponent, and at the same time the statement is of a character to alarm the people who have accepted as true the resplendent inaccuracies of the Ministerial press. The financial ledger-de-mani which was resorted to last year in order to deceive the electors has been exposed, and the people find themselves, according to the Government organs, a confession, face to face with the not very pleasant prospect of direct taxation, owing to the reckless squandering of their money by the men whose continual cry has been "economy."

That they have made a bad investment of the surplus which they found in the Treasury when assuming office, especially in regard to the indiscriminate aiding of railways, is made clear by the annual report for 1879 of Mr. Sandford Fleming late Chief Engineer of the Pacific Railway, who says:

"If the railways of Ontario had to be established by a narrow, careful study of the requirements of the country, they would enable any intelligent engineer of ordinary experience to project a new system which, at one-half the cost, would far better serve the public than the present system. The public would be fully satisfied every expectation, and would not result in disappointment. Water and Gas Companies would be able to invest their means in that which has proved to be the most profitable and profitable to the public."

Ald. Holden asked why orders for the supply of goods to the poor had not been given to grocers in Murray Ward. Ald. Pettie said he gave the orders where the parties got them desired. Ald. Lingham said he thought part of the land had to be purchased, and he desired to Ald. Robertson that the water in the shade trees would commence to-morrow.

lent themselves to the support of many schemes which they knew would be of very small benefit, and so scattered the surplus abroad recklessly, but generally where it would do most good, to the parish, namely into the western part of the Province, and now there is nothing left for lines in this part of the Province really worthy of aid from the public purse, to which the district has contributed very largely.

The Globe broaches the idea that, as the revenue of the Province must decrease, the expense of maintaining the indigent should be borne by the county and other corporations; that the income should be provided for in the same manner, that the persons sent to the central prison or reformatory should be maintained by the municipalities; that the grants towards education might be diminished, perhaps gradually abolished, and that local railways must hereafter be built by local or private capital. Doubtless if these "reforms" and others like them were carried out and the Provincial treasury relieved from the charges which they entail, the Government would rejoice, but what the people would gain by the change is by no means so clear. The effect would be to render necessary direct taxation for Provincial purposes, but the rate of taxation for local purposes would be correspondingly increased, so that there could be no benefit to the ratepayers in that way. There would also be this further objection, that, relieved of the unwelcome responsibility of imposing direct taxation, Governments as reckless and extravagant as that of Mr. Mowat would be tempted to undertake expenditures even more questionable and less wise than those of the past. Having had a most favorable opportunity to carry on public affairs in an economical way, and having failed to justify the expectations of the electorate, they should not now be permitted to throw upon the municipalities burdens which the Government of Sandfield Macdonald not only met, but were able to discharge and, by careful management, amass a large surplus as well.

CITY COUNCIL.
 MONDAY, MAY 31.
 The Council met at 8 p. m.
 Mayor—His Worship the Mayor, Messrs. Breanan, Proctor, Lingham, D. Holden, Van Dusen, A. L. Smith, Dickson, T. Holden, J. Smith, Melnichuk, Gen. Jelliet, Hambly, Wallbridge, Pettie, Farley, St. Charles, Costello, Robertson, Ostrom and Grant.
 The minutes of the last meeting were confirmed.

REPORTS, &c.
 The following were presented:
 From Charles Lavis and others for re-opening drain in Coleman Ward.
 From John Hicks, regarding the re-opening of drain.
 From Margaret Walsh for remission of taxes; from Mrs. Auger to the same effect.
 From J. A. Brock & Co., offering to accept $20 for portion of Council of 1878.
 From David Price and others for the opening of Alexander and Fort Streets to Charles Street.

From Wm. Dufre, for reduction of taxes on unoccupied property.
 From Jas. McCudden and others for the passage of a By-law to prohibit dealers in rags, bones, &c., from purchasing from children under 16 years old.

From E. Harrison and others, to a similar effect.
 From Harris & Walton, for remission of taxes on factory which had been destroyed by fire.

From Charles Pettie and others, for repairs on Lewis Street.
 From Nelson G. Reynolds, Whitby, for drainage on Hotel Street.

From Capt. John Hicks, for $25 as agreed on for cutting a channel through the ice, which he found impossible to finish within the time stipulated.

From Mr. Mainwaring, stating that Lewis Marlow & J. Huxley refused to act as pound-keepers; that there are but three pounds, and that he had this month impounded 85 head of cattle.

From James Harrold, Thomas Rutherford and John Northcott, asking appointment as assessors.

From Goldie & McCulloch, Galt, regarding supplying a safe.

From D. Ockerman, asking for further time to return his account of back taxes.

From J. L. Steinhardt, regarding the establishment of a ribbon factory or silk mill, and asking either the honor or the formation of a joint stock company. Employment would be given to 75 people, and in the dye works to 75 more. He proposed to form a company with $200,000 capital in 8,000 shares of $25 each, he to take 3,000 shares and the City $50 for his loss of patients on account of the cholera, he to take $50 to contest a law suit and succeed.

Ald. Costello thought it best to settle such matters wherever possible.

Ald. Pettie held that if they were not liable, they should not pay anything to Dr. Pettie. The amendment was put and lost.

In answer to Ald. Dickson, Ald. Jelliet said the Solicitor held that they had no right to impose harbor dues on timber brought in by the way, as it was in favor of encouraging the timber trade brought in by railway.

Ald. Breanan held that if square timber were to be exempted, so that square timber and goods arriving by vessel and steamer.

Ald. Robertson said Ald. Brennan was right in the abstract, but the shipment being a first one, they had thrown off the dock. They should amend the By-law, establish some port for raising, and charge dues hereafter.

Ald. D. Holden thought it unjust to make this exemption, and should vote against the motion.

Ald. Jelliet repeated that the Solicitor held that the By-law there was no power to collect dues on timber which arrived by railway.

Ald. T. Holden said that the Act provides for the collection of harbor dues on articles brought into the harbor on vessels or shipped upon vessels in the harbor.

The clause was passed, also: remaining clause on the Public Works report coming up.

Ald. Jelliet said the subject had been referred to the Finance Committee, which had not come to a decision.

Ald. Jelliet stated, in reply to Ald. J. Smith, that the petition of Neil Moarthur had not been overlooked, but would be considered at the next meeting of the Finance Committee.

NOTICES.
 Some notices were allowed to stand.

BY-LAWS.
 Ald. Dickson introduced a By-law for the appointment of assessors by the municipalities. He asked that it be read a first time, in order to have discussion at the next meeting.

Ald. Jelliet thought it desirable to have the matter settled now. It had been discussed, and it could now be determined whether to continue the old system or appoint a Commissioner.

Ald. Robertson agreed with Ald. Jelliet, and introduced a By-law for the appointment of assessors.

Ald. Holden thought the matter should be discussed by the Finance Committee and reported on. The By-law ought to be read a first time.

Ald. Dickson withdrew the subject to be laid before the ratepayers, as it was a matter so important. There were certainly great injustices under the present system, and it was desirable to have the revenue of the city from errors and omissions. Whether this was the fault of present assessors or not, he did not know, but he was not prepared to say that certainly there ought to be a remedy.

The By-laws were then both read a first time.

MOTIONS.
 Ald. T. Holden said that two petitions had been presented by indigent citizens, asking that layers of rags, bones, &c. be prevented from being sold in the streets. He knew that these had been sold, and in consequence of the practice referred to. He moved, seconded by Ald. Dickson, to refer the matter to the Corporation to deal with the power of the Corporation, and to prepare a By-law if they thought proper.

Ald. Dickson moved to instruct the Solicitor to inquire as to the rights and power of the City to open McDonald Street South to the bay—Carried.

Ald. Ostrom moved, seconded by Ald. A. L. Smith, to have the entrance door of the Council Chamber removed so as to increase the space at the disposal of the Council.

Ald. Holden thought they should meet in the large hall. The whole subject should be considered and reported upon by the Market Committee.

This was agreed to.

On motion of Ald. Robertson, the Water and Gas Companies were ordered to have the lamp at the intersection of Pinnacle and Great St. James Streets removed to the north side of the street.

Ald. Proctor moved, seconded by Ald. Grant, for the repairing of the hand engine at a cost not to exceed $50, and have the same placed in Coleman Ward. The mover said a company was formed and ready to work the engine. He thought the expense would be about $75.

Ald. Ostrom moved to refer the matter to the Fire Committee—Carried.

On motion of Ald. St. Charles, the use of the City Hall for Wednesday in each week was granted to the clergyman for the holding of their services.

BY-LAWS.
 Council went into Committee on By-Laws, Ald. St. Charles in the chair.

Ald. Robertson moved the second reading of the By-law for the sale and inspection of bread. It provides that all bread of wheat, rye, or barley, shall be sold in loaves of 2 lbs. and 4 lbs. each, and all bread found light shall be forfeited for the use of the poor. It also provides for inspection by the police; for the sealing of bread by the police; for forfeiture and destruction, if necessary, of bread found to be adulterated; and a penalty of $5 for the first offence, and up to $20 for the third offence, in case of conviction.

The By-law was read a second time. Committee rose and reported—Adopted.

WAYS AND MEANS.
 Council went into Committee on Ways and Means, Ald. Van Dusen in the chair.

The report of the Finance Committee was considered.

On the first clause, Ald. Dickson moved, seconded by Ald. T. Holden, that $50 be paid to Dr. Pettie, provided he accept the same in full of his claim.

Ald. Ostrom opposed this, as the Solicitor had reported adversely on the doctor's claim.

Ald. T. Holden said he was opposed to paying anything unless in the public interest, but he was of opinion that there would be a dispute in the evidence, and that he was of fact, namely as to whether Dr. Pettie had been properly dismissed. Therefore he thought it best to settle the matter.

Ald. Dickson agreed with the previous speaker.

Ald. Jelliet was opposed to paying anything to Dr. Pettie. The Solicitor had given an opinion adverse to his claim, which opinion was founded on a full statement of facts. Dr. Pettie had been paid enough, and he (Ald. Jelliet) was prepared to stand by the Solicitor's decision.

Ald. T. Holden said that even if they succeeded, the cost would amount to more than $50.

Ald. Dickson, whilst assuming the opinion of the Solicitor to be correct, yet thought that it would not be inequitable to pay Dr. Pettie $50 for his loss of patients on account of the cholera, he to take $50 to contest a law suit and succeed.

Ald. Costello thought it best to settle such matters wherever possible.

Ald. Pettie held that if they were not liable, they should not pay anything to Dr. Pettie. The amendment was put and lost.

Ald. Dickson considered it twice as cheap to lay down a black sidewalk as to build a new board walk.

The report was finally, after some further discussion, referred to the Finance Committee, on motion of Ald. Ostrom.

The report of the Market Committee was next considered.

Ald. Farley, in reply to Ald. Holden, said the tender accepted for the new market was the lowest. There was a letter from another person who offered $22,400; it had signatures of a number of men, but it was not a tender at all. The letter referred to parties, but gave no specifics.

Ald. Holden said unless the advertisement required the signatures of a number of men, it ought to have been made.

Ald. Proctor stated that the parties named as referees in the letter referred to were not known to the Committee.

Ald. Van Dusen said the Mr. Clarke who had written the letter making the offer referred to was a perfectly respectable person.

Ald. Ostrom considered that inquiry should have been made. The City could not afford to lose $300.

The report was adopted.

The Printing Committee's report was taken up.

Ald. Jelliet said he was glad there was at last a report of the Printing Committee. It was a long and full report, and he had had much pleasure in moving that the accounts be paid, less any amount paid of them.

Ald. Ostrom said the work had been ordered in the most careless manner. No bargain had been made, and work had been ordered contrary to the rules of the Council, who could order payment if they chose in defiance of their rules. The Printing Committee had done their duty.

Ald. Dickson said the printing was a serious expense. When they ordered an advertisement in this paper as they chose to select, the other papers copied it. He thought they should have been paid only for the copy they ordered. The expense was a very serious one, and out of proportion to what he considered it ought to be as to pay only for what they ordered.

Ald. Jelliet said the printer was making a systematic matter, and he wished that the Committee should put in possession of the printer the full details of the work necessary information, so as not to be compelled to pass upon naked accounts.

Ald. T. Holden said the accounts were in fact, and he considered they ought to be paid, less amount paid.

Ald. Ostrom stated that the Printing Committee had wished the accounts sent to the Solicitor to determine their liability, and had recommended, but their recommendation had been ignored.

Ald. Pettie, whilst assenting to Ald. Ostrom's view, thought that the accounts should be paid, and a new commencement made.

Ald. Robertson said it was absurd that the Chairman of the Printing Committee should have to go to the office of the Chairman of the Printing Committee, to his house, if not to his room, and then to different printing offices to quote rates. He would do it, and would get what printing was required for his department as cheaply as possible, and if his view would prevail, he would do it.

The time was extended for half an hour.

The motion was adopted.

The report of the By-law Committee was taken up.

Ald. Jelliet stated, in reply to Ald. Brennan, that Monahan & Maxon's account had not been reported on, because the details had not been furnished.

On motion of Ald. Robertson, the Street Surveyor was directed to ascertain the cost of cedar blocks for paving purposes, and report to the Council.

On motion of Ald. Jelliet, the time for the return of the tax rolls was extended to August 1st, some of the rolls to be then permitted to be returned.

Ald. Robertson moved for the purchase of a strip of land on Alexander and Fort Streets to Charles Street, for $150, from Ald. A. L. Smith.

On objection taken by Ald. Brennan, the Mayor ruled that the land must be acquired by arbitration.

Committee rose and reported.

Ald. Ostrom moved to make a reduction of 25 cents in the accounts of T. S. Carman and the Toronto and Ontario Printing Company, and to strike out a portion of T. S. Carman's amount.

Ald. Jelliet thought that after the arrangement made, the Council had no power to reduce the account.

A show of hands being taken, the Mayor declared the amendment carried, upon which Ald. Ostrom asked for the yeas and nays. Several members said that the motion being carried, there was no occasion for the yeas and nays, but the vote was taken.

The Clerk proceeded to take the vote, when Ald. Ostrom withdrew his request. Ald. T. Holden objected to any member speaking who had not been called upon by the Mayor, and nays were then recorded, the amendment being lost, as follows:

CONSUMPTION.

Consumption is little understood by the people, and yet is the most common disease known to man. Because of this want of knowledge, and the fatal prevalence and fatality of this disease, it appeals more strongly

to the physician for help than any other in the long catalogue of human afflictions. The bills of mortality prove that in this climate fully one fourth of the entire population

dies of this disease. The question of prevention and treatment, therefore, is of the importance of life itself to one-fourth of the people generally. Unless they are saved through the adoption of some improved method of medication, their doom is sealed, and the only question is whether they will be called upon to render up their lives to the insatiable destroyer

this year, next, or in the following years.

MANHOOD:

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excess.

Price in a single envelope, only 6 cents, or two postal stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

Dr. Culverwell's Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

for splitting lumber to any thickness, the only machine of the kind in this part of the country. Along the coast and caravans capable of carrying 100,000 lbs. of lumber, the chief trade has been, and continues to be, in shingles. It is thought that recent effort will yet do much toward abating the ordinary price of shingles. The factory is something better. Many of the shingles are above the condition of saws. They have fixed habitation, though merely mud huts. In addition to an efficient staff of superior workmen, the factory is supplied with all the latest and most improved machinery, and a certain kind of intelligence seems to be very slowly spreading. What Africa has lost in the free commerce, she has gained in the world, and that must arrive. for splitting lumber to any thickness, the only machine of the kind in this part of the country. Along the coast and caravans capable of carrying 100,000 lbs. of lumber, the chief trade has been, and continues to be, in shingles. It is thought that recent effort will yet do much toward abating the ordinary price of shingles. The factory is something better. Many of the shingles are above the condition of saws. They have fixed habitation, though merely mud huts

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 2.

City and Vicinity.

THE CELLS.—The record of the police station presented but one name this morning, viz. that of a prisoner.

FOR THE RAIL.—H. Corby, Jr. shipped to St. John, N. B. and Halifax N. S. yesterday five car loads of liquor. This firm is now doing an extensive business in the maritime provinces.

COUNTY COURT.—The next sitting of the County Court and General Sessions of the Peace for the County of Hastings will commence on Tuesday next, the 8th inst.

MEETING.—The Stationing Committee of the Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church of Canada will meet to-morrow for the purpose of making the necessary preliminary for the holding of the annual Conference, which commences its session here on Wednesday next. The Committee will continue in session for some days.

SERENADING.—The 15th battalion band serenaded several of the officers of the regiment last night, playing a number of selections in their usual fine style. Their object is to secure assistance towards paying for new uniforms of handsome design, which were ordered some time ago, and will arrive within a few days.

THE GAOL.—In the County Gaol there are eight persons now confined therein. This number is the smallest that the record has shown for a long period and comprises five males and three females, one of the latter of whom is a lunatic from Trenton, who has been in confinement for four weeks.

ON THE WAR-PATH.—A young man, a butcher, getting on the war-path last night and visiting a house of ill fame, made matters so lively for the inmates that all deserted the premises. The police of the police were called into requisition and the "would be Sarsen" was captured and lodged in the cells with his weapon of combat—a revolver.

THE GRAND JUNCTION.—The Peterborough Review says: "A gentleman from Belleville acting for the Grand Junction Railway Company was in town on Monday, engaging horses and carriages for that road. We understand he engaged quite a number, some of which went down this morning. The Company are rapidly pushing their operations in Township of Otonabee near Mr. Hayes' premises. We are informed that two hundred men are now engaged, working both ways toward Peterborough and Hastings."

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Daniel Wood, an old resident of the township of Ameliasburg, on Monday last proceeded to the loft in his barn for the purpose of feeding his cattle. While throwing down the fodder he fell and sustained a fracture of the neck, which resulted in his death in the evening. Deceased leaves a family of eight children—four sons and four daughters; he was highly respected and his demise is deeply regretted by a circle of friends and acquaintances.

CATTLE ON THE RAMPAGE.—On Monday afternoon a valuable cow, which had been purchased at Big Island by one of our city butchers, jumped off the steamer, Vermion when about half a mile from the wharves, and was only rescued with great difficulty. Yesterday one of the large steers at Corby's distillery recently purchased by Lingham & Son, freed himself from the fastenings in the shed and ran into the river. He was rescued but, in such a state that it was found necessary to kill him.

PERSONAL.—The Hamilton Spectator of Tuesday says:—"The Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Minister of Customs, was in the city on Monday. He visited the Custom House in the forenoon, after which he was entertained at lunch at the Hamilton Club by a number of prominent citizens. He left for Toronto by the 5 p. m. train in the evening. In the afternoon the hon. gentleman was driven round the city for an hour or two, being accompanied by Mr. F. E. Kilvert, M. P., Mayor O'Reilly, Messrs. James Turner, D. McInnes, R. M. Wanger, George Tuckett and John Barry. Several factories were visited, but as Mr. Bowell's time was limited he had not an opportunity of seeing much of the city."

A QUEER THING IN BUSINESS.—The following, copied from the Cincinnati Gazette, will bear frequent perusal by all business men:—"One of the queer things in business is the propensity of the people to seek irregular mediums of advertising. It is unaccountable the prices some men pay for sticking their advertisements in irregular places. Especially is this so when compared with their unwillingness to pay anything for advertising in the regular channels. Advertisements thrust into irregular and unbusinesslike places, impress the general mind that the concern is of a similar character. But an advertisement in a general newspaper of first class standing, carries the impression that the advertiser has a standing in his own community, and that he does not shrink from competition with the best of them. If any one is going to a place to buy, whether he be a trader or buying for his own use, and he has to seek dealers through advertisements, where will he look for them? To registers, almanacs, theatre bill frames, in railway stations, country stores, or on the most reputable newspaper of the place and he thinks that advertising in these given places is a general rule. The advertiser and the business enterprise and the sufficiency of his stock."

ARRIVED.—A number of new cars destined for use on the Grand Junction Railway arrived this morning at the Grand Trunk Railway depot.

SALE.—We understand that the residence of the late E. W. Holton, Esq., has been sold to Mr. John Lingham, the price paid being $12,000. The transaction was not concluded until last night.

ACCIDENT.—Last evening, as Mr. Joseph Caldwell was attempting to mount his horse in front of his residence, the animal for some cause moved off, throwing Mr. Caldwell violently to the ground, and dislocating and fracturing his left shoulder. He is under surgical attention, and is improving as well as circumstances will permit.

MILITARY NOTE.—On the 25th the 49th Battalion and probably three others will go into camp at Gilbert's farm, about six miles distant from the city on the front of Sidney. The necessary arrangements are now being made for camping etc., and it is expected Lieut. Col. Stanfield will be in command. Col. Powell, Adjutant General, has been invited to be present and it is presumed will accept the invitation.

CUSTOMS RETURNS.—The following figures represent the amount of duties collected at the port of Belleville for the month of May, 1880, as compared with the corresponding month in 1879:

	Value.	Duty.
1879	$15,631	$3,203.19
1880	12,459	2,659
Decrease	$2,692	$544.19
EXPORTS
1879	$35,643
1880	72,421
Increase	$36,778

PERSONAL.—The many friends in this city of Mr. V. G. Selden will regret to learn of his death at Nanapan yesterday. Mr. Selden was a long a resident of Belleville, and was prominent in the Fire Brigade. He was a member for many years of No. 1, and was captain of the Company when it was an Engine Company and Foreman and President of the same. He became a Excellent Party, and his funeral, which is to take place to-morrow, will be attended by a number of friends from Belleville.

EXPRESS FROM THE DEPORT.—The evening express from the east last night was taken from here by two engines. It was thirty minutes late on arrival. The first Grand Junction Railway engine, the D. G. Scott, was brought down from the west yesterday afternoon. Given cars of cheese, containing 2,100 boxes of cheese manufactured in this country, were shipped from this station yesterday. About ten cars loaded with cattle pass this station every day for the east. Two cars of oxen for Montreal, ten for Boston and ten cars of hogs for Montreal, went east yesterday afternoon. The reading room has had several additional publications added to its list and the lawn in front has been supplied with a neat and attractive flower bed, which greatly adds to the appearance of the premises generally. Three six wheeled locomotives went west yesterday afternoon with trains averaging 25 cars each.

Police Court.
(Before A. Diamond, P. M.)

WEDNESDAY, June 2nd.
LOITERING.
Henry James Boyle, T. Whalen, and Joseph Ferdinand, charged with loitering on the streets and using abusive language towards passengers and obstructing the cars on the streets, were each fined $5 and costs.

ILLEGAL LIQUOR SELLING.
Duncan C. Ross, for an infraction of the law by selling liquor at the Agricultural Grounds on the 24th of May, was fined $20 and costs or fifteen days in gaol.

The St. John Horror.

St. John, N. B., May 31.—Mr. Ward Chipman was a comfortable night, and the wound was healing rapidly. The bodies of the murdered and his brother remained in the upper room of the police office during last night, and a post mortem will be made during to-day. Coroner Earle examined the bodies this morning, while the jury were viewing them, and it was discovered that John had fired four shots at least at his brother, instead of one, as it was previously supposed. When Edward's body was stripped, it was found that in addition to the bullet hole above the left ear there were two similar wounds in the small of his back, while a spent bullet had struck his left shoulder. The determination of the man to kill his brother is thus clearly shown. He must then have fired six shots in all, the one in his own head, one fired at Mr. Chipman Drury, and the four in Edward's body. It is reported that the pistol was found by the coroner but has no knowledge of such a discovery.

Marine Notes.

The steam barge Saxon arrived from Montreal this morning and is loading wheat at Campbell's elevator for the same port.

The schooner Belle of Port Dover is taking on a cargo of lumber at Flint & Holton's. The Blanche, laden with sawwood bolts, left here last evening for Charlotte, N. Y. The Florence will partially load with bolts here, and will finish at Mill Point. The rate on lumber from this port is 57 1/2 c per M; 60 c was refused yesterday.

It is said that the schooner D. Freeman will be taken to Kingston to be rebuilt. She recently had to undergo caulking at Oswego.

A few nights since some miscreants entered the interior of the late D. Bower and after destroying several lamps burned the engineer's certificate. A watch is now kept on the tug to prevent further depredations.

THE ROYAL PARTY.—Prince Leopold and Princess Louise left Toronto by special train at 11 a. m. on Tuesday for the Falls. A small crowd cheered them as they passed. They will remain two days at Clifton, and then start for Milwaukee and Chicago.

THE FIRST BLAZE.—A letter from Albany, N. Y., says that the first blaze on the Grand Central Railway was fired on the 18th of May, by Mr. Onderdonk.

A $48,000 CLAIM.

MR. THOMAS F. MILLER ABANDONED—CHARGED WITH CONCEALING HIS GOODS WITH INTENT TO DECEIT.

A writ of capias for $48,712 was yesterday afternoon issued against Mr. Thomas F. Miller, a wealthy resident of this city, by Messrs. Jacobs, Globensky and Beall, on behalf of the estate of the late John Miller, who died on October last. Dame Coleman, the wife of Mr. Edmund Globensky, used and obtained judgment against the estate of the late John Miller, being the balance due to her from the administration of her estate by Miller, who had subsequently the plaintiff received information which led her to believe that Miller was concealing or making away with his property with intent to evade the judgment, it being also ascertained that he was about to leave the city. Jacobs & Co. consequently took out the capias, and Miller was yesterday evening arrested and lodged in jail.—Montreal Star.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

BELLEVEILLE, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, JUNE 3, 1880.

NO. 28.

VOL. 14.

MANHOOD: HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the medical and personal state (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excess.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Coinciding with the announcement of Mr. Sandford Fleming's retirement from the engineer-in-chief of the Pacific Railway report of exploratory and other operations in connection with the railway during 1879 is issued. It would be high praise for any document of this character to say that it was worthy of a place by the side of the preceding volumes. Mr. Fleming's reports. There is no doubt, however, that all who are able properly to appreciate the immense amount of labor expended in getting up and arranging the material in the present volume will say that it fairly eclipses all its predecessors in interest and practical value. As the chief interest centres in the reports upon the extent and fertility of the soil, we will endeavor to give an outline of the reports on that subject before dealing with matters of another nature.

Professor Macoun, from whom no man is better entitled to speak with authority, estimates that there are beyond Manitoba, east of the Rocky Mountains and north of the 49th (the American) boundary, more than 150,000,000 acres of land well suited for agriculture and stock raising. ## Water runs off the clay into the rivers.

In the second Prairie Steppes settlers have everywhere found water at 14 feet deep. When Professor Macoun crossed here in 1873 his party travelled 100 miles at a time without finding a running stream, and often ten miles without seeing a drop of water.

When the prairie is either broken or in long grass the rainfall is ample. But let the sward be taken off by fire, and the water runs into the hollows. Salt lakes, ponds, and marshes abound in all the interior of Canada.

Professor Macoun accuses the great cretaceous clays of being the origin of the badness of the water. These clays contain many crystals of selenite, pyrites, and other sulphurous minerals, and it is to these deleterious ingredients that the water owes its taste. The salt ponds are readily distinguished from fresh water ponds, by the latter having a margin of rich black soil, and being more or less overgrown by sedges. Wells sunk anywhere in the upper drift give good water. If the wells are sunk through the drift into the cretaceous clay, bad water is the result.

All the part explored, except the southern portion, either has plenty of wood or can be readily supplied. In the southern portion there are vast deposits of lignite and coal known to exist, and wherever this was seen, brown or gray iron ore was found with it. The Platte, Kansas and Touchwood Hills will supply the country for many miles around with wood. The northern part of the Great Plain west of the Saskatchewan boundary, more than 150,000,000 acres of land well suited for agriculture and stock raising. These lands are situated as follows:—

cheaper grades—now pays duty according to its value, instead of, as under the Macdonald tariff, paying the same amount of duty per pound, as did the "rich man's tea." Under these circumstances, the N. P. is hardly blame-worthy as above asserted, and the writer in question would gain more credit if he pay some slight regard if not to truth at least to probability, or he again ventures on the discussion of a subject regarding which misrepresentation to gross as that of which he has shown himself to be guilty, is no easily exposed.

A Tour of Inspection.

Hon. Sir Charles Tupper, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Hon. M. B. Wells, Minister of Customs, are now making their promised inspection of the route for the proposed Trent Valley and Murray Canal. This visit would have been made a week earlier but for the fact that Sir Charles was attacked by rheumatism, from which, however, he has now happily recovered. From the Colborne Express we learn that the Ministers named, also H. F. Parley, Esq., Civil Engineer of Public Works, arrived at Colborne on Tuesday evening, 1st inst., and in company with Mr. J. Keeler, M. P., proceeded on Wednesday on a visit of inspection of Presque Isle harbor and the proposed route of the Murray Canal.

On Wednesday they went to Trenton, and after inspecting the old canal works there, started down the river. The third inspection of the Trent Valley Canal route, their first objective point being Chisholm's rapids, where a rock cutting which was made a number of years ago is still in existence. Continuing their course up the river, they arrived at Campbellford in the evening. Mr. Keeler, M. P., and several prominent residents of Trenton were present.

Sir Charles stated when in Trenton that he expected to be able before the season closed to make a thorough examination of the proposed route for the Murray Canal.

Our regular correspondent writes from Campbellford on the 2nd.—The Hon. Sir Charles Tupper, Minister of Railways and Canals, the Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Minister of Customs, and Mr. J. Keeler, M. P., for East Northumberland, arrived here at 6 o'clock p. m. at the Windsor Hotel, accompanied by Thos. D. Belcher, Esq., Engineer of the Board of Works of Trent River. The object of their visit was to see the line of the proposed Trent Valley Canal, which they today inspected from Trenton to Campbellford.

Sir Charles expressed himself delighted with the immense water facilities which Campbellford possesses, as well as with the surrounding scenery.

The Ministers took tea at 7 o'clock at the Windsor Hotel, after which they were called upon by many prominent men of the place, the Hon. Jas. Cockburn being present. The Campbellford brass band also turned out and serenaded the distinguished visitors, with which courtesy, Sir Charles expressed himself much pleased, and returned thanks.

The further movements of the Ministers will be as follows, according to the programme laid out for them: From Campbellford, where they passed last night, they were to proceed to Hastings, and examine the Government works there; thence by steamer to Peterborough, where they will be entertained at luncheon. To-morrow they will continue their journey, proceeding by carriage to Chalmers Lake, thence by steamer to Balsam Lake, at their stopping place on which they will take tea to Orlin, then to Midland City and Collingwood. The trip will occupy from three to four days.

The Hastings Star of the 2nd inst., says of the party, which will consist of the Minister of Railways and Canals, the Minister of Customs, and a number of M. P.'s, will arrive here about noon to-morrow, and after partaking of a lunch, provided by the Village Council, will proceed by steamer Golden-Eye to Peterborough. The following gentlemen, from the adjoining municipalities have been invited by our Council to be present, viz.:—Messrs. J. B. Pearson, P. M. Grover, Roxburgh and Burke, of Newwood; Rorke and Powell, of Ashfield; C. A. Mallory, G. Boyce and Harbut, of Percy; J. M. Ferris, M. P. P., J. W. Dinwoodie, and R. Cockburn, of Campbellville; Wm. Brisbane, of Seymour, and a number of our village notables.

(By Telegraph.)
HASTINGS, June 3.—Sir C. Tupper and Hon. M. B. Wells arrived here by the steamer King Fisher this morning, and leave at 1 p. m. by the steamer Golden-Eye for Peterborough.

Toronto Methodist Conference.
Our city readers will be privileged to see a goodly number of clergymen in our streets during the next week or ten days. The forms of John Wesley's "helpers" cannot be strange to many in this locality, as they are in this famous Bay of Quinte country that Methodist took its rise in Canada, and has grown to be one of the most vigorous Church organizations in the land.

The Conference holds its sessions in various cities and towns, and according to previous invitation, Belleville is to be the place where this assembly of divines will hold its annual gathering this year. The Conference proper will commence on Wednesday next, on which day we shall commence our reports of the proceedings, which will be continued throughout the sessions.

the former of course always being such as demands the special consideration of the Committee and the latter, no doubt, is of placed which should not as requires to be placed where it will no longer be forced to hide his light under a bushel.

From whatever standpoint the matter may be viewed, the thirty men—more or less, who compose the stationing committee of the Toronto Conference, this year, have an important task assigned them, and we trust that they will have wisdom for the right discharge of their onerous duties. The Committee will probably complete the first draft of the stations by the time that the conference opens, and will hold future sessions for adjustment, and then, on the last day, the list will be read in open conference, and the fields of labor assigned to some hundreds of men, some of whom will no doubt be disappointed, and it is equally true that some circuits will hardly think that the Committee have taken the peculiarities of their very peculiar place into due consideration.

CAST ON THE WORLD:

The Border Marriage.
A STORY OF THE GREAT GLASGOW BANK ROBBERY.

"So did, no I do," returned Charles, warmly. "Dora, I have been an excellent and amiable girl, worthy the love and admiration of any man. I only liked her. I did not love her with that love which the sacred ties of marriage demand."

"Ah," said Ravensworth, drawing a long breath, "and so you are glad at receiving his lordship's insult and reproach?"

"There was a coldness and hardness in the tone which Ravensworth had never used to Charles before."

"Glad only because of the release it brings me. Weeks ago, when first the discovery was made, I should have been a laughing-stock to my friends."

"I have learned to know that I am not responsible for, and cannot be personally affected by, my parents' faults."

"I am glad to hear of a better stock, but since fate has decreed otherwise I have made up my mind by my conduct to make myself worthy of his lordship's dignity and position."

"Ah my noble, high-souled girl," cried Lydia. "That is the true spirit to cherish. Those who boast of ancestry, and make personal character nothing, have a poor as well as a false view of human dignity."

"Then so am not I," said Charles. "I am not a noble, high-souled girl. I am a poor, low-down, vulgar creature."

"Then so am not I," said Charles. "I am not a noble, high-souled girl. I am a poor, low-down, vulgar creature."

CONSUMPTION.

Consumption is a little understood by the people, and yet is the most common disease known to man. Because of this want of knowledge, and the fearful prevalence and fatality of this disease, it appeals more strongly to the physician for help than any other in the long catalogue of bodily afflictions.

MANHOOD.

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Cullen's celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excess.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Address

A Vienna Sensation.

The Curious Contest Over an Eccentric Miner's Will.

A correspondent writing from Vienna says: "We know that millionaires are continually being reminded that there is no chance of their millions following them beyond the grave, but I had never before heard of an instance in which his millions should not be a poor man's business of justly earned repose in the tomb. And yet this is the case with Martin Ott, a millionaire, who a year ago, and who is to be exhumed in the course of this week. Martin Ott arrived in Vienna some thirty years ago, without so much capital as to begin a business of his own. One of the partners in a great firm here, Mr. Stry, took pity upon him and helped him in more than one instance. After some time Stry's business did not prosper, and his firm was crowded with success. But he was so eccentric a man that he possessed millions before people credited him with the least of fortune, and his property was lived like the miser of romance, and scarcely any one here knew him to be a rich man. Among the few who were in his confidence was old Stry, his benefactor and friend, to whom Ott had confided the secret of his will, by which he made him his sole heir, thus proving that next to avarice gratitude was his chief characteristic. Stry's business did not prosper, and his firm was crowded with success. CONSUMPTION.
Consumption is little understood by the people, and yet is the most common disease known to man. Because of this want of knowledge, and the prevalence and fatality of this disease, it appeals more strongly to the physician for help than any other in the long catalogue of bodily afflictions. The bills of mortality prove that in this climate fully one fourth of the entire population above the age of fifteen falls a sacrifice to this form of disease. The question of prevention and treatment, therefore, is of the importance of life itself. So long as the disease is prevalent, unless they are saved through the adoption of some improved method of medication, their doom is sealed, and the only question is whether they will be called upon to render up their lives to the insatiable destroyer year after year, or in the following years.
The latest and best method of treatment employed through the stomach is sufficient to demonstrate that the disease can be cured. So long as the disease is prevalent, and the same course of treatment is followed which has resulted in disastrous failure in the past, no benefit will follow the "miraculous" claims of the physician. The disease will continue, as it has been equivalent to the hand of death, and physicians will go on prescribing without knowledge and without hope.
Except in a very limited number of cases, the disease is not detected until it is firmly established, and consequently no effort is made to prevent its development at a time when the best results might be expected to follow. The physician who is called upon to treat a case of this kind, and who is unable to do so, will find that the patient has become soiled by tubercles, the merest tinge in the profession knows that the patient is far advanced in the disease, and yet such is the condition of most cases before any treatment is employed.
These are the early symptoms of consumption. They are, in fact, symptoms of the confirmed disease. Now, what is to be done? Are we, after listening and perceiving, perceiving and listening, to shake our heads and say: "My good sir, you are in consumption, and nothing can be done to save you?" God forbid! The physician who is called upon to treat a case of this kind, and who is unable to do so, will find that the patient has become soiled by tubercles, the merest tinge in the profession knows that the patient is far advanced in the disease, and yet such is the condition of most cases before any treatment is employed.

The Border Marriage.
A STORY OF THE GREAT GLASGOW BANK ROBBERY.
"Your hearting to another" repeated Philip, uttering the words very slowly in his amazement.
"Yes, sir, I am now free to confess it, and this is why the course my lordship has taken has given me such joy. Mary may now be mine!"
"What Mary?"
"Mary Woodford!"
"Good heaven, Charles! Do you mean to say that—that?"
"That I love Mary Woodford! Yes, sir, I love her dearly—passionately with the whole strength of my heart!"
"Impossible!" ejaculated Ravensworth, in the excess of his astonishment.
Nay, sir, reflect on the circumstances, and this is why the course my lordship has taken has given me such joy. Mary may now be mine!"

Sunday Reading

A Singing Christian. DEAR EDITOR, I want to pray-meeting the other night. I have enjoyed it all most heartily—the prayers and the confessions, but especially the sweet singing—had it not been for one thing. Daily Intelligencer

ENTERING IN. BY JULIA C. ROSE. The church was dim and silent. With the hush before the prayer, the solemn trembling of the organ stirred the air.

Did Not Think

Well, why did you not think? You have no right to act, when your action will affect the welfare and happiness of others, without thinking.

Unloving Couples—How can They Expect to be Happy?

It was an extreme case in which a young bride recently obtained a divorce in the Supreme Court on the ground that she never wished to marry her husband; that she was frightened into going through the ceremony by a drawn pistol in his hand and his threat to shoot her if she refused. As soon as the clergyman had concluded, she fled from the young man's presence and had never seen him since.

A Day with Nature

"Where musing solitude might lead to life. Her soul was the sphere of earthliness." Oh, great old Nature! thy worshiper pays thee her humble tribute. How eloquent thy voice, whether in the roar of the foaming waves, as they dash upon the rocks, or the gentle silvery leaf-sounds of the forest? How persuasive thy teachings! how inexhaustive the lessons they convey!

A Singing Christian. DEAR EDITOR, I want to pray-meeting the other night. I have enjoyed it all most heartily—the prayers and the confessions, but especially the sweet singing—had it not been for one thing. Behind me sat a man with a deep bass voice and he rolled out a note in a way to reach one's soul.

THE CROPS.—The crops throughout this district are looking first class and give promise of an excellent harvest.

LUMBERING.—The first instalment of this season's cut of sawlogs arrived this afternoon, as a representation of the cut they are a good sample, and are excellent exhibits of the production of our forests.

BURGLARY.—The residence of Mr. D. C. Ferguson was entered last night by burglars, who, as a reward for their efforts, received one dollar and a half. Two other places were visited, but the calls were unfruitful of results.

THE DRIVE.—The sawlog drive in the Moira and its tributaries, amounting in all to about 200,000 pieces, have all passed into Stoo Lake. Reports from the villages through which they have passed are to the effect that the river drivers this year have created little or no disturbance, which is much to their credit.

ECHOES FROM THE DEPT.—A large number of empty cattle and live stock cars are on the move westward. Eleven cars, laden with emigrants, passed through yesterday morning. Local passenger traffic is dull, but the ordinary travel trade is good. Nine cars of men passed westward last evening, engaged to work on the Canada Pacific.

TREATY VALLEY CANAL.—The Peterborough Review of the 4th inst. says: At six o'clock this morning a special train placed at their disposal by Mr. Cox, conveyed the Ministers and those accompanying them to Lakeside. Here they took the Cruiser for a short trip up the river and lakes. They will drive across to Chemung Lake and then by means of the various steamers will traverse the chain of lakes as far as Cobocook. Thence a special train on the Nipissing road will convey them through to Millard. To-morrow will be in Mr. Dalton McCarthy, M. P., will be in attendance with the steamer to enable them to examine the harbor, &amp;c., proceeding thence to Collingwood, where they will take the Northern for Toronto.

A STRANGE CASE.—The following particulars as to the case of Master Edith Bartman, son of Mr. Wm. Bartman, clerk, will be of some interest. The boy stepped on a nail, which penetrated his foot, on the 19th of April. Lockjaw set in on April 21st, from which time Dr. Wilson attended him, and under his treatment the patient was kept asleep 20 hours out of 24. When the effect of the medicine was spent, which lasted from two to three hours, the spasms would recur and form a curve of about six inches in the back, which forced him to rest on his head and heels. On May 10th the Dr. performed an operation with needles from the head all along the spine, which relieved him of the intense pain, and the jaws, which were entirely set, began to relax, and from that time the spasms were not so severe, and grew less up to the 4th of June, when the Dr. said he would recover.

LINDSAY DISTRICT.—At the meeting of the Lindsay District of the Methodist Church of Canada, the subjoined complimentary resolution was unanimously adopted concerning Dr. Jeffers, chairman of the district, who will soon be leaving the district for some other part of the Province. Moved by the Rev. W. Leach and seconded by the Rev. L. Gold and supported by Dr. Norris, Messrs. E. Walden, J. Walden, G. Bick, Rev. Mr. Greener and other ministers, "That according to the law of the church our highly esteemed chairman, Rev. Dr. Jeffers, will at the end of this conference year be removed from his present station and will likely leave this district; therefore, we the ministers and lay delegates of this meeting desire to express to him our sincere regret that our pleasant and agreeable relations will soon be severed, to present him our cordial thanks for the very able and satisfactory manner in which he has discharged the duties of his office during the three years of his incumbency, to place upon record the very high respect we entertain towards him for his exemplary character as a Christian gentleman, for his genial and obliging manner with his brethren and for his very eloquent and instructive addresses from the pulpit and platform, and to assure him that his amiable wife and family they will be accompanied with our most earnest wishes and prayers for their future well-being and happiness." Although the program of the Stationing Committee are understood to be private, it is stated that one of their first acts was to appoint Mr. Jeffers to the pastorate of the Bridge Street Church in this city. The Rev. N. R. Widdows, who is present at this position, was appointed Pastor of the Brampton Church and made Chairman of the Stationing Committee.

THE GREATEST BLESSING.—A simple, pure, harmless remedy, that cures every time, and prevents disease by keeping the blood pure, stomach regular, kidneys and liver active, is the greatest blessing ever conferred upon man. Hop Bitters is that remedy, and its proprietors are being blessed by thousands who have been saved and cured by it. Will you try it? See another column.

SEASONABLE TOPICS.—Soda water and ginger ale are popular beverages.

A correspondent writes: "How long have we lived?" We presume the same as short boys.

The short-crop style of hair cutting makes the average youth look as if his ears were cut long.

These cold waves are supposed to be little ones clipped off from those in the vicinity of the iceberg.

They buried him, day after day at night and without any pomp or pageant, as they shovelled him in, they said, "All right, he was only a sewing machine agent."

Pushing the lawn mower and dragging the rake now occupies the mornings and evenings of our best citizens. It is a poor substitute for snowshovelling as far as exercise goes.

When a man comes limping into his place of business late in the morning, and presents the general appearance of having had his spinal column shattered by a railway accident, his friends need not be alarmed; he has been working in the garden.

The sidewalks on portions of Front and Bridge Streets are certainly among the worst in the country, and others in town are not a whit better.

The work of pruning the shade trees goes bravely on.

There is one redeeming feature about this country and that is that the Government are never obliged to advertise for men to fill public offices.

How dear to my heart is the school I attended And how I remember, so distant and dim, That red-headed boy and the pin that I bent, And carefully placed on the breast under him! And how I remember the master's hand, When Bill gave a yell and sprang up with the pin.

So high his bullet head burst the plaster on the wall, Above the scholars all set up a cheer, That active boy that high-leaping Billy! That loud-voiced boy that sat on a pin!

THE SIMPLE TRUTH.—The sun comes up and the sun goes down, And day and night are the same as of old, The year goes round and the year goes brown, And what is it all when all is done? Grains of sand or shavings and, Gilding into and out of the hand?

The fisher drops his net in the stream, And a hundred fishes are the same as one, And the maiden dreams her love's-lit dream, And what is it all when all is done? The net of the fisher the burden breaks, And the dreaming dreamer always wakes!

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Arrived, the Harold, from Copenhagen.

LARNACA, June 5.—The cattle plague has reappeared. 2,000 animals, out of a total of 200,000 on the island, have died.

BERLIN, June 5.—The Russian army has been ordered to wear mourning for 6 months, as a mark of respect for the memory of the late Emperor.

BREMEN, June 5.—It is feared that the differences between the National and Provincial Governments relative to the Presidential election may lead to an outbreak.

CHICAGO, June 11th.—The delegates are rapidly assembling, the galleries are filling rapidly despite the heavy showers and sultry atmosphere, only partly relieved by occasional thundering applause given to notable delegates as they entered. Garfield was especially received with much enthusiasm.

The convention was called to order at 11.4 a.m.; there was an immense audience; prayer by Rev. Geo. P. Baxter, of Washington. Mr. Conkling authorized a denial of reports in circulation that he has a letter from Grant asking him to consult with Logan, and if they deem it proper, to withdraw his name as a candidate for nomination.

The convention voted to accept the majority report upon Kansas admitting the ten delegates to seats, but allowing the state but six votes. The call of States was demanded on this question and resulted in the acceptance of the majority report in favor of 476 against 1845.

The contested question in West Virginia was taken up. It is probable the Convention may tonight, but the probability is that it will not reach a final adjournment before Monday.

PARIS, June 5.—Olivier, Faive, and Lepelletier, writers on the extreme radical paper, telegraphed from Lyons, where they are staying in connection with Blanche's election, the challenge of the staff of the Gacete for a duel. They will return on the 9th inst.

WEATHER REPORTS.

TORONTO, June 5.—Probabilities for the next twenty-four hours: For the lower lakes, easterly followed by high southerly and southerly winds, cloudy, warmer weather with rain.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Indications: lower lakes, stationary or higher temperature, cloudy, numerous rains.

Timely Caution.

Genuine Hop Bitters are put up in square, paneled, amber-colored bottles, with white label on one side printed in black letters, and with light blue label on the other side yellow paper with red letters; reverse stamp over the label. This is the only form in which genuine Hop Bitters can be put up, and the sole right to make, sell and use them is granted to the Hop Bitters Mfg. Co. of Rochester, N. Y., and Toronto, Ont., by patents, and by whatever means, and by any one else, claiming to be like it or pretending to contain hop, who by whatever means, and by any one else, are bogus and unfit for use, and only put up to sell and cheat the people on the credit and popularity of Hop Bitters.

Hanlan v. Trickett.

Arrangements Completed and Articles Signed.

(By Cable to the Globe.)

LONDON, June 4.

The Hanlan-Trickett articles were duly signed to-day. The race takes place on the Fifteenth of November on the Thames, from Putney to Mortlake, for two hundred pounds a side, the championship of the world, and the Sportsman trophy. Col. Shaw has posted fifty pounds on behalf of Hanlan. Everything has been amicably arranged to the satisfaction of all parties. Great interest is felt in the match.

One Way to Economize.

Many a poor man, if required to account for the manner in which he has expended his income, would find bills of his family physician for "medical services" among the leading items. In seven cases out of ten, acute diseases are the result of some chronic disease. Thus, fevers invariably result from diseased conditions of the blood and liver, and a timely use of alterative, or blood-purifying, and cathartic remedies would have averted the prostrating illness, that often leaves the system permanently injured. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pills are the best alterative and cathartic medicines yet compounded. Full directions are given for administering them, together with an accurate description of the symptoms demanding their use. They will not cure all human ills (as some medicines are advertised to do), but they will cure the diseases for which they are compounded and recommended.

"TEABERRY," the newest wonder for whitening the teeth, delightfully refreshing to the mouth. To try it is to become a friend to the person, irresistible, popular. Dentist of the day.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 14.

MANHOOD.

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. C. W. Drayton's celebrated Essay on the restoration of the system of nerves (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excessive sexual indulgence.

Price, in a small envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming constitutional weakness may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine, or the application of the knife, pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should go in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

The "dark horse" has won in the Chicago Convention, James A. Garfield, of Ohio, having received the nomination of the Republican National Convention for the Presidency of the United States. The brief particulars received by telegraph this afternoon will be found in another column.

Cultivation of Tobacco.

By the Act of last session, 43 Vic., cap. 19, persons who cultivate tobacco for sale are required to take out a license. Any person growing tobacco on his own lands or property, and manufacturing the same solely for the use of himself and such members of his family as are resident with him, is not required to take out a license, provided that the quantity so grown and manufactured each year does not exceed thirty pounds for each adult male member of the family resident on the farm. Every application for a license to cultivate tobacco must be accompanied by a statement of the maximum number of plants which the applicant proposes to cultivate during the year. No fee is chargeable on these licenses, but an accurate record of them is to be kept for the information of the Department, and for the future surveillance of the cultivator's operations. The person in whose favor a cultivator's license is granted undertakes to make true returns of the quantity of tobacco cultivated, and the name and residence of the person or persons to whom sold, or how it is otherwise disposed of. When the tobacco is grown and removed into the possession of a licensed tobacco manufacturer, a discrimination is made in favor of the home product. The license fee payable for manufacturing tobacco exclusively from local grown in Canada is fifty dollars, whereas the license to manufacture tobacco from foreign leaf is seventy-five dollars. The duties payable on manufactured tobacco made from Canada leaf are fourteen cents per pound; cigars thirty cents per pound; whereas the same product of foreign leaf is twenty and forty cents per pound respectively.

The duty on common Canada twist, otherwise called "tabac blanc en torquette," being the unpressed leaf rolled and twisted, is four cents per pound.

SUPREME COURT.—The sessions of the Supreme Court, both on the 10th and 21st inst., will be for the purpose of delivering judgments. Among the cases standing for judgment are the Selkirk and North Ontario election cases.

THE CHICAGO CONVENTION.—Somewhere about thirty ballots were taken in the Chicago Convention yesterday, but no choice was made. Grant gained three or four votes and Blaine fell off a little, but the result was substantially as the close as it was at the commencement.

THE AFGHAN FRONTIER.—In answer to a question in the House of Commons Lord Hartington stated that in settling the Afghan frontier the Government will not be influenced by the provisions of the Treaty of Gandamak. He favors the establishment of a separate Government for Candahar, under British protection, but without a British garrison.

BANK OF MONTREAL.—The annual meeting of the shareholders of this institution was held in Montreal on the 7th inst. The President intimated his belief notwithstanding the fact that many conjectures in the past at similar meetings had failed to be realized, that the business depression was now past, and spoke in terms of praise of the recent Banking Act. Mr. Smithers stated that the earnings of the Bank had been 144 per cent. of the capital. This was exclusive of the amount written off for losses. Seven hundred thousand dollars odd losses had been made in Canada, and but one quarter of that amount were lost in the year for which they had been written off, while hardly a dollar of that amount was lost in the United States. He believed that notwithstanding the enormous decline in the discounts they would have to go still lower. No change was made in the Board of Directors.

METHODIST CHURCH.

TORONTO CONFERENCE.

Belleville is the place selected for the assembly to hold its sessions for the present year. The citizens of this city are no strangers to Methodist Conferences, inasmuch as on several former occasions it has entertained those "helpers of John Wesley." Not far from here Methodist took its rise; on the south shore of Hay Bay in Adolphustown the remains of the first church built in Upper Canada may still be seen.

The first Conference was held in Belleville in 1830, but for some unexplained cause, the business was in part transacted at Kingston and then finished at Belleville. The venerable Bishop Hogg was present, but as the Church had become separated from the United States in 1828, he did not exercise any authority, but proceeded with the Conference numbered about fifty ministers, who ministered to little more than eleven thousand members. Of the ministers who then composed the Conference, not more than seven remain, and they have all retired from active labor, though some of them still serve the Church in their supernumerary station. The Methodist Church of Canada relation. The Methodist Church of Canada relation. The Methodist Church of Canada relation.

In 1836, we find the Conference again at Belleville, with the Rev. W. Lord for its President. The membership had now increased to fifteen thousand, and the ministerial staff to about 80. John Sunday was received into full connexion and ordained—the first Indian, we believe, except Peter Jones, who was thus set apart to the full work of the ministry. Of the eleven persons received on trial at this Conference, sons received on trial at this Conference, sons received on trial at this Conference.

Four years roll away, and the Methodist Conference is again sitting at Belleville, with the excellent Joseph Stinson as its President. He had assumed the office of General Superintendent of Missions since the period of the union with the British Conference in 1832, and now for the second time he occupies the Presidential chair. Twelve are received on trial, among whom is Leachin Taylor, so long known as the famous preacher, who presided over the Bible Society, and Missionary Secretary. Three others remain in a supernumerary position, but the rest are fallen asleep. The English Conference this year met in Newcastle-on-Tyne, which was attended by a delegation from the Canadian Conference. Happily after seven years a re-union was effected. It is a pleasing coincidence that the first Conference after the re-union in 1849 was held in Belleville, Dr. Dixon, than whom but few ministers in the British Conference were better known, was President. Dr. Dixon's sermon before the Conference was reported as one of the most eloquent ever heard.

In 1854, the Conference is again held at Belleville. Dr. Wood was President for the fourth time in successive years. He has since been President at other Conferences, so that in all Dr. Wood has been President ten years, and now at the Conference of 1880 his name will be mentioned for a supernumerary relation, after the labors of 43 years in the West India and Canada, during the whole of which he has been identified with Methodist Missions, he is no longer able to occupy his wonted place among his brethren. At this Conference in 1854 arrangements were made for uniting the Methodist Missions in Canada East, with the Conference. Steps were also taken to receive the Missions in Hudson's Bay Territory from the jurisdiction of the British Conference.

In eight years more, viz. in 1862, the Conference is again in session in Belleville. Dr. Stinson had been appointed by the British Conference to occupy the chair, which he had occupied during the preceding four years, but as he was unable to be present, the question arose as to who should be President. Some contended that the candidate should take the chair and go on with the business, but others argued that the discipline authorized the election of a President, providing the appointed President did not arrive. The views of the latter prevailed, and Dr. Wood was again elected President. Dr. Stinson died in a few weeks after Conference.

In the year 1871, nine years from our last date, the Conference meets again in Belleville. Two circumstances add greatly to the interest of the occasion, viz., the erection of large commodious church, and the distinguished gentleman who occupied the chair, Dr. Punshon. His name is a synonyme for eloquence in the pulpit and on the platform, while as possessing extensive ability he has few equals and probably no superior. As might be expected, all the services and sessions of the Conference were numerously attended. Rev. W. Polard received an appointment to British Columbia and soon afterward took his departure to that distant colony, where he still remains, but for the last two years has occupied a supernumerary relation. It was now apparent to the most casual observer that the Conference must be divided, as the little one had become a thousand.

Now in 1880, the Conference again meets in Belleville, but not the Conference that was. The Canada Conference, as it existed in 1871, has been divided into three. The Wesleyan Methodist Church of Canada, that of Eastern British America and the Methodist New Connexion were united in one body in 1874, now known as the Methodist Church of Canada, consisting of six Annual Conferences, with more than 1,100 Ministers and 122,000 members. One of these is Toronto Conference, which opens its sessions to-morrow morning, June 9th, in our city. Unless we are greatly mistaken, the next General Conference will be compelled to add to the number of its Annual Conferences, as some of them are becoming too large, both for deliberation and entertainment. Our readers will be furnished daily with a carefully prepared report of the proceedings, which will probably extend over a week.

Belleville as a place of business has made great progress during the years we have now reviewed. What was a small village has grown to be a fine city, with many stores which would be no discredit to Toronto or Montreal. The country around has made great advancement. Instead of small log houses for residences, fine brick mansions are everywhere to be seen; small dingy school houses have given place to buildings with surroundings that give evidence of the care bestowed on the mental improvement of the rising race. Methodistically speaking, has long since passed away. The city alone has been divided into three stations, who have separate churches under their care, while the country around is well supplied with church accommodation.

THE PROPOSED OPERA HOUSE.

Some Particulars as to the Dimensions, Fittings, &amp;c.

Since the destruction of the Opera House on the corner of Pinnacle and Campbell Streets, the want of a proper place for amusement exhibitions, lectures and like entertainments, has been seriously felt by those fond of light or heavier entertainments. The site of the old Opera House, the possession of the City Hall, but as the former had been leased for the military purposes of No. 4 Company of the 49th Battalion and was therefore unavailable, the City Hall was the only place that offered itself for use as a place for amusements. It, however, was not provided with scenery nor dressing rooms, neither was it such a place as first class companies would like to appear in, and as a consequence several parties of first class entertainers have not presented themselves, simply because it could not present them a good field in which to display their abilities. This was certainly to be regretted, but now a remedy is at hand, since Messrs Henderson and Farley have taken upon themselves the task of supplying the necessary requirements for such a purpose. To accomplish this end, the gentlemen named have purchased a portion of the latter estate on Bridge Street, between Pinnacle and Church Streets, and have also secured tenders for the erection thereof of an edifice which shall be an honor to themselves, a credit to the city and a proper place in which an exhibition can be given.

To do this they intend to erect a building, the plans for which have been prepared by Messrs Evans & Bolger, architects of this city. The structure will consist of a stone basement and the main edifice will be of brick, 60 feet by 110 feet on the outside. There will be 9 dressing rooms in the basement beneath the stage, all of which will be arranged with the requisite conveniences and appliances. On the front of the building there will be a balcony 100 feet long by 3 feet in width, and with ornamental iron railings. This will be for the use of bands whose engagements may require their presence there. (The dressing rooms, it might be observed, though in the basement, will, on account of the formation of the locality, be above ground. The width of the main entrance is 8 feet and to the right of the ticket office will be located. On the west side will be the stairs leading to the dress circle on the east side, whilst that on the west will suffice for the wants of those who may patronize the pit.

On the inner side of the vestibule is a porch-like structure, and the entrance to the interior is reached. Here is the parquette, and in front of it the space devoted to the use of the luxuriously inclined, and which will be supplied with folding chairs of the newest and latest design. Before this, again, is the portion reserved for the use of the orchestra, which is 27 ft. by 6 feet. On this last there will be an incline, which will enable all who are within to witness whatever representation may be going on.

On each side of the stage, the upper of which will be reached by an easy staircase from the rear of those on the ground floor. The stage, which is 100 feet long, will be a platform on each side of the stage to the basement for the accommodation of those who are performing in the house. As all the floors will be sloping, a good view of what is going on upon the stage can be had from all parts of the interior.

The gallery, which will be supported by 10 iron columns, besides partitions, will be devoted to the dress circle, the entrance to which will be from stairs outside of their location. The auditorium will be 66 feet by 70 feet high, and will seat about 1,000 persons quite readily. The interior light will be furnished by 3 windows on each side, whilst there will be 5 in the front. There are two additional entrances or exits in the front of the house, one on each side of the stage, which will open outward. The style of the structure will be somewhat similar to that of the Grand Opera House in Toronto. The building will be fronted with red brick ornamented with white and black blocks of a similar material, and will present a showy and yet tasteful appearance. It is confidently expected that the work on the building will be begun early next week, and that it will be ready for occupation in September next. The cost will be $16,000.

THAT CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED,

Is a fact attested by the best Medical Authorities in the World.

A careful observance of the laws of health, and the systematic and persistent use of SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL with HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME AND SODA will accomplish this result. This preparation has all the virtues of those two most valuable specifics in a form perfectly palatable, and acceptable to the most delicate stomach; and we make the unqualified statement that SCOTT'S EMULSION is being used with better results, and endorsed and prescribed by more physicians for Consumption—and the diseases leading to it, such as Chronic Coughs, Bronchitis, Scrofula, Anæmia, General Debility and the Wasting Disorders of children, than any other remedy known to medical science. The rapidity with which patients improve on this food medicine diet, is truly marvellous.

SEE WHAT PHYSICIANS AND THE PEOPLE SAY ABOUT IT.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne: 66 West Thirty-sixth Street, New York, September, 1876.
GENTS, I have frequently prescribed SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL with HYPOPHOSPHITES during the past year, and regard it as a valuable preparation in scrofulous and consumptive cases, palatable and efficacious.
C. C. LOCKWOOD, M. D.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—Gratitude—Within the last year I have used in my own family, and in my private practice prescribed very extensively SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL with HYPOPHOSPHITES and found it a most valuable preparation, especially in diseases of children. It is agreeable to the most delicate stomach; which renders it a very reliable agent as a nutritive remedy in consumptive and scrofulous cases.
Oct. 12, 1879.
Yours truly,
A. H. SAXTON, M. D., Baltimore.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—Gratitude—Within the last two months I have fairly tried SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL with HYPOPHOSPHITES, and I candidly declare that it is the finest other wasting diseases, we can consider it our most reliable agent, in a perfectly elegant and agreeable form.
December 19th, 1878.
J. SIMONAUD, M. D., New Orleans, La.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—Gratitude—In September, 1876, my health began to fail and my physician pronounced it spinal trouble; under his care I got some relief from pain, but my general health did not improve, and early in the winter, I began to raise blood and rapidly grew worse. In May last I was taken with a violent bleeding which brought me to my bed and my life was despaired of for many weeks; violent symptoms appeared, night and morning coughs, night sweats, short breath, and a return of the spinal trouble. My physician stopped the bleeding and then ordered 'Cod Liver Oil and Lime'; and I used various preparations, but they did me no good. I lost all hope of life, and was an object of pity to all my friends. Last September I purchased a bottle of your EMULSION and before it was all taken I was better. I then bought a dozen bottles and have taken all with the following result: Cough subsiding, night sweats stopped, appetite returned, pains in spine disappeared, strength returning and my weight increased from 118 to 140 pounds in sixteen weeks. I have taken no other medicine since commencing with your EMULSION and shall continue its use until I am perfectly well. I frequently meet some friend on the street who asks what cured you and I answer, SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL, &c. I have a friend who has not spoke clearly for 15 months and he is getting better. I gave him a bottle and he bought two more, then got a dozen and says it is food and medicine for him. He was given up to die a year ago; but he is improving now wonderfully. My recovery is exciting the surprise of many people, and I shall do all I can to make known your valuable medicine.
Jan. 20th, 1879.
Very truly yours,
H. F. SLOCUM, Lowell, Mass.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—Gratitude—About the 25th of last April I got a bottle of your EMULSION and at that time I was so prostrated that no one who saw me thought I could live but a few days at most. I could retain nothing on my stomach and was literally starving. I commenced the use of the EMULSION in small doses; it was the first thing that would stay on my stomach; I continued its use, gradually increasing the dose; and from that hour I commenced mending, and now am able to ride and walk and am gaining flesh and strength rapidly. I have advised other parties to try it, and some two or three have already tried it. I am sure I shall entirely recover.
I am gratefully yours,

MANHOOD.

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Impotency, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excess.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every young man and every man in the land.

CHINESE PRESERVES!

In this climate most cases of consumption take their rise in some form of chronic disease of the lungs which lead to the consumption. If people would realize that the lungs are diseased in the great majority of cases, and that the cure is to be found in the use of a few bottles of quack nostrums—sold

as "cathartic remedies"—it would be a great relief to the suffering. It is a fact that the lungs

are fast coming to the conclusion that it is incurable. So little is done to prevent consumption, and still less to cure it after it is established.

Who can wonder that one-fourth of the people die in hopeless misery when such simple and rational means to protect the lungs

the lungs to become diseased, and when they are actually diseased, when they are completely abandoned all hope of cure, and palliation which never saved a case.

Without courage and perseverance nothing is curable. But with these, aided by proper treatment, consumption can generally be extensively cured.

CONSUMPTION

Consumption is little understood by the people, and yet is the most common disease

known to man. Because of this want of knowledge, and the fearful prevalence and rapid progress of this disease, it is a great pity to the physician for help than any other in the long catalogue of bodily afflictions. The tells of mortality prove that in this climate

form of disease. The question of prevention great treatment, therefore, is of the importance of life itself to one-fourth of the people generally. Unless they are saved through theadoption of some improved method of treatment, their doom is sealed, and the only question is whether they will be called upon to

render up their lives to the insatiable destroyer

year by year, or, on the following year.

The total infirmities meaneth means employed through the stomach is sufficient to sustain life. So long as the same ideas prevail, and the same course of treatment is followed, which has been the case for centuriesin the past, no benefit will follow the instructions of the physician. The disease will continue, as it has been—equivalent to the end of death, and physicians will continue to scribing without knowledge and without hope.

In this climate a very limited number of cases, the disease is not detected until it is firmly established, and consequently no effort is made to prevent its development at a time when the best results might be secured by attending treatment. When there is loss of flesh, cough, present expectoration and spitting of blood; when the stomach reveals the presence of a cavity in the lung, and personal demonstration that a considerable portion had become solid by tubercles, the most system in the profession knows that the patient is far advanced in consumption, and yet such is the condition of most cases before any treatment is employed.

These are not the early symptoms of consumption. They are, in fact, symptoms of the confirmed disease. Now, what is to be done?

Are we after listening and hearing, and listening and listening, to shake our heads and say: "My good sir, you are in consumption, and I can do nothing for you." God forbid! The Physician who intones such words, though he does not say it in so many words, utters a libel on his art; for although in such case there is a great danger, and the patient is in a dangerous position, it is not a hopeless case, and ought to be done. How? Not by setting out the impression that the patient's disease is incurable, and that temporary ease is all that can be promised him, but by prescribing a proper method of treatment, and by seeing him

after a few days with the view of allaying some troublesome symptom, not by merely opening the bottle and handing out a libel, confined, or confining them when they are open, but by increasing expectation when they are, or checking it when too great. It is a fact that the lungs nearly the whole of the present mode of treating Consumption, could be accomplished by the use of a few bottles of quack nostrums—sold

as "cathartic remedies"—it would be a great relief to the suffering. It is a fact that the lungs

A STORY OF THE GREAT GLASGOW

BANK ROBBERY.

'In a word, I said, 'Ravenworth, you

'mean to thwart and refuse me.'

'I cannot and will not give up Mary

'Woodford. She is the calm, but firm and 'decisive reply.

'Then, rebellious ingrate, you are no 'longer an adopted son of mine. I will cast

'you back into the obscurity and poverty

'from which I rescued you.'

'Philip, forbear! forbear!' shrieked

'Lydia.

'No, the hour of forbearance is past.

'You, Lydia, have added an added

'weight to this; but I will cast him out, and

'through his expulsion, your folly will be 'punished. Go, sir, go, and never look 'back to me for another benefit.'

'No, no, pleaded Lydia, with weep-

'ing. 'You do not mean this terrible thing

'Philip!'

'I do mean it. Since he dares to oppose

'my dear plans he has lost my favor and

'countenance for ever, and can return to the

'beggary from which I took him, unless he 'yields to me. He is the cause of this, and

'of this fate comes him to fall in with my 'wishes.'

'What!' cried Charles, in a tone of deep

'reproach. 'You deem it possible to cast

'my dear son, and his wife, from the world?

'Oh, Mr. Ravenworth, you 'must think ill of me indeed! No, sir, I

'a thousand times no! I am made, and 'I will face the consequences.'

'Then go and face them, you ungrateful

'villain! I renounce you for ever; and what 'is more, these Woodfords shall go packing

'likewise. They have been the cause of your

'rebellion and defiance, and shall no longer

'receive of my bounty. Do you hear, sir,

'begone!'

'Oh, heaven! this is the frenzy of mad'ness,' cried Lydia, distracted by grief.

'I shall obey you, Mr. Ravenworth, said

'Charles. 'I have no right to dispute the 'command you have given, nor shall I ever

'consent to regard your past treatment of

'me with gratitude, and I will, with morrow. The night's reflection will bring you and you will have just cause to feel repentant but for my sake stay.'

'My dear Mrs. Ravenworth,' said Charles

'affectionately. 'I feel no regret, but I feel

'only sorry to see this partial eclipse of his noble

'nature, and believe that what it will 'pass on long, I think it is right that I should

'obey his mandate and depart. But say, my

'more than mother, do you disapprove of

'this decision I entertain for Mary Wood-

'No, Charles. I rejoice that it is so, and Given up by Doctors.

'Is it possible that Mr. Goffrey is up and

'at work, and cured by so simple a remedy?'

'I assure you it is true that he is entirely 'cured, and he is now at his old place, and

'only ten days ago his doctors gave him up

'and said he must die.'

'This is a case that is remarkable! I will

To His Honor the Judge presiding at the General Session of the Peace for the month of June, 1880.

WE, the Grand Jurors of Her Majesty the Queen for the County of Hastings, do hereby make the following report:

It is a matter of congratulation that no criminal case appears on the docket, which indicates a lessening of crime in the County, and one covering a territory as large as Hastings, although, no doubt, some cases have been disposed of by proper trials.

Having made a thorough and careful examination of the jail we take great pleasure in reporting everything in a very satisfactory condition and very particularly the order and cleanliness of the different apartments. We would recommend that the laundry room be enlarged as we find it is very small and partly ventilated, we would also recommend that new covering be laid to the wall near the wash room; laundry is also of opinion the prisoners might be employed to the advantage of the County.

All of which we respectfully ask the attention of the Warden and County Council.

J. W. BOYCE, Foreman.

Grand Jurors' room, June 11th, 1880.

After the reading of the report of the presentment, His Honor stated that while he agreed with the Grand Jury in the matters reported upon by them, he had but little hope from the attention that former presentments had received that this presentment would fare better than many former ones. He would, however, state that a copy of it was forwarded to the proper quarter, and after consulting the Jury upon the very apparent decrease in crime, he thought that while he hoped for a better era in order and peace was about being inaugurated, trusting that this favorable state of things would be for the welfare of society.

His Honor then informed the jury that they were relieved from further attendance at the sessions and discharged them.

Political Notes.

DEPARTING HOME MANUFACTURERS.

Says the Globe-Herald:—"The Hamilton Times, though it mentions the very creditable display which the Ontario educational department made at Sydney, where it took prizes for its anatomical and other models, diagrams, etc., has not one word to say about the success of Canadian manufacturers at the same exhibition. Possibly because the fact does not square well with the free trade theory that Canadian manufactures are always inferior to foreign manufactures." This was a favorite theory of Messrs. Mackenzie and Cartwright, who on various occasions decried the skill of Canadian mechanics and sneered at home manufactures as of an inferior character.

TEXAS AND KANSAS.

The Mail says:—"The Globe is getting delicious. The Senate must go, and it thinks the municipalities could take charge of the asylums and other Provincial institutions; in other words that the Local Government must go also. The New Liberal Platform is certainly a broad one—no Senate, no Local Legislature, no Pacific Railway, no manufactures—nothing but absolute free trade and Kansas." Surely our contemporary has not forgotten Texas.

Mr. Mackenzie's alleged readiness for emigration. The party have deposed Mr. Mackenzie from the leadership, but they still cling to the Texas plank of their platform, with Mr. Blake's addition of Kansas.

REPROBITY.

The Boston Herald says:—"It seems reasonable to expect, if negotiations for a reciprocity treaty with the Dominion are too long delayed, that Canadian manufacturers will have assumed such magnitude as to be able to prevent the adoption of any treaty favorable to the United States." Surely the editor of the Herald cannot read his Globe regularly, or he would know that the N. P. is ruining this country, and that the longer the United States wait the better will be their chances for obtaining a favorable treaty. But perhaps our neighbors, abroad people as they are, and fully aware of the advantages of protection, do read but pay no heed to the utterances of the free-trade press of this country, which, by inference, have been doing their best to secure the negotiation of a reciprocity treaty "favorable to the United States," and consequently unfavorable to Canada.

The Globe and its confederates may not like the Herald's accusation, but nevertheless it is true.

SAVING ISLAND.

The Charlottetown Examiner says:—"The Toronto Globe's Ottawa correspondent is entirely wrong. Savage Island was not sold to the Dominion Government by Mr. Percy Pope, who is to-day its owner. The land at Okcumpe, which was sold to the Dominion Government, was never owned by either the Hon. J. O. Pope or his son, The Globe's correspondent has evidently been led astray by the Patriot."

DISAPPOINTED.

The Stratford Beacon notices as a sign of the times that the population of that municipality has only increased 27 this year—the smallest increase in any one year since Stratford became a town. Doubtless the Beacon is chagrined because it has not a decrease to announce, as nothing so much humiliates the Grit press as to learn that the smallest increase in any one year since Stratford became a town.

Doublets the Beacon is chagrined because it has not a decrease to announce, as nothing so much humiliates the Grit press as to learn that the smallest increase in any one year since Stratford became a town.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, JUNE 11.

City and Vicinity.

FIRST PAGE.—On our first page will be found some news items from our Tweed and Campbellford correspondents.

AN OUTING.—The officers and pupils of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb will have their annual excursion on the steamer Albion on Saturday afternoon, leaving Belleville at 3:30.

ALBERT UNIVERSITY.—The annual Baccalaureate service will be preached in the M. K. Tabernacle on Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock a. m., by the Rev. Dr. Watson, of Spencerport, New York.

TELEGRAPH LINE.—The Grand Junction Railway Company are making arrangements to have a telegraph line along the route of Railway, and as one of the preliminary steps, Mr. E. H. Brennan, has advertised for 2,000 telegraph poles.

EXCURSION TICKETS.—Mr. Marrow, Secretary-Treasurer of the Prince Edward County Railway, has succeeded in getting the Grand Trunk authorities to issue cheap excursion tickets along the line from Cobourg and Kingston to the Wellington Sandhills.

RECEPTION OF CANDIDATES.—To-night's proceedings in connection with the Conference will be of deep interest, the reception of candidates being the occasion. The Rev. Dr. Nelles, Rev. J. Leary and Rev. Dr. Sutherland will deliver addresses, and the candidates will also speak.

DISORDERLY.—Peter Birdour, a river driver, got drunk last night and resisted furiously when officer Cook sought to arrest him. Despite his frantic struggle, however, he was placed in a cell, but not until he had damaged a door in the police station.

$100 REWARD.—Some persons having placed spikes, bolts and other obstructions on the track of the Prince Edward Railway, the management offer a reward of $100 for such information as will lead to the conviction of any person or persons placing obstructions on the line of the railway.

EXTRA TRAINS.—We understand that arrangements have been made to run trains from Hastings and Madoc to Belleville on Saturday evening. This will give an opportunity for those in the villages along the line of Railway to come in and attend the Conference Service on Sabbath, which will be of special interest.

AN IRISH CONVENTION.—The convention of men of Irish blood, which meets in Philadelphia on the 25th inst., has the double object of organizing a National Society to extend aid and sympathy to their suffering countrymen in Ireland, and to assist Irishmen to gain their liberty. English "spies" will be rigidly excluded.

ACCIDENT.—A young man named Howard was driving a horse load of paper into the city this morning for Messrs. Hill Bros., when coming down Front street, the harness became disarranged, and the horse started to run away throwing Howard off the load cutting his head badly and breaking his shoulder. The young man was able to walk to a house adjoining the road where Dr. Wilson was called for and is in attendance. The horse ran into a barn in Murrayville and was caught.

THE "ANNIE GILBERT."—Attention is directed to the advertisement of this steamer, which appears in another column. The boat is fast and in excellent order, and cannot fail to be a great convenience to those who seek a day's relief from the heat of the city by stopping at Massena Point, the most beautiful picnic ground on the bay.

EQUALIZATION.—The County Council, after a long discussion yesterday, succeeded in fixing the equalization of the minor municipalities. That of the southern townships remains the same as last year, whilst Trenton, Mill Point, Madoc Township and the villages of Marmora and Lake and all the western municipalities have been raised in the scale. Huntington and Stirling have had their equalization lowered a little. The whole county is now equalized at $12,035,000, an increase of $188,000 from last year.

MUSICAL.—The band of the 10th Battalion gave another open air concert last night before a large audience. The programme was a good one, and the rendering of the various selections was much admired.

MILITARY.—Quarter Master Lieut. W. L. Hamilton advertises for tenders for the supply of provisions for the 4th Battalion, which will go into camp at Gilbert's farm, in Sidney, on the 24th inst. Particulars are contained in the advertisement.

EXCURSION.—An excursion party, under the auspices of the Young Peoples' Association of St. John's Street Methodist Church, Kingston, arrived by the steamer Maude this afternoon. The Maude will leave on the return trip at 4 o'clock. She was detained two hours by fog.

INSTRUCTIVE LECTURE.—As will be seen by advertisement in another column, the Rev. Dr. Jeffers the newly appointed pastor of the Bridge St. Methodist Church, and one of the most exhaustive thinkers of the age—is to deliver his instructive lecture on Everlasting Punishment, in the above named Church to-morrow evening at 8 p. m. The subject is one in which both Ministers and people will be greatly interested. Everybody should hear the learned Dr. on this theme.

SUDDEN DEATH.—An old man named Michael McDermott, of Tyndinaga, came to the city yesterday with his daughter and son, to purchase the wedding outfit for his daughter. Mr. McDermott, who is 76 years of age, appeared in his usual healthy condition, but his purchases started for home. On the way they stopped at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Timothy Heffernan, when Mr. McDermott suddenly leaned forward in the wagon and expired. The deceased was an old resident of Tyndinaga, where he was highly respected.

THE CEMETERY.—The Belleville cemetery is now beginning to assume its usual summer aspect. Many persons whose loved ones are there interred have lately planted out flowers and otherwise decorated their graves, and much of the grass has been cut. The paths, however, are in a very bad state generally, and Mr. Burton, the efficient caretaker, ought to be given assistance in this work, as he has seemingly more to do otherwise than can be thoroughly attended to. A few days' labor in this occupation would much improve the grounds.

A TOUR OF INSPECTION.—The Peterborough Review of the 9th inst. says: "Messrs. J. R. Barber, of the Cobourg and Peterborough Railway Company, E. O. Bickford and W. H. Ellis of the Grand Junction Railway Company, yesterday inspected the track of the Cobourg road, down as far as the farm of Mr. Morgan, of Ottonabe, about five miles from town, with a view of the Grand Junction Company running their line on the same road. We were unable, owing to the reluctance of the parties, to obtain any definite information as to the probability of such an extension taking place. We were informed, however, that the matter is likely to be settled this week."

LACROSSE AND ROW TO PLAY IT.—This is the title of a nicely bound little book of 108 pages, written by Mr. W. K. McNaught, Secretary of the National Lacrosse Association of Canada, and published by the Rose Belford Publishing Company of Toronto. The work is not only issued at an opportune time, when the match season is fairly open, but it will be of much value to all votaries of the National Game, the author being one of the best players in the Dominion and thoroughly acquainted with all the rules, technicalities, and points of the game. In its pages will be found hints as to organizing Clubs, the selection of grounds and practice; as to throwing, dodging, checking, goal keeping, defence, fielding, home play, &c.; together with placing the team, and much other matter of a useful character given in a familiar way, such as is easily understood. Several illustrations represent the principal positions in the game. The book ought to be read and kept as a reference book by every Lacrosse player.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS.—The many friends of Rev. J. E. Howell and wife will be glad to learn of the high esteem in which they are held by the members and adherents of the Methodist Church on the Newcastle Circuit. As a token of such esteem on Wednesday evening of last week, about 50 of the friends at the Newcastle appointment took possession of the Parsonage, bringing with them the needful for a bountiful spread. After good wine had been done to the above, Mr. Wm. Hooper on behalf of the company read a beautiful and eloquent address, referring to the high appreciation in which the pastor's wife and himself are held by the people, and the general regret felt that on account of the rule of Conference by which they are to be removed, an association that had been so pleasant and profitable must be severed, and praying that in the new field of labor as here God's blessing might accompany them. They also presented Mrs. Howell with money and valuables for herself and family to a very considerable amount. Mr. Howell made a suitable reply, stating that the presentation was completely a surprise, thanking the friends for their uniform kindness to himself and family during his incumbency, and that the regret of parting was mutual. About midnight the meeting dispersed, all delighted with the evening's enjoyment.

A SIGHTFUL GIFT.—The Mail says: "A letter from Hon. Alexander Mackenzie acknowledging the receipt of two footstools awarded him by popular vote in a contest with Sir John Macdonald at the bazaar of St. James' Kirk, Charlotteville, is published in the local journals. The gift is a very suggestive one. There is a cruel sarcasm in the presentation of two stools to the groundsway as Mr. Mackenzie, but he evidently does not realize the subtle jest."

Toronto University Senate.

The Ontario Government have reappointed the three nominated members who retire this year from the Senate of the Provincial University, namely Mr. John Macdonald and Col. Gzowski, of Toronto, and Hugh McMahon, Q. C. of London. Mr. Justice Cameron, of the Court of Queen's Bench, has been appointed for the unexpired portion of the term of the late Mr. George Brown. The three members elected this year by Convocation are Messrs. John King, of Berlin, S. Woods, of Kingston, and A. E. Campbell, of Toronto. The members appointed by Government retire in 1883, with the exception of Mr. Justice Cameron, whose term expires a year sooner. Those elected by convocation hold office till 1885.

THE ENGLISH TARIFF.—Mr. Gladstone announced his proposed changes in the House of Commons on the 10th. The principal changes are the readjustment of the rates of liquor licenses, replacing the duty by a tax on beer, a reduction of the duties on French wines, and the imposition of an extra penny on the income tax. These changes are expected to produce a surplus of £381,000.

LITTLE'S LIVING AGE.—The numbers of The Living Age for the weeks ending May 29th and June 5th respectively, contain the following articles: Mohammedanism in China, Edinburgh; Recent Events in Arabia, Adelaide; The Philosophy of History, Portland; The Pink of Poetry, Newcastle; Contemporary Novelists and Mr. Howells, Newcastle; Klopstock, Cornhill; An Escape from a Riffian Cyclone, Melburn; Plain Speaking, Good Words; The Temperature of Space, Nature; The Civil Code of the Jews, and The Heirs of a Poor Monk, Pall Mall. With instalments of "He that Will Not When He May," "Verona Fontaine's Rebellion," "The Crook's Man," and "Rash Life in Queensland," with the usual amount of poetry. For fifty-two numbers of sixty-four large pages each (or more than 3,900 pages a year), the subscription price ($8) is low; while for $10.50 the publishers offer to send any one of the American £1 monthlies or weeklies with the numbers of the latter, both postpaid. AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

NEWARK, N. J., June 11.—The first National bank has suspended. It has been weak some months.

MADEIRA, June 11.—The conference to determine the status of foreigners in Morocco, is at a dead-lock over the question of the right of protection to foreigner which may be exercised by consuls. The Envoy from Morocco insists on proposals submitted by Austria, and Italy is supported by France in dealing with the consular authority shall be materially modified.

QUEENSTOWN, June 11.—Arrived, the Wyomung.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Agatha Dockrill, a school girl, aged twelve years, while in the woods near South Fordham, was seized by an unknown tramp this morning and dragged into the bushes where the ruffian cut off her hair. The noise of a person approaching frightened the fellow from committing a worse crime. The population is in pursuit.

LOUISVILLE, June 11.—Gladstone's budget is not likely to be very popular. The income tax is already burdensome to large classes. The abolition of the malt tax will remove a long standing grievance of the agricultural class, but the manner of its removal will give offence to the Scotch and Irish whiskey manufacturers, while the reduction of the duty on light wines places the latter in a favorable position for competition with beer.

COUNCIL BUYS, June 11.—A terrible tornado swept through the south eastern part of Patawatung County, on Wednesday night. Storm clouds were first seen forming east and west of Wheeler's grove a point where the most destruction occurred, and whirling eastward in a track of about half a mile in width and swept everything before it, demolishing farm houses, barns and other buildings, carrying some of them off over a hundred feet, and leaving the rest in ruins. In one place a farmer's house surrounded by a board fence was picked up and dashed to pieces. In another place a house was carried off the ground, leaving every thing in ruins. A man and his wife and two children, Wm. H. and wife and two children, and another child, were carried away and not found. About 80 or 90 were reported dead or missing. No house in the track of the tornado is left standing.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Arrived, the Alta from Liverpool.

WEATHER REPORTS.

Toronto, June 10.—Probabilities for the next twenty-four hours: For the lower lake, moderate to fresh southwesterly to south, westerly winds, line warm weather with thunder showers in some localities.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Indications: lower lakes, slightly warmer, partly cloudy, possibly occasional rains.

"TERRIBLE," the newest wonder to the month, "to try it is to become a friend to the pugilist, irresistible, popular Deity of the day."

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impotency to Marriage, etc., resulting from excess.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming cases of nervous debility may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

City and Vicinity

CITY COUNCIL.—A regular meeting of Council will be held on Monday night.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Robert Menzies, formerly of this city, but now of Syracuse, is in town, visiting his relatives.

COUNTY COUNCIL.—The County Council adjourned its business this morning and concluded the 23rd of November.

ENDLESS PUNISHMENT.—Remember the lecture of Rev. Dr. Jeffers on the above subject in the Bridge St. Methodist Church this evening.

PERSONAL.—Mr. George Wilson, editor and proprietor of the Port Hope Guide, is in town. Mr. Gordon, of the Toronto Standard, visited Belleville yesterday.

SABBATH SCHOOL.—The Sabbath School meeting at 2:30 p.m. in the Bridge Street Church to-morrow will be of full interest. The gentlemen who are to deliver addresses are influential members of the Conference, and well skilled in the subject.

FALL WHEAT.—Mr. David Giffin, of the 8th Con. of Sunday day, showed at the office an excellent sample of fall wheat of the Scott variety. It measured 51 1/2 in height, and the berry was full and plump and was an excellent exhibit of this season's growth.

VISITING THE CONFERENCE.—The interesting meeting held last evening in the Bridge St. Church, attracted large numbers of people from a distance. The services brought a large party from Trenton, while the arrivals from different parts of the adjoining townships were numerous.

RECOVERY.—The Ottawa Citizen of the 11th inst. says: "Mr. King, formerly of the Ottawa Branch of the Merchants' Bank, who had his eyes so seriously injured by the premature discharge of a cannon at Belleville, recently, is recovering, and is now thought that his sight will be preserved."

ALUMNI SOCIETY.—The annual lecture before the Alumni Society of Albert University will be delivered by the Rev. Wm. Blair, B. A., on Monday, June 14th, at 8 p.m., in the college chapel. The lecturer has an established reputation as a clear thinker and a good speaker. We predict an excellent treat.

DROWNED.—A correspondent, writing from Bridgewater under date June 11, says: "A painful accident happened here to-day a little girl about five years old, youngest daughter of Mr. Markies of this village, was playing with a little boy about her own age by the river side, when she fell off the bank and was drowned before anyone was aware of the accident."

BAZAR.—As has previously been intimated, a bazaar is to be held in aid of Christ Church organ fund, and the opening is now announced for the 17th inst. The bazaar will be held in the Coleman building opposite the Metropolitan block, and will be continued on the 18th and 19th. A large variety of useful and fancy articles will be offered, and refreshments, including strawberries and cream, ice cream, &c., can be had at all hours.

AN OLD RESIDENT GONE.—Mr. John Davis, father of W. H. Davis, of Tweed, one of the oldest residents of Prince Edward County, passed away on the 17th inst. He carried on the harness business for a number of years in Picton but of late has resided in Belleville, where he died. He was well known throughout the county and highly respected by all who knew him for his uprightness of character. Was a good living member of the Methodist Church for over sixty years, and died at the ripe old age of eighty-one. The last words he said being, "All is well."

A SAD DEATH.—A bright little girl four years old, daughter of Mrs. James Pringle, hotel keeper, was killed on the harbor railway switch at Whitby on the 10th inst. under most distressing circumstances. The track runs between the hotel and stable, and a platform car was standing on the track between them. Mrs. Pringle having occasion to cross the track, gave the car a shove. Her little daughter was at the opposite end of the car, and the first warning the poor mother had of the danger was the car passing over her poor child's body. Death was instantaneous. The terrible grief of the bereaved mother has almost driven her to distraction.

A DISCREDITABLE SCENE.—A scene not very creditable to some of the participants occurred in the vicinity of the market building yesterday forenoon. A poor unfortunate under the influence of strong drink was performing some curious antics, when a couple of young gentlemen (?)—we presume they would consider themselves insulted if they were not called—seated on one of the market building steps, and they would have some sport out of him, and they commenced a series of petty annoyances which excited the poor victim of drink so that he raved around the street like a unattractive, and his performances seemed to create special satisfaction to the young gentlemen (?) referred to. This continued for some few minutes when a crowd began to gather and a policeman appeared upon the scene, who instead of repressing the young men, who were the cause of the trouble, waved his baton at the unfortunate victim, and with a flourish of trumpets bade him begone. If he had felt the young men in question and put them in the cells for a few hours, it would have been only serving their right.

ALBERT UNIVERSITY.—The annual Baccalaureate service will be preached in the M. E. Tabernacle on Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock a.m., by the Rev. Dr. Watson, of Spencerport, New York.

TRENTON AS A TOWN.—The Advocate says: "Trenton will celebrate Dominion Day with might and main this year. The Council have granted $400 for that purpose and the Fire Co., $100, and private subscriptions figure something over $100 more, thus making over $900 to be expended that day in entertaining invited guests and that day in entertaining invited guests and furnishing amusements suitable for the occasion. We understand quite a number of invitations will be sent out to the different neighboring fire companies to come and participate in the day's enjoyment, also a number of neighboring bands. Satisfactory arrangements have been made with the different railway companies and steamboats, to Trenton for one fare on the day. As the town council, the fire brigade and a number of influential citizens are on the committee for sports and amusements, this will no doubt be the grandest celebration Trenton has ever been honored with. After July 1st, Trenton will bear the title of a town. This may in some ways be attributed to the good results of the N. P. R. C. North Hastings.

(From the Madoc Review, June 10th.)

The depression in the iron trade still continues, but parties interested here are of opinion that prices will soon be up again, and business resumed. At the Seymour mine Mr. Pusey intends keeping the men at work getting out ore ready for shipment as soon as prices are high enough to make it profitable. We understand a force is steadily employed at the Dufferin mine getting it in good condition for extensive work. Mr. Munro continues to ship ore from the Sarnia mine, and we understand has nearly the same force of men at work now as during the winter. Operations for the present, we believe, have entirely suspended at the Hematite mine. The mine operated by Mr. H. S. McMillin, for the Messrs. Andrews, of Youngstown, have been closed down, and that gentleman left the village for good on Friday last. We trust, however, when the business revives he will find his way back here again.

THE GOLD MINES.

Recent operations at the Malone gold mines have been most satisfactory. We have been informed that as high as $115 per ton was realized from the concentrated ore lately put through the Severn mill. A number of the men employed have suffered from poisoning, caused by escaped arsenic, but no serious results are apprehended. We understand crushing is going on regularly now.

THE SLATE QUARRIES.

The Review gives an extended account of the opening of the slate quarry on Mr. Aylsworth's property, about a mile north of the village. Says the Review, "it is in the form of a high ridge, about twenty-five yards wide and some two or three hundred yards long, extending diagonally from the gravel road to the road running east and west. A natural 'face' is found at almost any point along the sides on account of the slate rising higher than the land around it, which will make the work of quarrying it comparatively easy. The samples already taken out are pronounced by judges to be of the best quality, fully equal if not superior to the slate brought from Lower Canada. The quarry is undoubtedly also unlimited, it being estimated that it covers at least an extent of two acres of ground. The quality of slate improves the deeper it goes down, but the whole of the surface can be utilized for flag stones, for which there is nothing better than this material. A derrick will be erected immediately, and the leases are of opinion that in a few months, when they get the business fairly established, they will be able to give employment to between fifty and seventy-five hands. As an evidence that this quarry is all that is claimed for it we might state that Messrs. Lee and Gronberg have taken a contract for slating Moon's Hotel, and negotiations are also in progress for supplying the same material for the new M. E. Church.

MISCELLANEOUS.

At the late University Examinations, Toronto, the following Honors were carried off by students from Madoc: William F. Seymour—first year—First Class Honors in Mathematics.

Herbert B. Wood—second year—First Class Honors in Chemistry, Mineralogy, and Geology, and Second Class Honors in Biology.

Building operations are being carried on extensively. The Wilson Block is in the hands of the carpenters, the brick work being finished. Moon's hotel is being rapidly pushed forward. Mr. Wellington Bristol is carrying on the erection of a new commodious residence, of frame, two stories. Brick for the new M. E. Church is on the ground, and when the finished will be one of the finest edifices in the County.

Messrs. Dale & Son are making extensive alterations in their business on Durham St.

Rev. Father Davis is also making great improvements in some buildings he has purchased.

Seasonable Topics.

Green Peas made their appearance to-day for the first time this season. The price asked was 50 cents per peck in the ped.

The Intelligencer has the largest circulation of any paper in the Bay of Quinte District, and is consequently the best medium for Advertising. Business men, make a note of it.

The market was abundantly supplied to-day with vegetables, and prices were reasonable. A few baskets of ripe, luscious strawberries, grown in this vicinity, were quickly gobbled up at 20c and 25c per basket.

Those who want Job Printing of any description will consult their interests by calling at the INTELLIGENCER office. The farmer wears a smiling face to-day, and well he may, for in the history of twenty years, such prospects of an abundant harvest were never seen in Canada.

Terrible Collision.

THIRTY LIVES LOST.

New York, June 12.—The steamer Narragansett, which left New York last evening for Stonington, and her companion the Stonington, which left Stonington for New York, collided off Cape Cod about 1:15 last night. The former took fire and sank in 4 fathoms of water. The passengers from both steamers were transferred to the City of New York, which arrived at New York 10:15 this morning. It is impossible to ascertain the loss of life. Only two bodies recovered.

STONINGTON, Ct., June 12.—The Stonington arrived at 6:30 this morning with about 60 survivors from the Narragansett. The bow of the former is stove in 3 feet aft of the stem nearly to water line. She struck the Narragansett at 1:30 on the starboard side forward of the wheelhouse. The shock burst the gas tank and in 10 minutes the Narragansett was on fire. She sank in four fathoms of water.

The New York and Providence came to her assistance, and all the boats and life rafts of 4 steamers were lowered. It was 2 hours before the last passenger was picked up. Most of the passengers were transferred to the City of New York. The passengers say the collision was the result of some chronic disease. Thus, fevers invariably result from diseased conditions of the blood and liver, and a timely use of alternative, or blood purifying, and cathartic remedies would have averted the impending illness, that often leaves the system irreparably injured. Dr. F. J. C. Foster's Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pills are the best alternative and cathartic medicines yet compounded. Full directions are given for administering them, together with an accurate description of the symptoms demanding their use. They will not cure all human ills (as some medicine men are advertised to do), but they will cure the diseases for which they are compounded and recommended.

A Wonderful Discovery. For the speedy cure of consumption and all diseases that lead to it, such as tubercular consumption, colds, bronchitis, Hay Fever, Asthma, pain in the side and chest, dry hacking cough, tickling in the throat, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, and all chronic or lingering diseases of the throat and lungs. Dr. KING'S New Discovery has no equal and has established for itself a world wide reputation. Many leading physicians recommend and use it in their practice. The formula from which it is prepared is highly secret. It is sold in bottles of 50c and 1.00. For sale by J. C. Clarke & Co.

One Way to Economise.

Many a poor man, if required to account for the manner in which he expended his income, would find him of his family physician for "medical advice" among the leading causes. ## MANHOOD.

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excess.

Price, in a small envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lockers should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

CONSUMPTION

Consumption is little understood by the people, and yet is the most common disease

known to man. Because of this want of knowledge, and the fearful prevalence and

fatality of this disease, it appeals more strongly

to the physician for help than any other in

ills of mortality prove that in this climate

above the age of twenty fall a victim to this disease. The question of prevention and treatment, therefore, is of the importance which itself to one-fourth of the people gener-

CHAPTER XXVII.

CHARLES REVEALS HIMSELF TO HIS OLD

ENEMIES—LOVE TRIUMPHS.

The blinding shadows cast from shrubs and bushes by the descending sun were lying peacefully and silently on the gravel paths and flower borders of Mr. Woodford's garden when Charles opened the door and walked up the path to the front door of the cottage. As he walked, and understanding by this that those he had come to visit would be found in the garden, he advanced with a steady and cheerful

step. He had traversed those well known paths with such a gay and buoyant heart, or in a sad and thoughtful mood, as he had advanced through the paths of his life, and the Woodfords—rather than those who were then and there known as such, but who were his old friends, and loved by other names in former years. The address had been caused by the restraint he was under not to reveal his name, and he had been all the while, which he would both give and receive by the revelation. He had always felt it a pain to be hidden from an acquaintance by a few words' standing, when by a word he could have taken them and him self back to the old love of the old days, when their three hearts were beaten together by the tenderest affection, and when they were all in all to each other.

But his lips were sealed, and this secret had to be kept to a great distance from himself. Now on this beautiful summer evening he came to them with the seal removed,

and the freedom his to make the sweet discovery known. Hence his radiant exuberance of spirits, as, with a light, soundless step, he made his way along the grassy edge of the path towards the arbor.

When they were not to be seen in any other part of the garden he knew they would be seated there, and his wish was to

AT THE TIDE.

A correspondent writes from Woodstock, New Brunswick, to the St. John Daily News: "The great rush from this part of the province to the far west has subsided and the tide is setting strongly the other way. During a few weeks past a large number of persons returned from their summer homes, and brought a batch of the returning prodigals, who if poorer, are doubtless at least wiser men. These report that many more will take the back track just as soon as they can get enough money to pay their way. They also state that it costs much more to return than to go out there. From the statements of these men it can be most emphatically said that the western highland region of America, 'Dance Lads' enchantment to the view.'"

A YANKEE ASSERTION.

"Our neighbor over the lake, with her high tariff, is not happy," says the New York Times, in its issue of Saturday last. This is a reasonable assertion to proceed from, as an organ of the Republican party—the high tariff party of the United States, whose tariff is on the average about twice as high as that of this country. The "high tariff" of Canada is the result of that of the United States, and as our neighbors find protection beneficial, so do the people of the Dominion. No doubt the Times would like to see the Dominion imports lowered, and those of the United States raised, and at the present figure, in order that the control of our markets might again pass into the hands of our truly loving "cousins," but that cannot be. The selfish game of United States politicians can no longer be worked, and assertions from their journalistic allies, whether in the States or in Canada, will be taken at their true value, and but serve to convince our people that in the course which they took in 1878 in dismissing a "revenue tariff" Government, they acted rightly and for their own benefit.

KANSAS AGAIN.

The Guelph Mercury (Grit) says: The following is an extract from a private letter received by James Somerville, of Lucknow, from a friend in Kansas: "I have seen and heard as much of the west as I want to. If a man cannot live anywhere, Kansas may offer some kind of a place of abode; but for any one, not compelled to submit to punishment, some other place should be selected." On which the London Free Press remarks: Is it possible that the Hon. Mr. Blake knows this? If he had been aware of the condition of things which the Mercury unveils, he certainly would not have given Kansas such a puff, to the disparagement of Canada, as to induce the American agents to publish his speech by the many thousand copies, and distribute it, with a frontispiece, among the passengers on the Canadian lines seeking western homes. Taking one thing with another, the opposition is not a very happy one.

THE SENATE.

The Tamworth Echo has the following sensible remarks in reference to the proposed abolition of the Senate, as recently agitated for by the Globe and the Grit party generally: "It is hardly possible to constitute a legislative body, of any kind whatever, with powers so nicely balanced that there can be no friction. And the accumulated experience of mankind since the world began, goes to show that authority must centre somewhere to secure an equilibrium. Experience teaches that not only the voice of the mob is incongruous, foolish, and dangerous, and it is well to have bounds set to it, and it was for this purpose the Senate was constituted, so that no unpremeditated strain should destroy all the elements of safety and liberty. The Commons is the voice of the majority and the minority combined, and the medium between popular contention and Imperial contention. Just why this body should be offensive to the people it is difficult to determine, as it is in reality an appointee of the people—by and through delegated authority. By calling this protection to the minority's will, is to throw everything into the hands of the majority and build up mob authority in its most dangerous form. We would gladly countenance and assist in any feasible mode of lessening the expense of legislation, but we shall never consent to any system out of which dangers may threaten the minority."

The Timber Trade.

The following items, which are extracted from the Globe of the 15th inst., will be an encouragement to those who believe that the Grand Junction Railway will do a large portion of the Georgian Bay District timber trade as soon as a connection with the Midland has been secured.

On the 10th inst. Mr. T. B. and Mr. A. S. Edell arrived from below. There is no certainty of their sailing. A raft is ready and waiting for the Edell, but the tide will not go out till the weather is favorable. The tide report must wait till the tide goes down from heavy weather.

The tug Edell had a rather lively trip with her raft down the lake. They had first to run into Port Dalrymple, then to Georgian Bay, and then to the mouth of the lake. But they got the raft down in good shape.

By the use of the bay route all such delays would be avoided and much expense would, besides, be saved in sailing. It is thus quite evident that, ere long, Belleville will become an important centre of the timber rafting business.

The construction of the Murray Canal would be of great advantage to timber towns coming down the lake, as by its use the rate would be the most dangerous part of the journey, where there are no harbors of refuge.

The Souris Coal Fields.

The Winnipeg Times of the 10th inst. says: "Two large loads of coal arrived yesterday from the Souris country, being the first instalment of the dark mineral wealth owned by Mr. Hugh Sutherland in that future Pennsylvania of the Dominion. The coal was brought here by John Sutherland, brother of the proprietor, who took 45 days coming down. The barges were constructed at the coal fields, out of timber made from trees felled on the spot. Much difficulty was experienced on the journey, as timber jams and other obstructions to navigation were met with, but all were overcome, and the feasibility of river navigation is demonstrated. It is anticipated that there will be sufficient water in the river until August in each year, to float barges down; at present there are 20 feet of water in the river. Mr. Sutherland has expended some $15,000 on the experiment, and now that he is satisfied of its success, will go on with the work on a much larger scale. He calculates to make one trip a year, building barges sufficient to bring down all the coal needed for a year's supply. The coal is said to be of a very serviceable quality, and was a source of admiration to all who saw it—the first specimen of what is destined to be one of our great industries in the future. Mr. Sutherland intends sending him a ton to Toronto for further examination. Should this project be successful it will be the means of materially reducing the price of fuel another year in Winnipeg."

TORONTO CONFERENCE.

FIFTH DAY.

ATTEENING SESSION.

Conference opened at 2 o'clock. After devotional exercises the minutes of the morning session were read and confirmed.

Rev. J. C. Seymour read the report of the Memorial Committee respecting the memorial from Kingston affecting the character of the members of this Conference. The Committee recommended the case to be referred back to the District Meeting for adjudication. The report was adopted and the members of Bradford District Meeting accordingly returned.

Rev. J. Thorne read the report of the Committee on the state of the work. Regret was expressed that the increase of the membership was so small. The Committee rejoiced that the Sunday School reports were so efficient, and also that the people had responded so fully on behalf of the Relief and Extension Fund. The Committee suggested that the ministers should preach at least once a year on the subject of a Mass Meeting, and that with a view to increase the efficiency of that institution, conventions are held in connection with the church rather than wait until they grow up, and then use means to bring them in by means of special services.

The Committee find that the contributions to the Superannuated Minister's Fund and Contingent Fund are small, and the claimants to those funds are often placed in trying circumstances, they therefore recommended that the churches should be urged to increase the contributions to those funds. The report was the subject of a lengthy and profitable conversation in which Revs. J. Shaw, ex-President, Dr. Jeffers, Mr. Fawcett, N. Hill, J. S. Clarke, C. Turner, J. McClung, E. Barre, M. A. W. S. Blacklock and Dr. Harper took part. The report was then adopted. A few verses of a hymn were sung, and Rev. E. S. Rupert led the Conference in prayer.

The members of the Ordination Class were introduced to the President, and one of their number in the name of the rest presented him with a photographic picture, by which he was in the centre. The President acknowledged the gift in a most appropriate manner.

The report of the Directors of Ontario Ladies' College was read. The Directors are hopeful of the future as the past has been a most successful year. Miss Adams, a lady of great celebrity, has been elected principal. The report of the visitors was also read. Both reports were accepted.

Dr. Dewar read the report of the Committee on the Extension of the Council and recommended the election of four persons as representatives. This was done when it was found that Dr. Dewar, Sutherland, Jeffers and J. Macdonald, Esq., were duly elected.

The Conference adjourned at 6 o'clock. The President pronounced the benediction.

CONFERENCE SABBATH SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY.

This meeting was held last evening in Bridge Street Church. Rev. Dr. Potts occupied the pulpit, and delivered the opening address. On the platform were present, Revs. J. Ryerson, Ross, N. H. Jones, G. Brown, P. Campbell and J. W. Latten.

Rev. E. Barre, M.A., read the report and delivered an address dwelling particularly on the present state of Sabbath Schools in connection with Toronto Conference.

Rev. W. H. Withrow, M.A., Editor of the Methodist Magazine and Sunday School publication, made a valuable contribution to the moral improvement that has taken place in England during the one hundred years, which is largely to be attributed to the influence of Sunday Schools. Mr. W. stated that in connection with the publication department, of which he is the Editor, there was issued during the past year the enormous sum of ten millions seven hundred and fifty pages, being 35,000 pages for every working day in the ten years.

Dr. Niles next spoke in his usual interesting style for about 20 minutes.

The chairman rightly said that man had done so much for education in Canada as Dr. Ryerson, and he felt sure that the congregation would be glad to hear a few words from him.

The venerable Doctor was received with great cheering and said that whatever he might have been able to accomplish for his country he was sure that he would not have been able to do so well, had it not been for the instruction which he received at the Sunday School sixty years ago.

On motion of Dr. Ross a vote of thanks was tendered to the choir for the services they had rendered at all the services of the conference.

The doxology was then sung and the benediction was pronounced and the audience dismissed, but for some time afterwards a goodly number remained conversing and singing to the strains of hymns.

At about 9.30 the Stationing Committee, having completed their work, entered the church and were received with cheerful cheering. After a little time spent in devotional exercises, the President stated that no doubt some of the preachers would feel disappointed, but he assured them that the Committee had done the best that they could do for everybody. He then turned upon Rev. J. Brown, Secretary of the Stationing Committee, to read the list. He did so in the breathless silence of the Conference, every member of which had a copy of the station sheet before him and made corrections as the Secretary read the doom of those who thus received their fixed place of labor for another year.

The Chairman of Districts were elected by ballot. Three were appointed who returned after a while and reported the result of the first time to the high office of Chairman of Districts, and were accordingly called upon to deliver speeches in honor of their position. Revs. J. S. Clarke, J. Woodworth and J. Anderson were the gentlemen thus honored, and the foremost words possible they acknowledged the value of the thing the Conference for the honor thus conferred upon them.

Revs. H. Johnston and C. Turner were added to the list of Superannuated Ministers.

Dr. Sutherland stated that the income of the Missionary Society in connection with the Conference was nearly $1,000 below that of last year. He also stated that the contributions on behalf of the Relief Fund were $215,000, $78,000 of which had been received.

CAST ON THE WORLD:
The Border Marriage.

A STORY OF THE GREAT GLASGOW

"What! Oh—Charlie," gasped Woodford, like a man stunned.

"Charlie!" screamed Mary, looking up with a great start. "Oh heaven, it cannot be!"

"And you really don't know me! Well,
I have known you only once, I think, and then you were in the cottage till I knew you, but circumstances did not allow me to make myself known till to-night."

"Why, you don't mean to say you are our lost Charlie?" cried Woodford, breathlessly.

"Ay, but I am. I am Charlie, of Silas Morgan's caravan, just as you are, and just as the old Mrs. Myr, my old dancing partner."

Tobey gave a loud cry of joy, and springing towards Charlie, clung his arms in a vehement embrace, and the old man was frantic with delight—Mary the while standing looking on with wonder and joy.

"I'm not dreaming, am I?" cried Tobey, in frantic ecstacy. "You say you are Charlie; let me look at you. Oh! it's not a bit of a lie, I can't help saying so, but it is again—yes again that you are Charlie."

"The same Charlie," responded the youth in a broken voice, "the same Charlie who was with you here, and who saved you from the brutality of our drunken master; whom you taught tumbling and dancing, and many better things."

"Oh, dear me, dear me, dear me," said Tobey, "this is a turn up. I can't make it out at all. Can you, Mary? Is Mr. Ravensworth really your brother, Charlie?"

"You cannot doubt that when he says so," returned Mary, with a bright smile and a happy sparkle in her eyes. Besides he speaks of it as if he knew me, and I know him for the likeness, I can recognise Charlie's eyes, as I remember them, and his true color, only."

"God bless me, let me have another look," cried Mr. Woodford with unabated excitement. "Charlie's eyes and Charlie's hair, you say. If anybody should know them, it is me. I have seen them a thousand times, in my dreams. If these tears would only keep back to let me see. Yes, yes, I have them now; but who could have believed it! Young Mr. Ravensworth, the lost Charlie, and we do not know it! But what became of you when we lost you, and how did you find your parents? Oh, do tell us all about it, Charlie."

"Mr. and Mrs. Ravensworth are not my parents," replied Charlie.

"Not—not your parents?"

"No. You remember the night we were parted?"

"Oh, don't do it. It was just after the performance, and you went out to bar the gate, and I never saw you again."

"A sweep carried me off."

"A sweep!" exclaimed his two listeners in a breath.

"He must have had it planned," continued the youth, for he knew that he was in the street, and he knew that he was away it flew as fast as the horse could scamper, till we came to his house, a long way. He kept me there, and forced me to become his climbing boy."

"Mercy on me! And were you made black, and did you creep up chimneys?"

"I climbed dozens of them. Oh, it was horrible. I shudder still when I think of it. Fortunately, I had not been many days with the man, and he was not so wicked as the man in Grosvenor Square, and there I told my story to Mr. Ravensworth, who took me home and adopted me. I went back to you and Mrs. Lambeth, and Mr.
Ravensworth went with me to Lambeth Walk, but you were gone."

"Oh, dear, yes! We went at once," responded Woodford. "I thought then it was Silas Morgan who had caught you, and that he would be back for Mary. So we went of the very next day to another part of London, and it was then I changed our names, or rather, I went back to my own name, and that of my mother. My name was not the name I went by when in the profession. I changed Mary's name to Mary, and she passed for my daughter."

"Ah!" exclaimed Charlie, "Mary is not your child, then?"

"Oh, dear me, no! except in affection, added
Woodford, with a proud look at Mary.
"Daughter could not love father better than Mary has loved me. Ain't that true, my darling?"

"And have you not been all that a father could be to me?" returned Mary, with the fondest affection.

"I tried to do it, my pet. Oh, Mr. Ravensworth, we have a long story to tell you about our struggles."

"I can guess their severity," said Charlie.
"You have not raised your position in the world in which I find you without great patient, and praiseworthy effort, and the interesting particulars I must learn ere long. But come, my old friend, now what I did a little while ago. Are Tobey and Mary going to take Charlie back to their love again?"

"Oh, my boy, my boy," cried Woodford, clapping his hands, "I can't tell you how happy I am. Not shall I ever be able to tell you how happy I am. We cried about you every day for weeks and weeks, always thinking that Morgan had been with you, and using you cruelly. We learned afterwards that it was not Morgan who had taken you, and when we found that out we were still more grieved for we knew you were in now, and to think that after all these years we have seen you again, and you changed into a nice rich gentleman."

"I am changed in nothing but in size and mind," said Charlie, with a laugh. "During years which have separated us I have, of course, grown physically and mentally, but save in these things I am the same Charlie still, and love you both as much as ever I did."

"You did not forget us, then, amid the grandeur of your new position?"

"Forget you! Oh, how could I ever forget those who had been so kind to me; those with whom I was so happy! But what say Mary—who has not yet welcomed her old playmate?"

"He turned full towards her, and for some moments the story of his life, his misdeeds, his coyness and the deep love of her childhood, their eyes met, and in the glance there was revealed to each of them that their childhood—a tender and a brother love still, that had come into being within the last few months. These two affections, of their eyes that further consented to restraint was impossible. Instinctively Charlie opened wide his arms, and with a happy cry Mary sang herself on his bosom, and heart was pressed to heart in a rapturous embrace."

To Mr. Woodford this scene was overpowering in its excitement. Long years ago, when that youth and maiden were neglected little children Providence had cast them into the world, and he had yearned over them with anxious solicitude, devoting himself with unrepentant affection to their education. Yet his prayers had not been answered. Often and often had he thought of the dangerous future which seemed to await them, and how recently he prayed that their heavy and innocent might not be sacrificed. Often, he had his heart failed and his hands shook as he thought of the dark, prospect which lay before them, when it seemed altogether impossible to save them to virtue and to peace. Yet his prayers had been answered and his efforts rewarded. The years of childhood had fled, they were now young men, and in the bloom of their childhood's innocence, and in the bosom of their childhood's position, and to perform a worthy part in the drama of life. All these things rushed into his mind as he thought of the future. The arm, and in the gladness and gratitude of his heart he leant his face against the side of the arched, and freely wept.

Advertising Cheats.

It has become so common to write the beginning of an article, interesting article and then run it into some advertisement that we avoid all such cheats and simply call attention to the name of the advertiser in plain honest terms as possible, to induce people to give them one trial, as no one who knows their value will refuse to try anything else.

False Impression.

It is generally supposed by physicians and the people generally that Dyspepsia cannot invariably be cured, but we are pleased to say that we have cured many cases. We never to our knowledge, failed to cure Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint in all its forms, such as Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Flatulence, Adipositation of the Liver, Indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, etc. Out of the 10,000 bottles sold last year, not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters received from Druggists of wonderful cures, and many of our patients have been cured. Sample bottles 10c.; regular size 75c.

For sale by J. Clarke & Co. and L. W. Yao-

Biliousness.

People never get bilious until they eat more than is necessary to supply the natural waste of their bodies and more than their stomachs are capable of digesting and converting into the result of indigestion, and no one is ever bilious but the result of indigestion. Regularly eating three times a day, and a sufficient length of time between meals to enable the stomach to rest and reconvert, will, in many cases, relieve the biliousness. The speediest and simplest, however, to effect a change in the system is to discontinue the superabundant matter collected in the stomach. The speediest and

Physician, Surgeon, &c.,

OCULIST, AND AURIST,

Will be at the Dajoe House, Room 25, from Wednesday morning, the 23rd of June, until Wednesday, the 7th of July, 1880.

DR. STEWART is a regular graduate of the University of Victoria College, Toronto, Canada. He attended the Colleges of New York, for one year after, and with the advantages of the Eye and Ear Infirmary he acquired a thorough knowledge of the treatment of the Eye and Ear. Having practised in these specialties for fourteen years, he performs all surgical operations for Cataract, Artificial Pupil, Strabismus, or Cross Eyes, etc., with perfect success. He has an assortment of Artificial Eyes to suit anyone who may be in need of such; also Artificial Membranes for the drum of the ear, and a full assortment of Spectacles for all sights kept on hand.

Dr. Stewart would be pleased to have anyone call who may need his services, and will give a candid opinion without charge. As Dr. Stewart is a stranger to many who may need his services, he takes the liberty of offering the following certificates from a few of his patients, which he hopes will give confidence and satisfy all, that he makes no pretensions to what he is not.

BELLEVILLE, May 3, 1879.
J. D. STEWART, M. D.
Dear Sir,—Feeling that I am under a debt of gratitude to you, for healing the eyes of my little girl, I have thought you might make use of this testimonial and I therefore send it to you. Other medical men failed in curing sickness of the eyes, but a short application of your treatment was instrumental in removing every vestige of disease.
JOHN N. LEBEL,
Of Bartman & Sintzels, Clothiers.

BELLEVILLE, June 29th, 1878.
This is to certify that I have been troubled with entropion, or the eye-lashes turning in of both eyes. Dr. J. D. Stewart operated on my right eye nine years ago, it was entirely blind, the sight improved so as to act perfectly well. A week ago he operated on my left eye, which was about as bad as the other one was, and I am happy to state that they are both well and the sight good.

MOORICE MOORMAN,
2nd Concession, Thorulw.

I operated on W. J. Diamond, Esq., Barrister, both eyes for strabismus or cross eyes, in August.—They are now perfectly straight and improving in sight.
And on Miss Net is Robin, Blessington P. O., same trouble, a short time after, and her eyes are now straight and sight improving.

BELLEVILLE, March 24th, 1879.
This is to certify that my daughter Annie has been troubled with cross eyes very badly for some time. She is now over four years old. I applied to Dr. J. D. Stewart a little over a week ago, when he operated on her eyes, and I am now happy to state that her eyes are perfectly straight and her sight much improved.

J. T. JACKSON,
G. T. R.

BELLEVILLE, May 3, 1879.
This is to certify that I had a pterygus growing in the corner of my left eye, about the size of a marble, it had been cut away twice before but it grew again, I applied to Dr. J. D. Stewart about six months ago, when he operated on it, and I am happy to state that not only has there been no sign of it growing again, but that my eyes feel well and the sight is very much improved.

CHARLES A. GILLEN.

BELLEVILLE, February 16th, 1878.
This is to certify that I have been deaf for the last year. I applied to Dr. J. D. Stewart, twelve days ago, when he operated on both ears. I am now happy to state that my hearing is as perfect as ever.
JAMES CONNELLY.

(A case of forty years standing.)
WESTPORT, Nov. 1869.
DEAR SIR,—This is to certify that I had a Catarrh on my right eye for forty years, so that I was blind, and under your treatment I am now able to read and write. I enclose the statement from a sense of obligation to you, and hoping that it may carry valuable information to thee afflicted.
WILLIAM EWING.

BELLEVILLE, 6th December, 1878.
I certify that my daughter S. E. A. person has been afflicted with cross eye deformity for the last ten years. Dr. Stewart performed a successful operation on them on the 3rd inst, and I am well pleased to say that the eyes are perfectly straight and look natural and I am much stronger than before.
GEORGE ANDERSON,
Ameliasburg, Belleville P. O.

I hereby certify that I was present when Dr. Stewart operated on Miss Anderson, for double Strabismus. The operation was very successfully performed, and now three days after, the eyes are straight and perfectly natural.
GEORGE J. POTTS, M. D.

BELLEVILLE, October 26th, 1878.
J. D. STEWART, M. D.
MY DEAR SIR,—It affords me very great pleasure to inform you that my son's eyes are nearly well. Before you saw him he had been treated by celebrated Oculists both in Canada and the States, with but temporary relief; your operation on his eyes, I am happy to inform you, has proved to be a complete success.

The case was truly a very bad one, the malar bone having been broken by the accident, the eye became greatly inflamed, there were a number of abscesses formed at the inner angle of the eye, and several pieces of bone discharged with the matter; the duct soon became closed, and the tears constantly trickled over the cheek, and the eye was so sensitive that he had to wear a close shade for four consecutive years, during which time he had five operations, each of which proved a failure; the other eye became affected from sympathy, and I had great fears that he would become entirely blind. Since you operated, the change for the better has been rapid, and I may say wonderful. He can now look at the sun, he goes without the shade, his eyes are assuming a natural and healthy appearance, in fact I may say he is cured.

Yours very truly
JAS. F. CURLETT, M. D.

BELLEVILLE, May 2, 1879.
This is to certify that I have been troubled with cross eyes badly for the last eighteen years. I applied to Dr. Stewart about six weeks ago, when he operated on my eyes, and I am now happy to state that my eyes are perfectly straight and the sight improved.
C. W. HUICK.

BELLEVILLE, May 3, 1879.
J. D. STEWART, M. D.
DEAR SIR,—It affords me a great deal of pleasure to bear testimony to the excellence of your treatment of eye and ear diseases. Two years since, or thereabout, you were the means of restoring sight to my little boy, who had been suffering for some time for a disease of the eye, contracted at a time when he had chicken pox. After trying other medical men I was induced to consult you, and after a few applications of your treatment I am happy to say the little fellow's sight was fully restored, and the eyes cured.

JAMES A. DAWSON,
Local Editor of the Daily "Ontario."

BELLEVILLE, Ont., December 2nd, 1878.
I hereby certify that I have been troubled with cross eyes very bad for the last eighteen years, the sight of the right eye not quarter as good as the other. Dr. J. D. Stewart operated on me last Saturday, and I am happy to state that my eyes are perfectly straight now, and the sight very much improved. The operation did not hurt quarter as much as pulling a tooth.

I am respectfully yours,
EDWARD ANDERSON,
Lot 70, Concession 1st, Ameliasburg.

BELLEVILLE, May 3, 1879.
J. D. STEWART, M. D.—Some four years since I was persuaded to consult you on account of my little son being then almost blind, so near that it was necessary to keep a bandage on his eyes or keep him in a dark room. After one consultation with you and application of your prescription, the child's eyes began to get well, and soon he was able to run around with other children, and is now fully recovered. The partial or nearly total blindness had been on him for about two years previous to your seeing him.
CLARK EDWARDS,
Late Proprietor of Dominion Hotel.

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 9th, 1880.
I hereby certify that my wife was troubled with Entropion, or the eye-lashes growing upwards on the eye, for some time, which caused her a great deal of pain and trouble. I applied to Dr. J. D. Stewart 3 months ago, he operated on the eye-lid, and I am happy now to say that the eye is perfectly well, and the sight is much improved.

JOHN J. HAINES, Sr.,
Hotel Street, Belleville.

FROM THE HON. HILLA FLINT.
BELLEVILLE, Feb. 1869.
MY DEAR SIR,—Your attendance on Mrs. Flint has had a salutary effect, as her hearing is fully restored. She continues to use the medicine you left her as directed, and wishes me to express to you her thanks for your prompt attention to her case.
DR. J. D. STEWART, Pictou.

HILLA FLINT.

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Cullen's "Coleridge Essay on the Physical and Mental Causes of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Impairment, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excess."

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming cases of nervous debility may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

RELEVILLE, FRIDAY, JUNE 18.
The Pacific Railway.

The public will learn with satisfaction that the persistent efforts of the Government to fix a stigma upon the proceedings of the Government have at length been submitted to a competent tribunal for that investigation which their authors were afraid to demand at the hands of Parliament, after bandying their assertions about the country and threatening exposures of the most dire character. The Government must be charged by affording the fullest information which their officials could furnish and by challenging the authors of the slanders mentioned to an investigation, and now they are going to proceed further and put the matter in the hands of a Royal Commission, which will inquire into all matters connected with the enterprise since its inception. A commission has therefore been issued by Judge Clark of Oshawa, Mr. Samuel Keefer, engineer, and Mr. Miall, of the Inland Revenue Department, who was accountant to the Fisheries Commission at Halifax. This is a course of which the public will approve, as by the evidence taken on the Commission it will be shown exactly how matters in connection with this great of all our public works have been carried on. The inquiry will no doubt extend over a great length of time, but the proceedings will be watched with close interest by the public.

The International Park.

The suggestion made by Lord Dufferin for the conservation of the remaining natural features of the surroundings of the Niagara Falls and the restoration of those which had been destroyed, has caused a large amount of discussion on both sides of the lines, and the result was that during the last session of Parliament a number of gentlemen from New York visited Ottawa with the object of securing the carrying out of Lord Dufferin's suggestion. The Mail states that in consequence of the representatives of the New York delegation, "an honorary Commission has been appointed to take charge of the subject. The commission consists of Sir Alex Campbell, Hon. G. W. Allan, Mr. J. B. Plumb, M. P., and Mr. A. Desjardins, M. P., whose services will be given gratuitously. These gentlemen will confer with the authorities at New York and at Toronto, and perhaps the result of their negotiations may be some feasible and reasonable scheme for saving one of the wonders of the world from ruin by vulgarity."

THE NEW DINING CARS.—The following is a description of the new dining cars which were built at Point St. Charles, and have just been placed on the Grand Trunk Railway. The car is sixty feet in length, and is divided into three compartments, the kitchen, the pantry, and the dining room. There is also a closet for wine, ale, etc., a washroom, and an apartment for the stove which heats the dining room. The kitchen is fitted up with a complete cooking range, pans for hot and cold water, an apparatus for keeping the meats hot, and many other conveniences. The windows are formed of perforated screenings. The pantry is equally complete. The dining room has a seating capacity for forty persons. In a recess at the rear of the car, opposite each table, are shelves for holding wine glasses, spice bottles, cream jugs, etc., while hanging from the ceiling are four chandeliers, holding eight lights each. Handsome mirrors are encountered everywhere and the whole interior of the car is highly finished in oak. It is expected shortly to have one attached to every express and passenger train, so that delays at way stations for meals will not occur, and the usefulness and attractiveness of the railway restaurants will have ceased to exist.

CANADIAN PRESS ASSOCIATION.—The annual meeting of the Canadian Press Association will be held at Toronto the last week in July. The excursion this year will be to Thunder Bay via Collingwood. A run of 150 miles will be made over the Canada Pacific Railway. The trip is one of the finest yet projected by the Association.

CATTLE PLAGUE.—A plague has broken out among the cattle in Manitoba and the North-West which is thought to be the fatal disease known as "black quarter" or "quarter evil." Stringent measures are being taken to prevent its spread. The "black quarter" does not spread by contagion, but it is attended by the development of a blood poison which is destructive to man and the lower animals.

ANOTHER SCENE IN THE COMMONS.—In the House of Commons on the 17th inst., the Speaker having expunged from the notice paper the portion of O'Donnell's further question concerning LeTour, O'Donnell endeavored to put the question in its original form. He said he desired to bring the Speaker's action before the House, and the Speaker threatened other steps if he persisted. O'Donnell, after an exciting scene, declined to put the question, and quitted the House.

Diocese of Ontario.

KINGSTON, June 16, 1880.
Amongst the delegates appointed to the Provincial Synod were Rev. J. W. Burke, Mr. E. J. Sison, substitute. The Mission Board contains the name of Rev. J. W. Burke. The Auditors' report created a very animated discussion, during which it appeared that Dr. Parnell, the Clerical Secretary was a defaulter. The following report will show the nature of the case: Mr. Mathison asked the Clerical Secretary if he had prepared certain statements which he had been asked to do at the May meeting?

Dr. Parnell said he had been so busy that he had not had time.
Mr. Mathison said he had got an answer. He then proceeded to state that the Clerical Secretary was a defaulter to the Synod on the Warwick mortgages to the extent of $3,400. That was a damaging statement to make. The Clergy Trust Fund Committee had asked for an explanation from the Secretary, but he had treated their request with contempt.

Rev. Mr. Lewis also made a financial statement, which was somewhat similar to that of Mr. Mathison.
Mr. McMullen said the Secretary's own figures and those of the bank showed the deficiency of $3,400. The fact was the Secretary had no defence.

Dr. Parnell said that at a conference of the clergy he had stated that he wished an examination into these accounts by professional auditors.
Judge Macdonald said he only wished Dr. Parnell to do what an honest man would do. He had been asked to make an explanation, but this he had not done. They did not mind so much for the present, but they were bound to look out for the future of the Church in this Diocese. (Applause.) The Secretary was very much mistaken if he thought the Synod would permit another audit.

The appointment of Clerical Secretary was then made.
Rev. Messrs. W. W. Kirkpatrick, Dr. Parnell, Christie, Spencer, and Carey, were nominated. Rev. Mr. Spencer received the highest number of votes.

On Thursday forenoon the various standing committees were appointed. The report of the Clergy Trust Committee was presented, and discussed at some length; the following is a synopsis: Capital, $262,680.69; total income, $14,760.69; cheques, $14,370.87; expenses, $380. In consequence of Dr. Boswell's death, the two senior clergymen next in order were placed on the list.

MONTREAL, June 16.
The afternoon session was principally occupied in reading and discussing the reports of the Montreal and Ottawa Ladies' Colleges. Both institutions are represented as being in a prosperous condition. The various Standing Committees were appointed. Amongst the Committee "On the State of Religion," we observe the name of Rev. D. Mitchell, of Belleville.

In the evening session, the report of the Committee on the Aged and Infirm Minister's Fund was read and discussed, and the report of the Committee on the Sustentation Fund was read and considered. The object of this fund is to secure to all the members of the Church a minimum of not less than $750 per annum under certain regulations.

At the forenoon session of Thursday, the 17th inst., the report of the Committee appointed to classify the returns of remits by Presbyteries was considered, and a portion of the report of the Committee on Manitoba College was submitted. A series of resolutions with regard to the acquisition of lands in the North-West were submitted.

Correspondence.

Whilst correspondents will be accorded space for the expression of their ideas on topics of public interest, it must be in all cases understood that the views so expressed are simply those of the correspondents themselves.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

John Street Sidewalk, &c.

DEAR SIR:—A sincere desire to give honest merit its due, prompts me to remind our citizens, particularly those on Taylor's Hill, of their indebtedness to our efficient Street Surveyor.

Until a few days ago the sides of John Street, between Hotel and Queen Streets, were unencumbered by those venerable symbols of the mutability and decay of man's works—sidewalks. Our Street Surveyor, however, prompted by the desire to stone for our want of a park by the embellishment of some thoroughfare, tore up the sidewalks to make room for the proposed structures. The design, however, of the new erections are appropriate, ingenious and unique. It seemed advisable that the aesthetic taste of the people should not be pained by a too violent contrast between the noble pile of stately buildings that adorns John Street to the north of Hotel and the approach that leads thereto, and so carefully has this idea been carried out that the most sensitive eye could not detect contentment contemplate those alterations of Darwin's theory even beneath the glare of the noon-day sun—provided only they come via John Street. Did the new erections possess no other virtue than this, simply would they repay the outlay; but when we find that they are not only beautifully appropriate but instructive and useful in the highest degree, our wonder transcends all bounds. On one side of the Street the scenery is inspired, and delighted with the vivid portrayal of a scene from Bunyan's sublime allegory—the hill of difficulty—while on the other side the light hearted school children are astounded at the wonderfully accurate representation of the Motherhood and cease to wonder that Mark Twain preferred to ascend it by telescope. Antiquarians too must view with interest the collection of curiosities which the casual observer, judging only from their venerable appearance, would say had done good service as street crossings long ere Noah first saw the light.

A thoughtful man cannot fail to be impressed with the variety of advantages which these elegant structures afford. Timid mothers whose small boys make the maternal heart heavy by their climbing feats, need worry no more, they have only to send them to John Street and then they can rest in peace, for the little fellows can step down on the trees instead of climbing up. The saving of expense in keeping up fences, which in the future will be unnecessary, will also be a great relief to the inhabitants along this forest street.

Brokers' enable that they will be relieved by the addition to their bill in consequence of keeping a light burning all day, as is necessary by the new erections, which in the garb though not in the likeness of a sidewalk overshadow the houses. This idea, however, is a mark of a narrow contracted mind, for a more comprehensive view will at once show that the saving of fuel in winter in consequence of the new protection will more than counterbalance any slight increase in the matter of light.

Besides our gas bills are so reasonable and so utterly unaffected by such remote contingencies as the amount of gas consumed, that no man of any experience or wisdom would waste time grumbling about them. The new sidewalks, if navigation of the proper technical term to describe these erections will excuse the word, will also undoubtedly prove a source of great comfort and profit to the owners of houses and lawns for the very good reason that cattle that browse along our streets will find a cool, shady pasture beneath their protecting roofs. The roofs just mentioned would form a most attractive and secure site for a colony of birds' nests, where, safe from the hands of the small boy and the arms of the sportsman, the feathered songsters might be reared in peace; but unfortunately the rarity of the atmosphere at such a height renders it impossible for life to exist, thus presenting the only defect in a scheme in all other respects of harmonious perfection.

It is needless to enumerate the manifold advantages which, like the preceding, are apparent to the most casual observer. With the perversion characteristic of human nature, however, the residents of John Street are ungrateful for the bonus they have received, so these few lines have been written not in anger but in gentle remonstrance, to awaken them to a proper appreciation of their blessings, and a fitting sense of gratitude and respect to their ingenious benefactor.

THE PROVIDENCE RACE.

The Winners.

HANLAN HAS A STITCH IN HIS SIDE.

HE WENT BITTERLY.

TORONTO, June 18.—In the race yesterday at Providence, the Mail says—Rosa was first, Riley 2nd, 30 seconds behind; Rose 3rd, 30 seconds behind; Gaudaur 4th; Plaiated 5th. Boyd did not finish. Gaudaur would have done better, but fouled on the way home. Hanlan, it says, got a stitch in his side at the two mile post and that was the thing that day he rowed Riley and lost a plaster until day or two ago. He says the rapid changes from Canada to a Southern latitude and back again had something to do with it.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 18.—When Hanlan returned to the boat house he went bitterly over his defeat. After the race with Courtney he made a mistake one night and wrenched his side. The next morning he put a plaster upon the place. It got better and on the morning of the 17th with Riley the plaster was removed. He had not felt any pain since until yesterday. The amount which changed hands in the pools here at both races was not less than $25,000.

The word was given to the contestants at 5:27 p.m. Hanlan started off with the lead, closely followed by Boyd. Riley held third place with Lee, Rose, Plaiated and Ten Eyck following. This was the position at the end of the first half mile, and the race was now the finest ever seen in America. Rosa soon crept up and finally passed Boyd and obtained second place, while Riley also forged ahead of Boyd. At the end of the first mile Hanlan was first, Rose second, and Riley third. On the next half mile Plaiated passed Riley, Rose and Boyd, and went on after Hanlan at a rattling pace, rowing 40 strokes to the minute. Plaiated's great power for rowing were now shown. He started repeatedly and finally passed Hanlan. This gave him the lead and he went on to the finish with a most brilliant start. Hanlan, however, weakened at this point, and Plaiated rounded the stake boat first, with Hanlan closely following and Boyd third. Boyd had apparently got his wind and drew ahead of Plaiated, who was, however, rowing finely. At the end of the third mile Hanlan was leading, with Boyd second, and Riley third. Hanlan, however, weakened at this point, and Rose came up with a strong, powerful stroke. He drew past Plaiated and Boyd, and went on to the front amid the wildest excitement. Riley also seemed to recover, and drew past both Hanlan and Boyd, and took second place. As they came to the finish the spectators appeared bewildered. Rosa was ahead, with Riley following—both had crossed the line and conquered the flowers of the aquatic world of both hemispheres. Rosa was declared the winner, with Riley second, and Ten Eyck third. The first man gets $5,000, the second $1,500, and the third $500.

City and Vicinity

POLICE.—One arrest was made last night. No tramps in the cells.

POSTPONED.—The meeting of the Rowing Club which was to have been held last night has been postponed until Wednesday evening next. There is important business for transaction.

ADDITION.—The following addition is to be made to the list of cheese factories in this County: Empey Hill factory, Tyeandina—Peter Gould President; Mrs. Gould, cheese maker.

STREET SUPPLIES.—The City Board of Public Works advertise for tenders for lumber and nails and for the execution of certain works. Particulars will be found in the advertisement, which appears in another column.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—Rev. J. C. Smith, B. D., formerly pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Belleville, now of Glasgow, will preach in St. Andrew's Church, on Sabbath morning, the 20th inst., service commencing at eleven o'clock.

THE DRIVE.—The tail of the saw-log drive, which is now passing down the river, is in the last water about O'Brien's bridge. The water continues at a good stage and the logs are running satisfactorily.

ACCIDENT.—An accident of a painful character befel the youngest son of Mr. John Quincey of this city, yesterday afternoon. It appears that the child in question was playing on the edge of the river, when by some means his foot came in between two logs, crushing two of his toes in such a manner as to render amputation necessary.

AS OLD OFFENDER.—The man who was arrested a few days ago on suspicion of having stolen sundry articles, and who gave his name as "John Armstrong," proves, it is said, to be an old "penitentiary bird." He has served two terms in that institution, the second of which expired about February last. The carriage rug found in his possession has been examined by a lady who believes it to be one which she lately missed. Further information will be forthcoming when the prisoner comes up on remand for trial.

ALBERT COLLEGE AND ITS AGENT.—The Belleville Enquirer says:—"A few days since we received a call from the Rev. A. Campbell, formerly pastor of the M. E. church here, now agent of Albert College, Belleville. He has been acting in this capacity for nearly a year, and is meeting with hearty sympathy and support. The plan agreed upon by the college board is to raise, if possible, $100,000 as an endowment fund, and to do this work Mr. Campbell has been selected. Brighter circuit has already raised nearly $900 towards this laudable undertaking. No better man could have been chosen than the one appointed—here understands the needs of the college thoroughly, and being an excellent financier will, with the hearty co-operation of the members of the denomination, undoubtedly succeed. The different denominational colleges of the land are doing a noble work in the cause of education, and to make them still more efficient and independent the necessity of permanent endowments are more than ever felt. We hope that the efforts of the new agent of Albert College will be crowned with perfect success."

THE GAOL.—There are but seven prisoners in goal at present—the smallest number of prisoners that have been in charge of Mr. Meyers for a length of time.

JOHN ST. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.—We understand that Rev. Prof. McLaren will occupy the pulpit of John St. Church on Sabbath next, both morning and evening.

GRAND JUNCTION.—A correspondent writing from Keene states that work on the Grand Junction at that vicinity is progressing favorably.

CRICKET.—The match between the Belleville and Cobourg Clubs was commenced at 10:30 this morning, and shortly after noon the first innings of Cobourg terminated for 33, of which Woods contributed 38.

WHITMAN THE POET.—The Ottawa Free Press says:—"Walt Whitman, the American poet and philanthropist, who is staying at present near London, Ont., where he will address the Sunday School Children Union at their picnic on Friday the 26th inst., proposes making a trip down the St. Lawrence about the middle of next month, taking the boat at Toronto. He will remain over a few days at Belleville, Kingston and Montreal, returning by way of Ottawa, where he will stay for a few days about the 1st July, on his way to the West."

FUNERAL.—The funeral of the late James H. Hamby took place this afternoon, and the respect and esteem in which deceased was held by his brethren of the Masonic order and the people of the city generally was evidenced by the very large attendance. The remains were taken to Christ Church, where the usual solemn services were held, and thence to the steamer Prince Edward, which conveyed the funeral cortege to the cemetery.

L. O. D. L. No. 2, S. H.—The Orange District Lodge of No. 2 District was held in the Orange Hall, Thomasburg, on the 16th inst., and concluded to celebrate the coming 12th of July in near Thomasburg, the district to assemble at 10 o'clock a. m. A noon dinner will be served, and the proceeds to be devoted to the parish of Roslin, and distributed to the three churches, viz., Roslin, Thomasburg, and Tweed. We trust all will give a helping hand, and that a good time will be realized. The Churchwardens are having the new shed at Tweed finished.

THE BAZAAR.—So far, the bazaar in aid of the Christ Church organ fund has been highly successful. Visitors have been numerous and a large number of sales have been made, so that the receipts are footing up well. The sales of one table last night realized $70 and other tables were well patronized. The lunch department was also well patronized, large numbers of persons taking lunch there daily. The members of the Women's Christian Association have a screen on exhibition which will be sold by auction to-morrow for the benefit of the Home for the Friendless. The bazaar will close to-morrow night.

KINGSTON REBATE.—From the News we learn that at a meeting of the Rebate Committee in that city who have charge of the Dominion Day races, it was decided that there should be three races—for first, second and third class boats. In the first class the prizes are to be $100 to first, and $30 to second, three boats to start or no race. Five second-class boats to start for three prizes of $60, $20, and $10; and five third-class boats to start for three prizes of $30, $10 and $5. The entrance fee is for first-class boats is put down at $10, second class $5, and third class $3. It is expected that at least four first-class boats will enter, including the Elia from Oswego. The Elia has entered. A fleet of second class boats is promised from Oswego. Boats are also expected from Belleville and other places. The usual course for second-class races will be sailed, with an additional distance for first class boats. The programme of the races will be published at once. It has been decided that first class boats should start at 9:30 a. m. sharp; second class at 10, and third class at 10:30, sailing to be finished by seven o'clock or no prize given. Entries can be made with the Secretary, Mr. Joseph Swift, until nine o'clock of the evening of Wednesday, the 30th inst.

APPLETON'S JOURNAL.—Appleton's Journal for July gives the second and final part of Gherullev's brilliant novelette, "Herr Drommel's Inconsistencies," and the conclusion of Appleton Morgan's "Shakespearean Myth," in which there is an examination of the several theories current as to the authorship of the Shakespearean plays, and some eminently graphic pictures of the period and the life therein. Nothing more readable has recently appeared in literature, and it is impossible not to be greatly interested in Mr. Morgan's arguments, and in the facts which he brings forward as inconsistent with the commonly accepted belief that the remarkable plays which bear Shakespeare's name were really written by him. A notable paper is an extract from advance sheets of Kossov's "Memories of my Exile," now on the eve of publication, relating to an interview between the Hungarian patriot and Louis Napoleon. There are a reply by Mr. C. H. Rockwell to Judge Morvan's recent assault on the Suez Canal Company; an article by Dean Stanley on "The Variations of the Roman Church"; a paper by James Jackson Jarves on "Modern Italian Picture Sculpture"; and a plea in behalf of women by Mrs. Oliphant. A paper called "An Adventure of the Eighteenth Century" is full of strange facts and remarkable adventures. There are a partially humorous "Plea for Musicians," an essay on "The Dramatic Persons of Spanish Comedy," reviews of the "Changing Centennial Literature" and Professor Winslow's "Presidents," and finally the "Editor's Table," the contents of the number are varied and valuable. Appleton's Journal is published monthly, at 25 cents per number, or $3.00 per annum. D. Appleton & Co., Publishers, 1, 3, & 5 Bond Street, New York.

MORNING DESPATCHES.

AMERICAN.

LANSING, Mich., June 18.—Seymour Sheller, aged 10, was shot last night by Henry Raymond, aged 9, probably fatally during a quarrel.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The famous Ambler Whistle patent case was determined in the District Equity Court by a decree for the payment of $777,000 by defendants R. M. Whipple and Thos. S. Dickinson to Ambler, with 1,475 shares in the National Gas & Iron Co., with all profits &c. The suit was brought to recover half the profits of the process invented by Ambler for producing gas from superheated and petroleum vapor.

LOUVELLE, Ky., June 18.—Mrs. Florence S. Martin and Senator Vance, of North Carolina, were married in Orlham Co., Ky., last evening. The bride is the widow of John Martin, poor merchant.

BARTIMORE, June 18.—Miss Louisa Brasco, aged 38, while attempting to light the gas in her bath room late last night, set fire to her night dress and was fatally burned.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The Herald's Pittsburgh says at an important conference of the leading Tilden Democrats of Pennsylvania last night, the feeling was manifest over the rumor that Tilden favors Payne for second choice. The Pennsylvania leaders decided to favor Randall if Tilden withdraws.

CINCINNATI SPECIALS.—The Times says there has never been held in this country a political convention of such magnitude, in reference to which there was so much uncertainty.

The Tribune says there are no external signs whatever of the Tilden canvass. The friends of Field are openly at work. August Belmont has hired at a fabulous price a house opposite the Grand Hotel to be fitted up as Bayard's headquarters.

The World says it is claimed that Field will start off with 150 to 140 votes. The Payne men are also confident. Bayard's friends claim 160 votes at the start. The feeling is that if the nomination was offered to Seymour it would not be rejected. If this should become the opinion of the Convention, Seymour is likely to be the nominee. All the other candidates are afraid of him.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Miss McGrath, a passenger on a steamer from Long Branch yesterday, complained that she was sea sick and suddenly expired. She was an invalid.

Ashley & Bailey, silk manufacturers of Paterson, whose mill was severely damaged by Sunday's storm, have failed. Liabilities $120,000; assets $9,000.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Geo. W. Mason, a prominent citizen of Lebanon, N. J., who disappeared recently, and who it was feared had been murdered, it is now discovered eloped with his wife's sister.

Arrived, the Baltic, from Queenstown; the Maine, from Bremen; the State of Florida, from Glasgow; the Somerset, from Bristol.

PARIS, June 18.—Humbert, the pardoned Communist, has confirmed with most important details the fact which successive ministers of marine indignantly denied, that the terrible tortures had been long and habitually inflicted on convicts in New Caledonia.

ATHENS, June 18.—The leading inhabitants of Janina and surrounding districts have sent to the foreign ambassadors at Constantinople a protest accusing the Porte of sending to Janina brigand chiefs, who, joined by Turkish officers, assemble in the mosques trying to induce the native Ottomans with sentiments favorable to the Porte.

They also constantly collect in Janina irregular Alban forces under the command of brigand chiefs, dispersing them throughout the province ostensibly to combat the brigands, but really to occupy important positions in Epirus, thus raising obstacles to the execution of the decisions of the Berlin Conference. The petition earnestly entreats the speedy solution of the Greek question to avert bloodshed, as the conduct of the Porte renders a collision inevitable.

MONTREAL, June 18.—In consequence of closing the port of Buenos Ayres, steamers are unloading here all cargoes intended for the Argentine Republic.

ALEXANDRIA, June 18.—The Khedive and the Government are deeply hurt at Italy giving protection to Chahin Pasha.

LONDON, June 18.—The eldest son of the Prince of Wales, in his 17th year, is to enter the Royal Military Academy and will receive, when qualified, active commission in the army.

A motion will be introduced in the Commons shortly, that the erection of the Napoleon memorial in Westminster Abbey would be inconsistent with the national character of the English people and calculated to impair the friendly relations with France.

WEATHER REPORTS.—TOLEDO, June 18.—Probabilities for the next twenty-four hours: For the lower lakes, St. Lawrence Gulf and Maritime provinces: light to moderate winds, and continued fine warm weather.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Indications: lower lakes, clear or partly cloudy, stationary or higher temperature, to-morrow the same.

A LOSING JOKE.—A prominent physician of Pittsburgh, and jokingly to a lady patient who was complaining of her continued ill health, and of her inability to cure her, "try my Bitters." The lady took it in earnest and used the Bitters, from which she obtained permanent health. She now looks at the bottle for her joke, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good patient.

"TANTRERY," the newest wonder for whitening the teeth, delightfully refreshing to the palate, "It is to be a friend to the piquet, irresistible, popular, Dandified of the day."

This salve is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every case, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Jas. Clark & Co.

—Tenders closed on the 16th inst., for the supercargo of the Welland Canal Bridge, to be constructed to be a canal to bridge $300,000.

One Way to Economize.

Many a poor man, if required to account for the manner in which he has expended his income, would find bills of his family physician for "medical services" among the leading items. In seven cases out of ten, acute diseases are the result of some chronic disease. Thus, fever invariably results from diseased conditions of the blood and liver, and a timely use of alterative, or blood purifying, and cathartic remedies would have averted the prostrating illness, that often leaves the system irreparably injured. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pills are the best alterative and cathartic medicines yet compounded. Full directions are given for administering them, together with an accurate description of the symptoms demanding their use. They will cure all human life (as soon as chronic diseases are adverted to), but they will cure the diseases for which they are compounded and recommended.

A Wonderful Discovery.

For the speedy cure of consumption and all diseases that lead to it, such as stubborn Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Asthma, pain in the side and chest, dry hacking cough, tickling in the throat, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, and all chronic or lingering diseases of the throat and lungs, Dr. KIDNEY'S NEW DISCOVERY has no equal and has established for itself a world wide reputation. Many leading physicians recommend and use it in their practice. The formula from which it is prepared is highly recommended by all medical journals. The story of the press have complimented it in the most glowing terms. Go to your druggist and get a trial bottle free of cost or a regular size for $1.00. For sale by JAS. CLARK & Co.

DIED.

City and Vicinity.

POLICE.—Two arrests were made last night—one at the Grand Trunk.

TO-MORROW.—Rev. J. C. Smith, B.D. formerly pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Belleville, now of Guelph, will preach in St. Andrew's Church to-morrow forenoon.

THE DRIVE.—Messrs. Gilmour & Rathbun's saw logs, over 80,000 pieces in all, are now running down the Crow and Trent rivers.

HANLAN IS WILLING.—Hanlan has telegraphed that he would be willing to enter a contest with Courtney and Riley at Alexandria on July 4th but that Boyd must be invited too.

PROFICUE.—Mr. W. H. Malburn exhibits a stalk of rye, grown from a single grain, which contains 83 stalks, only one head. It was grown on his farm, lot 17, in the 5th concession of Township.

FIRE.—Mr. Jacob Pashley, of Thurlow, was seized with a fit on the market this morning. He was promptly attended to and recovered in a short time, though the seizure was a severe one.

DROWNED.—Willie White, son of William White of the village of Tweed, was drowned at 4:30 yesterday at the foot of the slide in that place. His funeral will take place to-morrow.

THE CHURCHES.—Rev. J. A. Smith, B.D., of Guelph, will preach in St. Andrew's Church to-morrow, and Rev. Prof. McLaren, of Toronto, will preach in the John Street Church to-morrow. These Rev. gentlemen are well known in town as formerly pastors of the churches in which they will officiate to-morrow.

BILLS IN NEWSPAPERS.—According to instructions from the Post Office Department, handbills enclosed in newspapers hereafter will subject the newspapers to 3 cents extra postage. This is a rule that should be obeyed. Numbers of newspapers have heretofore defied the law, but under this regulation the offenders against it will all be placed on a fair footing.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CENTENARY.—We learn that at a meeting of the officers of the Evangelical Alliance, and Superintendents of Sabbath Schools in the city, it was resolved to celebrate the Centenary of Sunday Sunday Schools. Part of the celebration will be a monster picnic of all the Sunday Schools of the city at Massena Point, on probably—Wednesday, the 30th inst.

CRICKET.—All who visited the cricket ground yesterday were pleased with the conduct of the Cobourg cricketers. Umpire decisions are quite frequently objected to by batsmen, but the Cobourg men submitted in all cases without even an attempt at dispute. The local club also accomplished their object.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.—The Kingston Why was "Joseph Totten, a pensioner and employee of the K. & P. R. R. was working at loading ballast at Harrowville. The cars being under motion and uncoupled he fell through between them, the brake catching him at the back of the head, doubling him up, injuring him very severely, breaking his spinal column and four ribs, and crushing him terribly. Dr. Day, who attended him, has very small hopes of his recovery."

YACHTING NOTES.—The keel-yacht which Outbark has built for Mr. George D. Nicol, of Toronto, will be launched within a few days. The "Mail" calls the "Judge" formerly of Picton, a "fast racing yacht." The "Jett" may be considered fast among the antiquated "boxers" which do duty as second class yachts in Toronto, or she would do well to sail against Hamilton, but as compared with craft of her size and style in these waters, such as the "Katie Gray," "Kathleen and Grace" of Belleville, the "Surprise" of Trenton, and the "Emma of Kingston," she is the veriest slow coach.

To illustrate this it may be said that she was beaten 11 minutes and 16 seconds on the first round of the course (10 miles) at the fall regatta here last year, and will have been at least five minutes further behind had not the "Katie Gray's" sailing master mistaken the position of a buoy off the south shore.

VISITORS.—An excursion party composed of members and friends of the Mount Carmel Church at the Stone Mills came to this city this morning per steamer Arctica.

They returned home this afternoon.

A FINE FISH.—Last evening Captain Jollett of the steamer Prince Edward, received from a friend a salmon which weighed forty pounds. It was caught in the Restigouche, and is an excellent sample of the fishy tribe.

THE BAND.—The "Odeffolles" band played on the hospital lot last night, and performed a number of selections in a style which greatly pleased the large audience who assembled to hear them. A new waltz "Sounds from the North," was particularly admired.

Cricket.

Belleville vs. Cobourg.

The first match of the season was commenced between the above Clubs on the Belleville ground yesterday morning at 10:30. The teams presented were fairly representative of each Club, and some very fair cricket was shown. Cobourg went to bat against the bowling of Pedin and Thomas, the former at the north and the other at the south end. Hayden and Kennedy were the first batters, and when the score had reached 5 the former was caught by Maybee—a very sharply taken catch. After a bye had been run, Kennedy was caught by Kemp. Nelles and Armour added a few to the score, and the former was caught by Jenkins—3 wickets for 9 runs. Armour, who was then partnered by Wood, scored a 3. These two got well in and gave the fielders some lively leather hunting until, Armour, who had made 17, retired before a shooter from Thomas. Four wickets for 32. Oaler was in next, and runs came rather slowly, the fielding being sharp, and the score was run up to 75, when Oaler retired for 3, being bowled by Pedin. Woods went out a few moments later, caught and bowled Thomas. His score was 38 and was made in good style. Six wickets for 75 runs. Lawless, next in, was bowled by Pedin for 3. Salisbury, next man, was then caught for 3. Stanton, who followed, was caught out on the first ball by Maybee. King was next bowled by Pedin. All out for 83.

For the home team Messrs. Dean and Frossell presented themselves, but the latter was soon bowled by Kennedy. Maybee supplied his place, and after adding three gave way to Thomas, who was bowled by Kennedy, after contributing eight to the score. Dean made eleven and was bowled by Armour. Clarke was bowled for an 9, being bowled by Pedin. Thus far the score stood 37 runs for 5 wickets. Jenkins and Corby made a stand but added little to the score. Jenkins was the first to quit the scene as he was caught out on the fly. Corby made the best hit of the day, after being joined by Pedin, as he drove the ball from the north end down near the fence at the bay and received the applause of the onlookers therefor. Pedin was cleverly caught by Ginn, and added nothing to the total. Wood caught Corby with a ball, and Kemp, who supplied his place, fell a victim to Salisbury. Reeves was bowled by Kennedy, and the innings closed for 50 runs.

After a brief intermission, Hayden and Gunn went to the wicket, the former of whom was bowled by Thomas for an 0. Gunn was the victim of Clarke's dexterity, who cleverly stumped him. Kennedy's balls fell their usual position before one of Thomas' balls and Nelles took his place, but was soon given out before wicket. Oaler went in only to be bowled and caught by Pedin. Salisbury filled the blank, whilst the score stood at fourteen for five wickets. Armour was caught by Clarke and Woods took his place only to retire from Thomas' delivery. Lawless filled the gap and went on a riotous run, but was bowled by Pedin. Kemp went in and Pedin took his stumps. Stanton was the last man in and out, as he was caught by Pedin, the score standing at 20.

A short lapse intervened, when Clarke and Wallbridge took the wicket. The latter shortly after followed with a similar addition, which was soon supplemented by three wickets. The policy of Pedin was to bowl himself, as it was fast becoming apparent that the home team would win and as the match would be called at 4:45 it was to the interest of the visitors to conserve as much time as possible. Wallbridge was the first victim, when the tally stood nine, and Kemp took his place. Clarke was bowled by Woods and Kennedy went to bat. Kemp scored one run and was bowled by Dean. Dean went in and run getting became the order of the day, resulting in Armour being substituted for Kennedy and he bowled Jenkins soon after. Dean was caught and Corby went in and out. Thomas came to the front and went out on the first ball. Pedin followed, and he and Maybee filled the bill as the 48 requisite for winning was recorded, and thus ended the game.

Three hearty cheers were given for the visitors, who then departed for home.

Madoc Notes.

Edward McQuellon, who lives about one mile east of Bannockburn, left his three children alone while he and his hired man went to feed some fat hogs a short distance from the house. He had heard the report of a rifle, which had been left lying carelessly on the bed, and the children in playing with it, the youngest one discharged it, shooting himself and died in a few minutes. The father, who was at the house, worked the new M. E. Church, which is to be an imposing structure of brick and stone.

The R. C. Church people are to have a grand bazaar, to be the first day, in aid of the new church which they intend to build here.

There is little doing in Iron just now, but it is expected that it will be in a very short time. No new discoveries.

FATAL GUN ACCIDENT.—A despatch from Madoc, June 18th, says: "A fatal shooting accident occurred yesterday morning at Bannockburn, when a man, while about nine miles north of here. From the particulars received it appears that two young children named McQuellon were playing alone in a room in which was a loaded gun lying on the bed. One of them, while playing with the gun, attempted to drag it off the bed, holding it by the muzzle, when from some reason the weapon discharged. The contents entered the child's body near the heart, killing it almost instantly."

One Way to Economy.

Many a poor man, if required to account for the manner in which he has expended his income, would find bills of his family physician for "medical services" among the leading items. To seven cases out of ten, acute diseases are the result of some chronic disease. Thus, fevers, inflammations, rheumatism, conditions of the blood and liver, and a timely use of alterative, or blood purifying, and cathartic remedies, would have averted the serious illness, that often leaves the system irreparably injured. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and the cathartic, Purgative Pills are the best alterative and cathartic medicines yet compounded. Full directions are given for their use, and together with an accurate description of the symptoms demanding their use. They will not cure all diseases, but they will cure the diseases for which they are compounded and recommended.

The Commissions.

The Opposition press are making a great fun about the Dominion Government appointing Commissions to enquire into the best means of effecting Civil Service reform and the administration of the Pacific Railway. This method of dealing with these important questions does not please the Grit press, who profess to see any amount of jobbery and corruption in connection with these Commissions. But their real hostility to the wise policy of the Government is based upon the fact that the Commissions will investigate into the five years' administration of the late Government, and their fear of the developments of the transactions which occurred in connection with the Civil Service and Pacific Railway during their term of office. They are afraid of the disclosures which will be made by the thorough investigations which will take place. They would prefer to let the matter go on for another five years, in the hope that the corruption and jobbery and utter abandonment of their professed principles, during that period would be buried in oblivion. But they have counted without their host. The Commissions will do good, not merely in exposing the hollowities of Grit professions, and unearthing the corruption that existed under their administration, but in suggesting measures for the improvement of the Civil Service, and in making a searching enquiry into all matters connected with the past and future development of the Pacific Railway.

It is somewhat amusing to see the Globe express itself in the following manner in relation to the appointment of the Commissions, when the record of the Mowat Government upon the same subject is considered.

The Globe says: "Parliament may as well cease to meet and delegate all its power of inquiry into public questions to Commissions, and possibly meet once now and then to satisfy their consciences."

The London Free Press says: "Probably Mr. Mowat had something of this kind in view when he appointed so many Commissions last season. These Commissions were quite numerous, as will be seen by the following list:

"The Central Committee Commission, the Examination of the Commission, the Commission on the Central Railway, the Commission on the Scott Timber (Peterson), and the Agricultural Commission."

According to the Globe's argument, the Mowat Government must be about to abdicate its functions.

A COMPARISON.—Recent estimates of the Canadian possessions place the number of acres suitable for agriculture and stock raising, beyond Manitoba, east of the Rocky Mountains, and north of the American boundary, at more than 150,000,000.

It is the estimate of Professor Macoun, whose figures are accepted as trustworthy by the Toronto Globe. By way of comparison, it may be stated that the whole of England comprises but 37,000,000 acres.

THE POSTMASTER GENERAL.—The Times of the 19th inst. says: "For some weeks various journals have been busily employed shelling the Hon. John O'Connor, Postmaster General, conferring a judgment in Manitoba upon him, and afterwards discussing the political situation in the County of Russell. We are in a position to state positively that the Hon. gentleman has no intention, and never had any intention, of vacating his department or the county he represents."

AN IMPORTANT WILL CASE.—A Toronto report says: "An important will case, involving $40,000 of property, was up in the Court of Chancery yesterday. The plaintiffs were seeking to establish the will of Mr. Bell, a solicitor who died last November. It appears that for many years before his death he lived separately from his family, and for the last twelve with a woman by whom he had three children. The bulk of his property was family property, which he could not leave away from his family, but he left nearly all of this to a brother, and nephews and nieces, and away from his own legitimate children. They consequently threatened the will on the ground that he was not sane when he made it. Medical and other evidence so far has not been favorable to sanity, but this trial is not concluded."

A TERRIBLE WINTER.—While Canada enjoyed a mild winter in 1879-80, Central Asia was visited with an unusual degree of cold. In the district of Turkestan, out of 860,000 head of cattle only 50,000 survived the winter. In the town of Turkestan, the price of corn has risen 400 per cent, and that of hay 500 per cent. The famishing Kirghises sold their horses for a few rubles, having no means of feeding them. It is reported from Semipalatinsk that in the Panigard district 1,000 camels, 6,000 head of cattle, 20,000 horses and 51,000 sheep have perished during the winter. In another district 200,000 sheep perished at once in a snow storm. Similar losses are reported from all parts of Turkestan. The oldest people of the country declare they never experienced so terrible a winter.

Malaya and Death.

The hot weather is upon us, and although the Board of Health have published their usual Spring Notices, telling the people what to do, and much the customary threats of what would be done if the people did not obey their orders, there are numbers of places that have never been visited by the members of the Board—there are hot-beds of disease all over the City, which unless something be done to destroy them, the pestiferous influence will spread forth their noxious exhalations, producing wide-spread disease and death.

The Board of Health are clothed with arbitrary powers. They have rules and regulations ready-made for them, which if properly promulgated and enforced, would make this the healthiest spot in Ontario, whereas statistics show that the death rate of Belleville is about the highest in the land. Now, what the Board should have done was, first, to have had these Sanitary Rules and Regulations published, and a copy put into the hands of every household in the City—then publish the fact accompanied with their instructions in the City papers, and after the time of which they have given notice had been, order a thorough inspection of all the privies, cesspools, yards and lanes, and direct that those who have not complied with the law be punished as the law directs, and take such steps to have the sanitary regulations carried out as the law provides for. The mere issuing of a formal notice that unless all parties have their premises cleaned within a certain period they will be prosecuted according to law, and then allowing the matter to drop, is a perfect farce. Something more is required, and that is to see that the threat contained in these notices is promptly executed. It is a fact that probably one-half or two-thirds of the people comply with the requirements of the law, while the remainder neglect them. Officious householders on one street fifteen may have had their yards and privies thoroughly cleaned and purified, while five scattered elsewhere have done nothing. And as a consequence of this neglect fevers are nourished, pestilence becomes epidemic, and Death on his white horse rides triumphant through that street, carrying his terrors into the houses of the just as well as the unjust.

It is safe to say that one-third of the sick and death which occur in Belleville would not take place if the wise regulations of the Dominion Board of Health were properly enforced. The City Board of Health has been specially appointed to attend to this matter—they are clothed with all necessary authority—they have accepted the trust committed to their hands, and the people—those at least who regularly comply with the requirements of the law—expect that the members of the Board will do their duty faithfully, without fear, favor or affection.

Resignation of M. Masson.

The Mail of to-day says: "Owing to continued ill-health M. Masson has been at length compelled to retire from the Government; and on Saturday he handed in his resignation to the Governor General at Quebec. M. Masson's retirement is a loss to the country. A public man of great ability and unblemished reputation, he had before him a long career of public usefulness; but it has been willfully otherwise. We are sure that members on both sides of the House will sympathize with the hon. gentleman, and wish him a speedy recovery with an early return to that active political life which he has adorned for many years."

SHOW ME YOUR COMPANY, &c.—The Journal of Commerce of the 18th has the following: "A lively little limb of the law, hailing from Belleville, Ont., whose services were in frequent request, this city during the latter months of the late Insolvent Act, arrived in town last Monday accompanied by a well-to-do retailer of that city, one of the few in his line who has passed the five years' ordeal unscathed. The quid nunc were soon apprised of the circumstance and the Mercantile Agency men were on the alert running about wildly and making for information about 'Ankey' Mac, of Belleville. Matters were not improved when one of the 'Agency' men called at a wholesale jewellery house and discovered the supposed unfortunate in conference with one of the firm. All parties concerned enjoyed the joke, and none less than our legal friend, whose good humor was wreathed in the broadest smiles during the remainder of the day."

INCIDENTS OF THE STONINGTON DISASTER.—One of the clerks of the Stonington tells an amusing story about one of the survivors who, being unprovided with a life preserver, flung two chairs overboard, and followed with his valise and umbrella. He picked up a board, which he placed between the chairs and seated himself upon it. When it began to rain the prudent voyager heisted his umbrella. Another man, a commercial traveller from Boston, had nothing to cover his nakedness but a very small undershirt and a high hat. When a board with a lady came up, he was too modest to be seen, but he plumped down under the side asked them to see to women first. He finally got among a boat load of men. The plugs were out and the boat full of water, so that the luckless 'drummer' was fain to use his cherished hat for bailing. A third individual in a night shirt was seen using his high hat as a paddle to propel the mattress to which he was clinging.

ENGINEERS IN CAMP.—The Montreal Engineers, to the number of sixty, leave that city next Wednesday evening by train to go into camp at Kingston, and some 75 men of the Toronto Engineers, under the command of Col. Sabel, arrive there on the 25th for the same purpose. They will remain a week or more, and while there will be a competition between them in their various maneuvers.

REDUCED CABLE RATES.—It is announced that the French Cable Company have reduced their rates to Great Britain, Ireland and France to 37 1/2 cents per word, the old rate being 50 cents. The Anglo Company are still keeping messages at 12 1/2 cents per word, but it is stated they are about a day behind hand with their messages, giving the accumulation of work.

A Cyclone in Tyendinaga.

Reports are in circulation to-day of a cyclone having swept across a portion of the Township of Tyendinaga yesterday afternoon. It is stated that much damage was done, the windows of some farm houses having been blown in, and the crops seriously injured. Authentic information could not, after diligent inquiry, be learned by representatives of the INTELLIGENCER. That a storm took place in that vicinity seems certain, however, as two thunder storms were seen to pass northward and westward of the city yesterday afternoon, at about 4 and 6:30 o'clock respectively. Since the above was written, Mr. N. Solmes, who lives on No. 5 in the 3rd concession of the Township of Richmond, has been seen and states that a terrific storm of wind and hail struck his place yesterday afternoon about 3:30. The effect of the storm was the total destruction of his crop of garden stuff on six acres of ground, and a loss of $500. Unfortunately Mr. Solmes is not the only sufferer, as his neighbor Mr. Jacob Cline had all his windows broken and others suffered similarly, besides serious damage to their crops. Such visitations are fortunately rare in this part of the country, but are none the less severely felt when they occur. These were broken off like carrots by the wind, the apples were all beaten off the trees, and the hailstones were said to be three inches in circumference.

SALE AND STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.—A sale of fancy and useful articles and a Strawberry Festival will be held in the Lecture Room of St. Andrew's Church, on Tuesday evening the 22nd inst. Proceeds for the benefit of the Sabbath School. Admission 15c.

City and Vicinity.

POLICE.—All is quiet in police circles. No arrests since Saturday night. The usual street still adorns the cells.

MILITARY.—Preparations are being proceeded with for the going into camp of the 49th Battalion. It is probable that the ranks will be well filled, although the rate of allowance is not so liberal as in previous years.

REGATTA AT GANANOQUE.—There is to be a regatta at Gananoque, on Dominion Day, when prizes will be offered for yachts under 10 tons—1st $50; 2nd $25; 3rd $10. There will be several rowing races for small prizes.

THE CHAMPION CUP.—The next contest for the 49th Battalion Championship cup will take place to-morrow instead of on Friday next, an account of the fact of the battalion's going into camp on Thursday.

STORMY.—Sundays of late have been stormy—at least for three weeks past the weather has been unusually boisterous. Yesterday was no exception to this rule of recent application, and the sky was scarcely at any time during the day free from thunder clouds, though but little rain fell in the city.

GOT A BEATING.—A simpton or semi-idiot—a boy named Albert Ross—was severely clubbed last night. He entered a private dwelling in the lower part of the city, and refusing to leave when the man of the house told him, was given a severe beating with a club.

RAILWAY NOTES.—Henry Corby, Jr., received four cars of wheat from Colborne on Friday, and during last week sent one car of wheat to Stirling, one car of corn to Madoc, and three cars of wheat to the Alma Mills. Eighteen head of fat cattle were sent to Mr. Reese of Kingston, by rail to-day.

BYE BYE.—Messrs. Ausley & Allan, of the Nanticoke fisheries, are having rather frequent visits from Lake Erie "whales." On Wednesday of last week at one haul they secured 180 sturgeon, and on Friday of the same week 135. They were rather a weighty lot, one turning the scales at 196, and another at 187 pounds. A muskellunge weighed 78 pounds.

APPOINTMENT.—The Kingston News says:—"The Rev. T. A. Parnell, D.C.L., Archdeacon of Kingston, and late Clerical Secretary of the Synod of Ontario, has been appointed by the Bishop to the vacant Rectory of Kempsville, previously held by the late Rev. John Stannard. Dr. Parnell's successor in the Clerical Secretaryship is curate of Kempsville, a position which he will resign."

MACDONALD.—At the regular monthly review of Prince Albert Tent No. 117 of the Macabees, held on Wednesday, 16th inst., the following officers were elected:—Rev. Dr. Clark, Past or Sir Knight Commander; J. B. Patterson, ex-Sir Knight Commander; L. Newbery, Prelate; Thomas Linklater, Finance keeper; J. Minto, Sergeant; W. F. Sanford, Recorder; P. Cook, 1st Master of Guards; J. A. Mays, 2d Master of Guards; W. Way, Sentinel; O. H. Ham, Picket. This benevolent institution now numbers over 800 tents. The endowment now payable at death is about $600, costing each member $3.20 per year.

PERSONAL.—Mr. F. Clarke, formerly of the Consolidated Bank, and Mr. A. D. Peterson, of the Emerson (Manitoba) Times are in the city.

LAURENCE.—The Orita and Tories of the Belleville Lacrosse Club will cross sticks in a match on Thursday afternoon. Play will commence at 3:30.

NEW POST OFFICE.—Amongst the new post offices established on the first of June, was one named Wariston, in Marmora Township, of which David Vansickle is postmaster.

JELLEY VS. ANDERSON.—In the case of Jelley vs. Anderson judgment was given to-day, granting an injunction to stop the upper ferry, as an infringement on the rights of the plaintiff.

CHICKEN.—An invitation for the Belleville Club to play at Fulton, N. Y., on the 6th of July was received here this morning. No action, however, has as yet been taken for the matter.

THE BAZAAR.—The ladies of Christ Church intend to continue the Bazaar this evening to close out the remainder of the articles. There will be music in attendance and refreshments served.

FOREPAUGH'S SHOW.—Forepaugh's great show passed over the Grand Trunk east yesterday. Three trains were required to transport it. A horse belonging to the concern died shortly before reaching Belleville and was taken from the car before the eastern switch.

RUNAWAYS.—A horse belonging to Mr. Daniel Foster, and drawing a buggy containing a son and daughter of that gentleman, became frightened yesterday evening when near the lower bridge. In its efforts to get away the horse upset the buggy, throwing out the occupants, both of whom received painful though not severe cuts, and some bruises. A horse owned by Mr. Hunter, liver keeper, also ran away yesterday, and damaged a buggy slightly.

ORCHARD GRASS.—Mr. Jos. Nightingale, of Ameliasburg, exhibited to-day a bunch of orchard grass about six feet in length, now in bloom. The seed was purchased from the store of Messrs. Jan. Clarke & Co.

The advantages of the orchard grass is that it can be cut simultaneously with clover, will stand the drouth better than the generality of grasses, and instead of leaving a stubble like timothy after cutting, an aftermath will grow up in the fall, making excellent feed for pasture. The grass is on exhibition at Clarke & Co.'s drug store.

TAKE CARE.—Complaints have frequently been made at this office that subscribers did not receive their papers regularly. Every exertion has been used to the end that the readers of the INTELLIGENCER shall receive it every evening. The fault of non-delivery is, of course, attributed to the carriers, but that the blame does not always lie on them, was exemplified on Saturday evening, when a man deliberately opened the entrance gate to a gentleman's residence on Hotel Street and picked up a paper which had been left there. The offender was detected by the carrier, and if the offence is repeated he will have cause to regret his action.

EDUCATION FROM THE DEPOT.—A car of potatoes and another of what came in this morning from the west. Twenty-one cars of cattle drawn by a "six-wheeler" passed eastward yesterday afternoon. Robert Purdon, one of the gentlemen conductors of the Grand Trunk, forsook bachelorhood to-day and entered the matrimonial state at Colborne. A large number of passengers patronized the eastward mail train to-day. Under the exertions used by Mr. Gunn, the efficient agent at this depot, the garden on the eastern side of the depot looks exceedingly neat and attractive. It would be a benefit and not an annoyance to travellers were the vacancy on the south side of the station made as large as conveniently possible at all times and a stop would be put to the grumbling that is so often indulged in by visitors there.

GLASS BALL CASTERS.—Mr. Mark Selling, representative of the Glass Cast Company, Hamilton, has shown us samples of the superior articles. They consist of Flint Glass Balls held in claws of Bell Metal, Malleable Iron, Nickel Plated, and Malleable Iron Tinned, manufactured in all sizes and shapes to suit the trade. They improve the appearance of furniture, and possess many advantages over the old style swivel casters. They are centre bearing, the weight coming directly over the balls, therefore more durable and not liable to get out of order or break the furniture, as is the case with the swivel action. They will not roll, soil or injure carpeting. The glass balls only coming in contact with the floor, and will move in any desired direction. Nervousness, Rheumatism and Stiffness are cured by rolling the feet on the glass balls with Glass Ball Casters being non-conductors, they prevent the electricity escaping from the body during the day; consequently persons afflicted with disease produced from loss of vitality, are greatly benefited and restored to health by their use. Many testimonials have been received to substantiate the above facts. For plans and organs they possess unique and valuable merits. They add materially to the sweetness and volume of tone of the instrument. Mr. J. W. Walker is the agent for these casters for Belleville and vicinity.

CANADIAN ATHLETES.—The following item, which is going the rounds of the press, has a substantial basis of truth:—"Canada is gaining fame as the home of athletes. In rowing she is prominent. In Calceonian sports she is at the top. In lacrosse she teaches the world, and in the more sensible forms of pedestrianism she is as good as the best. This fact is being recognized, and the New York Sun generally says that Canada's best is usually the world's best in the long run." When Hamlin, Warren Smith and Wallace Rose are named, it will be acknowledged that for Canadian Canada is at the top of the tree. So with Hugh McKinnon as a heavy weight athlete and E. W. Johnson as an all-round performer in Calceonian sports, there are other first class men also worthy of mention. The runners are too many to name, and in yachting Othello has built the fastest sloop on fresh water that the Sun's compliment is not out of place. The position which our country has assumed in these matters speaks highly for the breeding qualities of its climate.

MARINE NOTES.

The Union Gazette notes the expected condition of Wellington harbor and advocates the cutting of a channel through the sand beach between Lake Ontario and West Lake. "Necessarily there would have to become dredging and cribbing done in order to make a passage way through into West Lake, and possibly the depth of water when it is fully excavated, but for all purposes, but this expense would not be very great, and its advantage to Wellington it appears to us, would be incalculable."

The steamer City of Belleville is running as a ferry boat between Prescott and Ogdensburg. The steamers Alexandria and Hastings brought up large quantities of freight on Saturday.

Arrived.—Schrs. Florence and Wm. Jamieson, which, as well as the Geo. Siffert, are all loading lumber at the Kelle mill.

IMMIGRANTS.—According to calculations made, based on the number of immigrants arrived in Canada and the United States thus far this season, Canada will receive this year in proportion to its population, about twice as many emigrants as the United States.

THE CATTLE PLAGUE.—A Winnipeg despatch says:—"Veterinary Surgeon Hinman reports to the Government on the plague among the cattle. He pronounces the disease 'anthrax,' or black quarter."

PARIS, June 21.—The municipality of Paris voted 200,000 francs for the celebration of the National Fete day the 14th of July on condition that the General Government will grant 500,000 for the same purpose.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Arrived, the Arctura from Liverpool.

LONDON, June 21.—Jean Henri Strack, the well known German architect is dead, aged 74.

RICHMOND, Va., June 21.—Last night a negro named Wm. Burke in a fit of jealousy shot Pat Harris, colored, and then locked himself in the house with his wife and another woman. A parcel was knocked out of the door through which Burke's wife tried to make an exit, but her husband struck her over the head with the musket, scattering her brains. The police got in and captured the murderer. An effort was made to lynch Burke.

Yesterday Raphaela Bantua, a prisoner in the jail, increased her note the other prisoner named Jack Walter Peary, though lately on the head with a bullet.

CALCUTTA, June 21.—By allotment of the new 44 per cent loan the Government make a clear gain of 10 lacs of rupees. The news was received through the country with the liveliest satisfaction. It is generally felt a more complete answer could not have been given to allegations that Indian finance had drifted into a hopeless state.

LONDON, June 21.—Arrived, the Herder, Calcedonia, Devon, and Marango.

HATFIELD, Ct., June 21.—John and Henry Trichheim, brothers, of Cornwall, when returning home at 10 o'clock on Saturday night were fired at by unknown drunken persons. Both were fatally wounded.

CINCINNATI, June 21.—There is no such crowd here as in Chicago, nevertheless the hotels and streets are well filled. The New York delegation has accepted Tilden as its candidate for re-election, congratulating him on the act. The sentiment of the delegates as they arrive seems to favor Bayard, but with no certainty of his nomination. The friends of Hendricks rather despair with reference to his prospects and Tilden's delegates do not altogether accept either Payne or Randall's as legitimate to his claims. Hancock's friends, who are many, appear to be reserving themselves until an opportunity shall develop. Jewett has quite a following.

Following Jewett's active and well organized, Field's advocates are working hard, and methodically, to get a boom. Randolph and Groesbeck have many earnest supporters. The general situation is so mixed that nothing could be more hazardous than any prediction as to the final result.

LONDON, June 21.—It is reported that a friend of Chalmers' has sent a challenge to O'Donnell to fight. O'Donnell will not accept.

ALEXANDRIA, Pa., June 21.—An ore mine near Brimfield, caved on Saturday, burying two men. Both are dead.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Mrs. Julia Weldon, aged 48 was found dead by a neighbor. Her husband is suspected of having murdered her.

WEATHER REPORTS.

TORONTO, June 21.—Probabilities for the next twenty-four hours: for the lower lakes: fresh to brisk westerly winds, fine and continued warm weather.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Indications: lower lakes, partly cloudy, occasional rains.

A Losing Joke.

A prominent physician of Pittsburgh said jokingly to a lady patient who was complaining of her continued ill health, and of her inability to cure her, "try Hop Bitters." The lady took it, and in a few days she was cured. She now laughs at the doctor for his joke, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good patient.

"FLEASHER," the newest wonder for whitening the teeth, delightfully refreshing to the mouth. To try it is to make a friend to the pliant, irresistible, popular Dentifrice of the day.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Stings, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chills, Corns, and all kinds of Skin Eruptions. This salve is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every case or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by J. A. Clarke & Co.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you, never of course, that this remedy was discovered by a man, a clergyman in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. J. S. T. H. M. A. Station D, New York City.

False Impression.

It is generally supposed by physicians and the public generally that dyspepsia cannot be cured, but we are pleased to say that the Great American Balm has never, to our knowledge, failed to cure Dyspepsia and Liver Complaints. It is a true, such as Sour Stomach, Costiveness, Sick Headache, flatulence of the Heart, indigestion, but taste in the mouth, etc. Out of the 600,000 bottles sold last year, not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters received. Three doses will relieve any case. Sample bottles 12c. regular size 50c. For sale by J. A. Clarke & Co. and L. W. Wagon.

One Way to Economize.

Many a poor man, if required to account for the manner in which he has expended his money, would find that his family physician has been the cause of his financial ruin. In seven cases out of ten, acute diseases are the result of some chronic disease. Thus, fevers invariably result from diseased conditions of the blood and liver, and a timely use of alterative or blood purifying, and cathartic remedies would have averted the prostrating illness that often leaves the system in a state of chronic debility. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pills are the best alternative and cathartic medicines yet compounded. Full directions are given for administering them, together with an accurate description of the symptoms demanding their use. They will not cure all human ills (as some medicines are advertised to do), but they will cure the diseases for which they are compounded and recommended.

A Wonderful Discovery.

For the speedy cure of consumption and all diseases that lead to it, such as asthma, cough, neglected colds, bronchitis, Hay Fever, Asthma, whooping cough, and all other lung troubles, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best remedy. It is a powerful lung and throat medicine, and is highly recommended by all medical journals. The clergy and the press have complimented it in the most glowing terms. Go to your druggist and get a trial bottle free of cost or a regular size for $1.00 per sale by J. A. Clarke & Co.

MARRIED.

At the residence of the bride's father on Wednesday, 16th of June, 1880, by the Rev. J. L. Stuart, D.D., Presbyterian Minister of Trenton, Robert Morton, Esq. of Belleville, Ont., and Eliza A. B. Hall, daughter of George Hall, Esq. of Township of Sidney.

The Secretary announced a communication from Richmond, stating that Crowbar

Power, an honest member of the club, had sent some two weeks since with a jug in one hand and a fish pole in the other, and had been seen in the city. It was believed that the fish and jug had proven too much for him. "I don't think I have any empty," said the Secretary, "but I will turn my eyes

The Greatest Blessing.

A single drop of this remedy, that cures every time, and prevents disease by keeping the blood pure, as such regular, kidneys and bowels free from all impurities, and ever conferred upon man. Hop Bitters is that remedy, and its proprietors are being blessed by thousands of grateful patients, and are cured by it.

Will you try it? See another column.

How it is Done.

The first object in life with the American people is to 'get the second, how to regulate good health. The first can be obtained by energy, honesty and saving; the second, however, by using the Great Hop Bitters.

Should you be a dependent sufferer from any of the effects of Dyspepsia, Indigestion,

Stomach Troubles, or any of the ailments of the stomach, the Great Hop Bitters will cure

you. It is a powerful and reliable remedy

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Inactivity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excess.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Free Trade in the United States.

The Toronto Globe professes to believe that free trade doctrines are making rapid progress in the United States, but the facts about warrant such a conclusion. Now that the Democrats—the free trade party—have a majority in Congress, this ought to be the time for the exhibition of that spirit of practical hostility to the stringent protective policy which has so long and with, we may add, such satisfactory results in that country under the auspices of the Republicans. Instead of any sweeping change of policy, we find the leading Democrats offering a few small and unimportant alterations in the tariff, and most of these even have to be abandoned, because the rank and file of the party know that the people will not support any radical alteration in their tariff which will place the mechanics of the United States in direct competition with those of Europe, whose wages are lower and mode of life entirely different.

Boston, whose merchants are largely interested in favor of obtaining reciprocity with Canada, is yet not in favor of free trade, as is shown by the report of an interview with one of the most prominent business men of that city, as published in the Boston Globe—a Democratic journal—a few days ago. The gentleman interviewed is reported to have spoken as follows: No nation ever yet grew important in the great family of states whose industries were not diversified, and the protection of our industries by a tariff is more in the diversity than any other influence. We need not look beyond the boundaries of our own country for an example. During the period of low tariff laws there was a constant retrograde in our influence, in our financial position and in our property at home, until at last it reached the point of the greatest disaster the country has ever seen, when throughout its length and breadth specie payments were absolutely suspended and confidence broken in the whole mercantile, industrial and commercial community.

Look at the example of Turkey as contrasted with that of Russia. Thirty years ago a diversity of industries were springing up in the land of the Sultan, but she as persistently pursued the system of free trade, and her mechanics and artisans could not compete with the labor and the conditions of manufacture in other nations, and she has been impoverished and made bankrupt by her free trade policy. England, who has her borders there is hardly an important industry now known, have the manufacture of rug, all the rest having been absolutely wiped out under the influence of her free trade system. Russia, on the other hand, has a tariff so great as not to protect her own industries, but absolutely prohibit the introduction of foreign goods of many classes, and today, such is the condition of her manufacturers, coupled with her agricultural interests, that if her government were such as to permit it she would be the most important, the most prosperous and the most powerful nation of Europe.

Take the case of France. Her policy has always been to have a high tariff, and to-day her people are more prosperous and happier than those of any other nation in Europe, while it is only necessary to point to her great achievement, the peace and German indemnity, to show that her government is strengthened by the same influence which makes her people flourish.

And now take the condition of the English people and when I speak of the people I mean the common people—those who give to a country its wealth—the bones, the sinews, the life-blood of a nation. England, who has made her free-trade policy possible because of her long-continued, almost prohibitory tariff, which gave impetus to the inventive genius of her sons; compelled them to produce fabrics they wore and the machinery with which to make them, until she became the greatest of all nations in this one feature of diversified employment.

When she adopted the other extreme, the importation of nearly all articles free of duty, her internal prosperity and the progress of her people received a serious check. To-day they work for such wages as would be insufficient to maintain a family in New England countries, and thousands of her subjects leave her shores every month to seek homes in America, where, because of our tariff laws, wages are better, the process of gaining a livelihood easier, and civilization of a higher and higher type. It is acknowledged there is fault in the tariff, but must be from the very nature of the circumstances under which our tariff laws were formed. They were made piecemeal, or by patchwork, without any systematic study and thorough investigation of the requirements of the country. It is difficult subject to grasp. One cannot decide even for himself, sitting at his desk as I am now, what tariff would be most just in a single individual case. The desired result can only be obtained by thorough discussion.

It seems to me that we should have a tariff sufficient to meet the demands for revenue, incidentally protecting, encouraging and fostering all our important industries, but graded no higher than is necessary to meet these requirements. When we protect the interests of the wage-earner by taxing to them fair remuneration for their labor with the privileges of civilized communities, capital need have no fear for the tariff. Set the wheels of machinery in motion, give to our streets the air of life; do not the utmost to enhance the interests of our husbands; make the condition of our workmen and women the best possible, and we will surely move on to influence and greatness in the great family of nations and make rapid and continuous strides in our internal prosperity.

These views of a prominent man certainly do not indicate that any reduction in the rate of their tariff is to be expected from our neighbors, whose altitudes has never been successfully called in question, whatever may be the result of an agitation in favor of reciprocity with Canada, of which, however, the prospect is very doubtful.

Our Toronto contemporary has also been felicitating itself on the assumption that, no matter whether the Republican or the Democratic candidate for President be elected, a free trader will be chosen. This idea was based on the fact that Mr. Garfield, the Republican nominee, had been created an honorary member of the Cobden Club of England—a prominent organization for the promotion of the principle of free trade—but the idea is quite as illusory as that other from the same source to which allusion is made above. In the United States House of Representatives the following discussion recently took place on this point:

"Don't you know that Garfield is a member of the Cobden Club?" exclaimed Mr. Cox.

The Democrats applauded and cries of "No, no," were heard from among the Republicans.

Mr. Carlisle asked permission to read an extract from the report of the Cobden Club of 1870, and repeated by him again in 1870. In this speech he said: "I am for protection which leads to ultimate free trade. I am for free trade which can only be achieved through a reasonable protection." The Republicans cheered to the echo these sentiments.

General Garfield explains in a letter published last December that he had supported every tariff bill proposed by the Republican party during his occupancy of a seat in Congress, which of course, were none of them in the direction of free trade, and further stated that he was in no wise responsible for the beliefs of the Cobden Club. The Toronto organ of the Opposition has therefore not been happy in its efforts to gauge public opinion in the United States, neither has it fairly or acceptably represented the position which the Presidential nominee of the Republican party has assumed on the trade question.

Perhaps when the Democrats have chosen their candidate, it will find that he also will repudiate free trade doctrines. If he does not, his defeat is a foregone conclusion, as our neighbors have evidently no idea of losing the advantages which their present tariff confers upon them.

OBITUARY.

WILLIAM CAMERON WHITE, son of Mr. Wm. and Eliza White, was born in the village of Tweed on the 9th day of October, 1864, consequently at the time of his death he was 15 years, 8 months and 9 days old. He was a modest, inoffensive lad, and one who was generally liked by his school fellows and acquaintances.

On Friday, the 19th day of June, after school was dismissed, he, in company with a number of his playmates, went for a bath at the dam at Tweed Mills. Those who were in his company at the time informed your correspondent that after jumping off the slide they swam some distance, the deceased and a boy named McCann, son of T. McCann, Tweed, strove to dive out from the breast of the dam through the water fall. Deceased did not succeed, as the undertow drew him and he whirled him round four or five times. He then ten or twelve feet of water. James Carr, one of the boys who was in his company in the water, saved young McCann or he would have shared the same fate as poor Willie White. He would have been drowned, although he tried every time he came up. After deceased had been in the water some time, several persons undertook to recover the body by diving, but not succeed till F. Waller dove and found him.

He took the drowned boy by the hand, but did not bring him up. Franklin Dyer then dove, and after two or three fruitless efforts succeeded in getting him up, and bringing him ashore.

Deceased was studying for a school teacher and had sent in his application to the Inspector. He was a member of the Methodist Church of Canada, and a very exemplary boy. His death has cast a gloom on the village and the parents and friends have the sympathy of the people in their sad bereavement.

On Sunday, the 20th inst., his remains were interred in the Methodist burying ground, west of Tweed. The funeral was one of the largest that ever took place in the village. A very impressive discourse was delivered on the occasion by the Pastor of the C. M. Church, Rev. Mr. Walker, from the 1st chapter of Hebrews. He was assisted by the Rev. Messrs. Adams and Sabine.—Cox.

Sunday's Storm.

The storm of Sunday which visited Tyndinings and the townships adjacent was very destructive. A despatch from Napanee has the following particulars: A terrible storm of hail and rain passed over this place yesterday about 2:30 in the afternoon. Hailstones fell as large as walnuts four miles west of Napanee, and five and a half inches of water on the level fell in less than two hours. Hailstones as large as butternuts fell with great force for an hour, covering the ground so they could be gathered by the acornful. Geese and geese were killed by the dozen. A large quantity of glass was broken in the buildings in the vicinity, and great damage was done to fields of grain, especially rye and barley, which are flat and completely destroyed. In Adolphustown the crops suffered from the effects of the storm. Fences were levelled to the ground and a large quantity of glass broken.

At Mill Point a good deal of damage was done, including the breaking of windows by hail stones, the stripping of fruit trees and the destruction of gardens within, and of fields and orchards without the corporation. The storm, so far as we have learned, passed westward over the Indian reserve with results equally disastrous to those experienced elsewhere. It did not reach Shannonsville. A despatch from Selby says:—A heavy hail storm passed over the southern part of Maryburg yesterday. Hailstones of the size of butternuts fell, doing great damage to the crops in that vicinity.

Another storm.

A second storm passed over the northern part of Hungerford about three hours later than that above noticed. The wind was terrific in its force and broke many trees short off, whilst rain fell in torrents for about fifteen minutes. Neither of the storms seems to have been felt beyond a comparatively small range.

A GOOD POINT.—The Sarnia Canadian makes a good point against the Reformers. It shows that while the Reform journals object to the Government importing young Englishmen to fill positions in the civil service, Mr. Mowat and Mr. Crooks search diligently in England for professors to fill the chairs in the Toronto University. Mr. Crooks must leave an unfavorable impression upon the minds of his English friends when he tells them that he cannot find a man in Canada capable of filling a chair in a Provincial University.

ICEBERGS.—Steamships and sailing craft from the eastward continue to report immense icebergs in countless numbers far to the south of their usual limits. Captain Massam, of the steamship Bertha, says he never in a long experience has seen so extraordinary sights of this kind as during his last passage. In some instances innumerable birds attended the icebergs, clinging to their slippery sides or circling in fantastic flights around their albatross.

THE SHERIFF ELECTOR CASE.—After the lapse of 21 months, and after Mr. A. Smith has occupied the seat in Commons for Selkirk, to which he proves to have had no title for two months. Mr. Smith's course in this matter has been of a piece with his political record otherwise, and should he fail to secure his re-election there will be little to sympathize with him.

HOTZDALE, Pa., June 22.—On Saturday Geo. Holland and Jno. Higgins coaxed two young Swedes, who had taken the place of striking miners, to a respectable house in the suburbs and shot one Swede dead and wounded the other fatally. They took $12 from the body of the dead man and $20. It is believed the men were murdered because they opposed the strikers. They were arrested.

The Sun says there is much talk over the suggestion to nominate the old ticket without reference to Tilden's wishes. The Bayard men are doing good work. They claim 250 on the first ballot. The declaration of Tilden has been followed by chaos. Only one thing is apparent, that the latter produced a profound impression.

The Herald says everything is in a muddle. Parsons, editor of the New Haven Register, says: "Several weeks ago I was called to New York by Harman to consult with Tilden's friends. While there an agent with whom he had sent to Alabama to secure the delegation of that State, returned and announced the result of a failure. When Tilden heard of the failure a careful estimate of his strength was made and it was found he could only count on 180 votes. He immediately said, 'Gentlemen I am not in this fight.' Smith Weed says Tilden felt compelled to write his letter solely on account of bad health.

The World says the canvass yesterday materially strengthened the Bayard vote.

A MESSAGE FROM THE ATLANTA.

HALIFAX, N. S., June 21.—Some children of a gentleman from town, while playing on the beach at Cow Bay this afternoon, picked up a piece of barrel stave about 4 inches by 2½, on which the following was written with lead pencil:—"Atlanta going down April 12th, 1880: no hope; send this to Mrs. Mary White, Piers, Sussex, James White." The piece of wood appeared by its look to have been about two months in the water. The place where it was picked up is about twelve miles east of this city, and open directly into the Atlantic ocean.

REGAL ENTERTAINMENT.—Recently Scott & Bowne, of New York, manufacturers of Cod Liver Oil, etc., with two other firms, gave the American Medical Society a grand complimentary entertainment at Booth's theatre, Edwin Booth, with a splendid support playing Othello. The firm gave out 3,000 invitations, and 1,500 programmes were enclosed in colored satin and gold envelopes. The spacious theatre was packed with a highly fashionable audience, and the play being thought was grand. Scott & Bowne are doing a stupendous business and will amass a large fortune. Their profits amount to $60,000 a year, which for a business started with nothing only six years ago is certainly wonderful. They are active young men, and infuse enthusiasm into those who surround them.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

BELLEVILLE ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY JUNE 23 1880.

VOL. 14.

MANHOOD.

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without surgery) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Inactivity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excess.

Price in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the application of the knife, pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

Political Notes.

REFORM ECONOMY.

The London Advertiser says: "The Winnipeg Free Press seems to have a full appreciation of the situation, which it sums up in this terse fashion: 'Ontario, after thirteen years of Confederation, has five millions of surplus in the treasury. Quebec, on the other hand, has fifteen millions of debt. The former is the result of Reform rule; the latter of Tory misrule.'" Also for the Free Press, "appreciation of the situation" and the "Tory's endorsement thereof, the effect of 'Reform rule' in Ontario has been, not to accumulate a surplus of five millions, but to dissipate the cash surplus of four millions which their predecessors of the coalition which ruled from 1867 to 1871 had by economical administration amassed. Reform rule in Ontario now threatens, as one of its beauties, a resort to direct taxation. So in the administration of Dominion affairs it saddles the country with a deficit of two millions of dollars per year. Verily Reform rule is a 'blessing' to be avoided."

A PERVERSION OF FACT.

The London Times says: "Oshawa is nothing if not a manufacturing centre. The hums struck there to an appreciable extent. During the past year its population has decreased 14, and the assessment valuation has been decreased by 10 per cent. The N. P. does not seem to have had much success in fostering and encouraging home manufactures in that locality. Our contemporary knows, but does not care to tell, that the removal of an extensive manufacturing concern from Oshawa to Toronto, where the business is being more largely gone into, is the cause of Oshawa's misfortune. Facts never tally with the assertions of the Grit organs as regards the N. P."

THOSE PARLIAMENTS.

The Ottawa Citizen says: "Tell a lie and stick to it, is still a Globe precept. Its Ottawa correspondent, in Wednesday's issue, has of course a free advertisement of the United States as a field for emigration, to which he appends the statement that, 'Minneapolis, it will be remembered, was one of the States advertised in the Canadian Government immigration pamphlets as a good field for immigrants.' There is not, yet, venture to say, a member of the Globe staff who does not know that this is false. The pamphlets referred to were printed by the Grit Montreal Standard, and that paper has candidly admitted that it attempted to make the Immigration Department a medium for their circulation failed."

THE PRICE OF TEA.

"The shallow murmurs whilst the deeps are dumb." Thus we have the Hobeysong penny whistle asserting that tea is selling at 50c per pound in England and 60c per lb. per pound in Canada, whilst the chief organ of the Grit party, finding itself outdone in assertion, remains dumb. An advertisement, which appears in the Bermick (England), Advertiser—a respectable Liberal journal—is so apropos that it is given here, with:

T. E. A.

WE are now offering a TEA of great Excellence, and which we can recommend as the best and most economical TEA we have ever sold at 25c per lb. Also a TEA of Great Strength and Quality at 25c per lb.

TEA has advanced in price on the London Market, but as we have a large stock, we are enabled to continue at the Old Prices, carefully maintaining the Superiority in Quality which characterizes our Tea.

RICHARDSON BROTHERS, HEAD OF HIDE HILL.

Two shillings and eight pence per pound represents 64c. In Canada, so, even were it possible that this "economical tea" was the lowest priced offered in England—which the special announcement shows it is not—the 60c. of the Hobeysong apostle of free trade would be exceeded by nearly one-third. The Canadian tea duties, we may state for the information of the backwoods philosopher, are 2c. per pound and 10 per cent. ad valorem on black, and 3c. per lb. and 10 per cent. ad valorem on green and Japan teas, whilst the duty in England is 6d. (or 12c) per pound on teas of all kinds. Thus the Canadian duty on green tea costing say 50c. per lb. would be 8c. as against the 12c. imposed by the tariff at present in force in England. (See Tariff Handbook, page 64.) If from these facts it is not plain to every one who has a feeling inclined to argue against the Canadian tariff on teas as compared with that of the mother country, the way is open to them.

Ameliaburg Correspondence.

Nothing much to report this week. A meeting of delegates to be held on Wednesday evening at the church to organize a Sabbath School Convention. Mr. HARTFORD.—Of Mr. David Morrison, at the Post Office.

MANO.—At the store of Mr. C. G. Wilson.

Extra copies of each day's issue can be obtained at the above places.

A big time is expected at Roblin's Mills Dominion Day. All kinds of games, etc. Crops are looking splendid.

I understand the Mary Ethel stopped running on Monday afternoon. Some who have patronized the boat from the frigate they will go to Picton to do their trading now.

The hay crop will be a better quality this year than last. Meadows are looking in most cases very well.

The dinner advertised to come off on the 19th took place on Saturday. The day was everything that could be desired. The grove in which the dinner took place is a few steps out of the flourishing little village and is one of the most beautiful groves for a picnic I know of. James Redner, Esq., has had it all cleared and trimmed up and furnished with tables and a splendid speaker's stand. Shortly after 10 o'clock buggies commenced to come on the grounds. At first the Committee felt that the dinner would be a total failure, but a half dozen rigs now and then gave better hopes. After the tables were all spread and arranged about 250 set down to partake of the good things provided. After justice had been done and tables cleared the Rev. J. C. Ash offered prayer. As it had been stated addresses would be delivered by the Rev. W. Scales, who acted as Chairman, introduced the Rev. J. C. Ash as the first speaker. Mr. Ash after expressing the great pleasure it gave him of meeting again with so many of his old friends and acquaintances touched upon the affairs of the circuit, after which he was followed by the Rev. J. H. Locke, of Belleville, who made a neat little speech.

The Rev. R. Potter after making a mirthful little speech, was followed by the people's "pet," who the Chairman said was the most handsome minister in the district. The Rev. F. McAmmond, on stepping forward, said he would not say he was not the best looking as he thought the ministers were pretty well represented, and he did think he was the best looking. He said he was not very well, and as some of his friends had said to him they hoped the speakers would not forget their place and make short speeches he would not say much.

After a few other remarks he took his seat, after which a piece was sung and the benediction pronounced, the gathering then broke up. The amount taken in at the gate being between $50 and $60, which goes towards building a parsonage at Roblin's Mills.

The Murder of Mr. Brown.

TRIAL OF DICKSON.

The trial of Geo. Bennett, alias Dickson, for the murder of the Hon. George Brown, commenced at the Court House, Toronto, at 9:45 a. m. on the 22nd inst. before Mr. Justice Cameron and a jury. Mr. A. Irving appeared for the Crown, and Messrs. N. F. Davis and White Mortimer for the accused. When the Court opened the attendance outside of the jury panel was very small, but gradually increased. The prisoner's beard has grown out, and he presents a haggard appearance. After Mr. Irving's address to the jury, Archibald Blair, night editor of the Globe; Allan S. Thompson, foreman; John Kean, reporter; Patrick O'Brien, editor of the Standard; and Owen O'Brien, editor of the Evening Star, respectively evidence already published. Other witnesses were examined, the testimony being similar to that given at the inquest.

The jury retired at a few minutes to eight, and after about two hours deliberation they returned without having agreed on a verdict, and asked to have the evidence of Dr. Aikin read to them, which was done by the reporter of the Court. Dr. Wright's evidence was also read to them briefly, and after a few explanations from the Court on some points in the evidence the jury retired to their room. At a few minutes to eleven they returned with a verdict of "Guilty."

Mr. Irving then moved for the sentence of the Court upon the prisoner. In reply to the usual question from the Court as to whether he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon him, the prisoner replied, "I have only to say that I have not wilfully committed this crime."

His Lordship, addressing the prisoner, said he was sorry to have to perform so painful a duty, but painful as it was, it had to be performed. The jury had not taken a very favorable view of his case. Upon evidence that warranted them in coming to such a conclusion they had found him guilty of the gravest offence. It was manifest from his writings that he had contemplated doing some ill at the time, or he was in a condition that he did not know what he was doing. It was unfortunate for him, perhaps, that they had not the evidence of the late Mr. Brown to know what point of fact what did transpire between them on that unfortunate afternoon. He could say that he could hold out no hope for him. He had no discretion. The law imposed a duty upon him, and he must pass the sentence of death. If he (the prisoner) intended in point of fact to destroy Mr. Brown's life on that occasion, he intended to send him to eternity without an opportunity for preparation, but the law would be more merciful to him, in giving him time for reflection, to make his peace with the God whom he had offended. He trusted he would use that time allotted to him in an endeavor to make that peace, in order that his chance of salvation in the future might be greater than if he left this world unrepentant of the crime of which the jury said he had been guilty.

His Lordship then sentenced the prisoner to be hanged on the 23rd day of July next. At the conclusion of the deed formality the prisoner, who did not seem at all affected by his position, rubbed his hands and said to his Lordship, "I would rather you would make it a little shorter if you could; it would be more suitable to me." He was then removed to his cell, and the Court adjourned.

Sunday's Storm.

Further details of Sunday afternoon's hail storm continue to be received, and these indicate that its area was larger than was at first supposed. It seems to have extended in Tyendinaga from the eastern borders of the township to a point a short distance east of Mill Town in a westerly direction, and on the north to within about a mile of the township line. Thence it passed easterly across a part of South Marysburg, in Prince Edward.

The damage done has been very great, as it includes the breakage of windows in houses, the stripping of fruit from the trees to some extent, and the prostration of crops especially of corn and potatoes. At Melrose a thoroughly reliable informant states that much window glass was cracked, and that crops were prostrated in all directions, whilst the hail stones were not of the ordinary character, but were lumps of ice, averaging perhaps an inch in diameter. The storm was severe without precedent in the district over which it passed.

HANLAN'S CONDITION.—A despatch says Hanlan was medically examined by Dr. Thorburn of Toronto yesterday morning, who finds that the champion is not seriously injured. His illness arose from overwork, and the doctor prescribes absolute rest from rowing for several months. Hanlan, however, will be able to go to England and train for the Trickett race.

The general opinion amongst boatmen is that the article in the Globe concerning Hanlan for throwing the race is alike ungenerous and unfair.

ABANDONED.—Herbert M. Tuft, confidential clerk in the house of Holshead & Co., New York, abandoned a few days ago taking with him $6000 and a fascinating, but questionable young lady. They found their way to Montreal where they lived in high style. Detectives got on their track, and on the 19th arrested Tuft and on the 22nd inst. surrendered him to the authorities in New York. The fair charmer who led him away could not be found.

LABOR PASSENGER TRAFFIC.—The Grand Trunk train from the West which arrived in Toronto on the morning of the 22nd had 225 passengers on board, 175 of whom were excursionists to Montreal and Quebec to attend the St. Jean Baptiste festival, and were principally French-Canadians from Detroit. The other through trains during the day were also heavily laden as many as 1,500 men, who have left Chicago and the State of Illinois generally for the Michigan Central for the same destination.

Ontario Market.

June 23, 1880.

The cheese market for the past week has rapidly fallen upon the public cable to-day stands at 50s, a drop of 3s since yesterday. With values rapidly declining, buyers fear to purchase heavily which adds to the demoralized state of the market. The shipments last week from this section amounted to about 2,500 boxes. The shipments from New York last week amounted to 99,431 boxes. The shipments from Montreal for the week ending 19th inst. was 16,500 boxes.

STRAITFORD, June 21.—Stratford cheese market was held here last Thursday. Sixteen factors were represented; 2,906 boxes of cheese were offered. No sales are reported, as the cheese was not in a condition to ship. The next meeting will be held in the town hall here on Thursday, 24th inst., when a larger number of cheese will be offered than at any other time during the season.

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., June 21.—Prices declined fully two cents. Sales 12,200 boxes of 70 lbs. of farm dairy cheese sold at 8 to 9 1/2 thirty packages of butter sold at 16 to 19c.

UTICA, N. Y., June 21.—Cheese lower, 3 months, dated the 19th June, 1880, at 3 1/2c; 6 months, 3 1/4c; 9 months, 3 1/4c; 12 months, 3 1/4c. 4,000 commissions, 6,000 at 9 1/2c.

MORNING DESPATCHES.

AMERICAN.

MILWAUKEE, June 23.—Two men attempted to kidnap Bertie Sherman, while returning from school yesterday. A farmer came to his assistance and the men escaped. The boy's parents are wealthy. The kidnapping was for the purpose of securing a reward.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Washington special: The Herald says the refusal of the Mexican authorities to allow Hatch to go into Mexico after Victoria's Indians, caused considerable commotion in the news department. As matters stand, the refugees are under the care of the Mexican Government. Should they return and commit depredations, Mexico will be held responsible.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Capt. Christopher Hutz was attacked by a crowd of roughs in Brooklyn on Saturday night and so terribly beaten that he will die.

Michael Bailey's house at Jamaica was burned yesterday. A child aged 15 months, left in charge of two children, was burned to death.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—It is announced that the coal companies yesterday agreed upon a total suspension of production from July 1st to 12th, and three days weekly thereafter, as at present.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The World's Cincinnati says the speech of Hoodley produced a bad effect on a vast majority of the delegates. Its tone was that of an attorney for hire. Bayard has gained additional votes and still leads. Much good was done here by a letter from Chas. O'Connor to Belmont, in which the nomination of Bayard is most earnestly recommended. There will be an apparent effort to-night to work up a movement for the re-nomination of the old ticket with Tilden at the head.

The Tribune's Cincinnati special says the early adjournment and omission of the afternoon session was due to the desire of the delegates to have a little more time for consultation and combinations.

SUCCESS AT LANS.—Sir Wilfred Lawson's perseverance has at last been crowned with success. Year after year he has tried to get the English House of Commons to declare in favor of local option as to the sale of liquor preparatory to the introduction of a Pernicious Bill, and year after year has been defeated. On Friday, however, his resolution was passed by a vote of 229 to 203 and with him voted Forster, Harcourt, Chamberlain, and other members of the Cabinet and Government. It is quite probable that the resolution will be immediately formulated into law, and that localities where a majority of the voters are opposed to the sale of liquor will soon lack saloons.

RELLEVILLE, THURSDAY, JUNE 24.

Squatters.

Considerable trouble is apprehended on account of the location of squatters on the Mennoite Reserve in Manitoba, and their refusal to obey the orders of the Government. It seems, according to the Emersonian, that there has been quite a rush of squatters to locate on the Mennoite reserve in Manitoba, which includes sixteen townships of unsettled land. Those taking up land had the impression that the reserves would be thrown open for general settlement on the 1st of July, and their claims allowed. As may be supposed, the Mennoites were much dissatisfied with this encroachment upon the tract set apart specially for their co-religionists, and Kaiser Miller, their leading man, went to Winnipeg and interviewed Surveyor-General Russell. The latter assured him that the reserve would be held exclusively for Mennoite settlement for three years longer, and all intruders driven out.

The intruders, who are principally speculators, say they will hold their position until deluged at the point of the bayonet. We fancy their courage will give way when the bayonet appears, as it most assuredly will unless they abandon their locations, for the Government must keep faith with the Mennoites. Such lawlessness might be winked at by the authorities across the lakes, in the case of prospectors on Indian reservations, but it must never be permitted within the Dominion of Canada, and the sooner the Government put it down, and protect the Mennoite settlers in their rights, the better for all concerned.

The Cincinnati Convention.

The "dark horse" has come to the front again, the Democratic party, in their National Convention at Cincinnati, having nominated General Winfield Scott Hancock as their candidate for the Presidency. General Hancock's chances of receiving the nomination were generally regarded as slim, Senator Bayard being, after the withdrawal of Tilden and the refusal of Seymour, looked upon as the coming man, until the ballot told another tale.

General Hancock is a soldier of distinction, with a good record politically, and ought to prove a very strong candidate. He was born in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, on Feb. 14, 1824, and graduated at West Point in 1844. In the Mexican war he served as a lieutenant, and was engaged chiefly in frontier duty until the breaking out of the rebellion in 1861. In September of that year he was made Brigadier-General of Volunteers, and was conspicuous in many of the battles, commanding as Major-General the left centre at Gettysburg in 1863, where he was severely wounded. In 1864 he again entered on active service, and took part in several battles. Subsequently he was placed in command of various departments in succession. In 1868 he was a candidate for the Presidential nomination, but Mr. Seymour was the successful candidate.

Figures That Speak.

The following figures, showing the course of trade between Eastern Canada and Manitoba, says the London Free Press, are full of instruction:

Year.	U. S.	Gt. Britain.	Canada.
1873.	441,198	$ 810,199	$ 222,054
1874.	781,277	1,024,610	605,997
1875.	783,817	1,441,107	647,774
1876.	940,187	1,775,771	582,994
1877.	938,323	1,882,964	692,489
1878.	719,792	382,591	1,374,311
1879.	539,499	355,324	2,226,083

Thus, while the trade between ourselves and 1879 has multiplied more than six times, it has but doubled in the case of the United States. It will be seen that the great jump took place from 1872 to 1873, and that 266,088 last year has been consistent with the establishment of the National Policy, which has given in so large a measure the Canadian trade to the Canadian people. For the last quarter ending March 31st, the imports at Winnipeg were: Great Britain, $49,883; United States, $168,702; Canada, $702,331—which looks like $3,000,000 for the year, perhaps more. Yet some people make light of the North-west, and condemn the policy that is showing its trade into our laps.

The present arrangements are that the dispatch Northampton will visit St. John, N. B., in the middle of July, returning to Halifax about the end of that month, and after remaining a few days proceed up to the St. Lawrence, being at Quebec with the Governor-General and the Princess Louise are there.

The Railcoons Controversy.

Wednesday past the anniversary of the establishment of Sabbath Schools, will be very generally celebrated throughout Christendom. In London, England, there will be a monster demonstration, at which there will be representatives from all parts of the world. Belleville will be represented in the persons of Mr. A. G. Northrup and Mrs. Thos. Ritchie, delegates from the Sabbath School Association of Canada. In the chief city of Canada there will be celebrations on a mammoth scale, and we understand that arrangements are being made to get up a Union demonstration here in honor of that day, particulars of which will be known hereafter.

Robert Raikes who was the first man to systematically and permanently introduce the method of Sabbath school instruction, was born at Gloucester on the 14th September, 1735, and was the son of a printer. Not much is known about his early life, except that he was called upon to assist his father in the publication of a newspaper issued by him. Being of a philanthropic turn of mind, his attention was first called to ameliorating the condition of the inmates of Bridewell prison, but afterwards his attention being called to the deprecation of the Sabbath by the factory children of the town, he determined to make some effort to remedy the existing state of things. With this idea in view he engaged school teachers at one shilling each, and the Sabbath day to teach as many children as could be induced to attend. The rest of the parish took a deep interest in the work, and conspired to become inspectors of the schools. These schools were started in 1780. The first idea of the Sabbath school was quite different to that now prevailing, as not only was moral instruction imparted, but from the alphabet upwards such an education was given as is now entirely confined to the ordinary schools, and it was with difficulty that Mr. Raikes could be induced to change the method. The work rapidly spread, and until now the Sabbath school is recognized as an indispensable auxiliary to church work. Mr. Raikes died on the 5th of April, 1791, in his 75th year.

BRADLAUGH IN CUSTODY.

He offers to Affirm and is Ordered to Withdraw.

ANOTHER SCENE IN THE HOUSE.

The Infidel Declines to Hodge and is Arrested.

Committed to the Clock Tower.

(CABLE TO THE MAIL.)

LONDON, June 23.

This morning shortly before eleven o'clock for the morning session of Parliament, Bradlaugh drove to Westminster Palace in a cab. There was no crowd outside Parliament House or Westminster Hall, but an unusual number of members had arrived and great excitement prevailed within the House. Immediately after the Speaker had taken the chair and the Chairman had read prayers, before any other business could be entered upon, the door was thrown open and Charles Bradlaugh entered and advanced to the table in front of the Speaker. "I am Charles Bradlaugh," he said, "chosen by the electors of Northampton to represent them in this Parliament. I am here to make the affirmation which I am entitled to make and to take my seat."

The Speaker, with great gravity and impressive dignity, informed Mr. Bradlaugh that he had his case under consideration, and had last night adopted a resolution deciding against his claim. He read the resolution to Bradlaugh, and then said, "Mr. Bradlaugh you will now withdraw."

Mr. Bradlaugh, who was very pale, but quite collected and cool, said, "Mr. Speaker, before withdrawing." Here his voice was drowned by a tempest of discordant cries from the House of "Withdraw." "Let him speak," and so on. As the tumult died away slightly Bradlaugh again attempted to speak, but the clamor again broke out.

Bradlaugh finally refused to withdraw. Sir Stafford Northcote moved that Bradlaugh be given into custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

Mr. Gladstone, seeing no other means of giving effect to last night's resolution, seconded the motion.

Sir Stafford Northcote's motion was adopted by 274 to 47. Bradlaugh is now in custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

IN THE CLOCK TOWER.

Now that Bradlaugh is safely deposited in the Clock Tower, people are beginning to ask what Parliament will do with him, for it is evident that he cannot be held a prisoner for the course of his natural life. The problem is how to get Bradlaugh at liberty without compromising the dignity of Parliament. The Clock Tower cannot be turned into a battle, and any prolongation of imprisonment would make him a popular martyr, and render Parliament ridiculous and odious. Some few sanguine Conservatives hope that Mr. Bradlaugh will grow tired of his prison quarters, and will apply for the Chiltern House, thus allowing Parliament to escape from the consequences of its act.

MORNING DESPATCHES.

EUROPEAN.

MADRID, June 24.—The United States minister has been instructed to make an energetic protest against the conduct of the Spanish gendarmes at Catters in Spanish waters, interfering with American vessels. The United States, Great Britain and Germany, will, in the event of a repetition of the outrages, insist on the punishment of the Spanish officers by whom the offences are committed.

AMERICAN.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Supt. Dudley, of the Department of Buildings, was indicted yesterday for alleged perjury violation of the laws in allowing buildings to be erected in manner to endanger the lives of citizens.

The Herald says it is stated on what is regarded as good authority that Tilden, speaking yesterday to an intimate friend said he was confident of the nomination.

Cincinnati specials.

The Times says the mass of wire pulled and managing politicians are opposed to the Hancock movement. If successful, it will be a victory of the young and green portion of the party, over the old and slippery veterans.

The World says that most of the States come here prepared to look to New York, but the expression now is that New York has not come up to the situation and instead of acting as leader is playing a boy's part in politics. A distinguished delegate declares of his own knowledge that there is in existence a written communication from Hancock to surgeons in Washington tendering them the body of Mrs. Surratt for dissection. No such story must be left to be investigated after the nomination.

The Sun says a fierce debate occurred over the unmitigable hard money plank platform. Hard money finally carried the day.

ITHEVILLE, Va., June 24.—While standing in the sawing machine endeavoring to move a balky horse on his farm yesterday, U. S. Senator Withers received a painful injury in one foot from the sudden starting of the machine. Physicians think he may soon recover.

CINCINNATI, June 24.—The Commercial of this morning says Ohio and Indiana will go for Hancock to-day and that he will probably be nominated on the first ballot.

The Inquiry says that the nomination lies between Hancock and English, with the chances in favor of Hancock. It says if Bayard's friends break this morning, Hancock is sure of it. It says that Morrison, of Illinois, will probably be chosen Vice-President, and that if New York chooses Payne it will be to go for Tilden, and that the Ohio man are contemplating the possibility of throwing Ohio solid for Tilden.

THE CHANNEL TUNNEL.—The preliminary workings for the tunnel uniting England and France have had the most satisfactory results. The promoters have sunk their shaft to the stratum in which they propose to bore the tunnel, and are now going to sink another shaft, and lower all the machinery for the bore. In eighteen months they expect to have reached two kilometres, about two and a quarter miles, under the Channel, and in three or four years to have completed the task.

—Mr. Wm. Nelson, of Edinburgh, and Miss Nelson, are at Bow Park. Mr. Nelson is in Canada in connection with the estate of the late Hon. George Brown, his brother-in-law.

THE QUEEN'S VISIT TO IRELAND.—It has been announced that Her Majesty the Queen will visit Ireland this summer, instead of going to Balmoral and Osborne, as usual. Lord Kenmare has received a gracious command from the Queen to prepare to receive her as his guest, and he is now retreating and arranging his mansion at Killarney for Her Majesty's reception. The Queen is expected to make her entry into Ireland about the end of August. She will land at Kingstown, proceed to Dublin, and spend a few days there, having apartments at the Castle, and then go on to Killarney. The Queen has not visited Ireland for more than thirty years, her first and only visit having been made with Prince Albert shortly after their marriage, and then she remained but a short time.

St. JOHN REBUILT.—Three years ago last Sunday, St. John, N. B., was nearly consumed by fire. During the interval the work of rebuilding has been steadily pursued, the total number of brick and stone buildings erected in the burnt district being 428, at a cost of $4,105,700; 662 wooden buildings have been put up costing $912,827. It is to be regretted that the proportion of wood to brick and stone construction is so large, in view of the experience of the past. Outside of the burnt district buildings of the estimated value of $112,000 have been erected, bringing the total to $5,230,527. The total amount of the fire loss, including the relief and aid Society was $271,200, and the balance on hand amounts to $139,503.

The 8½ page paper states the St. Gothard tunnel is in great danger of falling in if the land slips continue to threaten the masonry. The engineers think the only way to avert danger is to modify the line traced out for the tunnel.

say that it is undoubtedly the best I ever tried, as there can be no doubt that my little girl is, in a fair way of recovery, and you must bear in mind, that the first action of the medicine was to believe that had I not given it to her, she would have been dead in this case; now she eats heartily and is gaining in flesh the fits are only occasional and the bowels are regular and comfortable. under the care of a great many Doctors, and have taken quantities of medicine without any apparent benefit, but appeared to be still growing worse and weaker until I accidentally came across one of your circulars and was constrained to try your medicine, and I found its effects were almost magical, upon me and I was a tribute to myself and friends, having gained so rapidly in flesh.

I remain respectfully,

MANHOOD: HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excessive sexual indulgence.

Price, in a small envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

"BEAR YE ONE ANOTHER'S BURDENS."

By MISS MARY THORNTON.
Every day we meet some neighbor
Who is heavy laden with grief,
Grieved each with a word of kindness,
It may save him from despair;
Never a heart so weak, lacking sympathy
And care.

Many groan in weakness,
Sink in gloom and in pain,
Which no heavy burden delays,
That no time for rest they find,
Sympathize then with their troubles, no harm
Comes from being kind.

Some with victory laden,
Moved on by a great commandment,
Never heeding how their triumph
Smothered the old and young each day;
Seeming to forget that others have rights
As well as they.

Oh, could such but change one moment
Places with the weak and poor,
Which would be a great blessing,
That a kind act can secure;
And would find that pity often nerve the Kind to endure.

Agony may need assistance,
Suffering may yet most need love,
Your strong arm would prove a blessing,
You may live to be as feeble, and may need
As sure an aid.

If a neighbor ask a favor,
Grant it in a cheerful way,
Grudgingly to do a kindness
Is the worst of all to do; Prove like "bread cast on the waters," something to return some day.

Opportunities for good deeds
All our lives, God placed them there!
While he gave us this commandment:
"Burdens for each other bear."
Make the kind act a habit! Scatter Kind acts everywhere.

SOMETIMES.
Sometimes—not often, when the days are long,
And golden light is gleaming from the sky,
Like cadence of some half-forgotten song,
There sweeps a memory across my brain.
I hear the laughter of the children,
The drowsy murmur in the sear's life line;
I watch the radiant butterflies that pass,
And I am sad and sick at heart sometimes—Sometimes.

Sometimes, when royal winter holds his sway,
And every cloud is swept from azure skies,
And frozen pool and lighted fountains are gay,
That makes a child and yet more laughing eyes.
From far-off days an echo wanders by,
That makes a child and yet more laughing eyes.
A moment in the dance or talk I sigh,
And seem half-lost in the crowd sometimes—Sometimes.

RELEVILLE, SATURDAY, JUNE 26.

Manufactures.

At the last meeting of the City Council, Alderman Dickson brought up a topic of the greatest importance to the people of the City, in giving notice of a motion for the appointment of a Committee with the object of considering what steps can be taken to ward off the possibility of the location of additional manufacturing establishments in Belleville.

In support of his action, Mr. Dickson stated his belief that unless the manufacturing industries of the City be added to, it will be difficult to maintain the municipality in the position to which it has attained, and idle to expect a return of the prosperity which existed here some years ago. And in conclusion he threw out the suggestion that railway car building works and a beet root sugar refinery would be industries of a character that would yield results of a highly satisfactory nature, provided that capitalists could be induced to locate such here.

The great falling off in the lumber trade a few years ago in the main industry of the place—together with the failure of the Moira as a means of supplying water as a motive power for machinery for more than a few months in each year, are circumstances which have largely affected the prosperity of the city. The former occurrence is without remedy and has been unavoidable, as the pine woods of the region drained by the Moira and its tributaries have been pretty well stripped and the United States market has been flat; but the latter event might have been prevented by the erection of storage dams at suitable places, which the course of the river affords in plenty, but those resident in our midst neglected to interest themselves pecuniarily in the enterprise, which would have proved of much benefit to the place. As a consequence some owners of factories, thus deprived of cheap motive power at perhaps their busiest season, either withdrew from business, removed to localities more favored in the regard, established themselves elsewhere in town, or put in steam engines for use when water power failed. It is not too late, in our belief to again render the river a sure and reliable water power, at all seasons, by the carrying out of the project which is above named. Thus a strong inducement would be offered to manufacturers whose business is not of such a nature as to furnish fuel from its own refuse for the operation of steam engines, to locate in Belleville.

Another strong inducement to manufacturers would be a reduction in the rate of taxation. A more economical administration of local affairs—a more careful supervision by our "city fathers" of expenditure in all directions and in every department of the city government—the consolidation of our city debt at a lower rate of interest, a better method of assessing property—these are the measures which suggest themselves to us as requisite to aid in restoring a full measure of prosperity to the municipality, and without them our trade cannot be placed on a much better footing than it is at present. If expenses are, as in the past, to grow in a ratio greater than the growth of the city, the final result is not difficult to foresee.

Mr. Dickson's proposed Committee, if it be appointed—as we trust it may—will doubtless consider what classes of industries are best suited to the locality. The gentleman who is the mover in the matter has suggested two departments of industry which in his opinion would return a profitable outlay for money invested in them as above stated. As to the beet sugar business, that has yet to be tried, and in our idea it would be much more of an advantage to the agriculturist than to the refiner or to the city—that is to say, it would employ a large number of farmers in growing beets and consequently less in manufacturing them into sugar. Thus the capital invested would be of but small advantage to the city. The car making industry would be better suited to accomplish Alderman Dickson's object, namely by adding to the population and so to the tax-paying power of the municipality. Such an establishment could be carried on here with great advantage were an iron smelting furnace established here—another business for which Belleville presents advantages which cannot be surpassed. Were a smelting works once put into operation, the casting of car wheels could be profitably entered upon as a branch of the business, whilst rolling works for the conversion of pig iron into malleable iron of different classes would not improbably follow. Then as the iron ores of this region are eminent for the manufacture of Bessemer steel, and as before many years elapse the making of steel rails will be undertaken in Canada, Belleville, being in a most favorable position for the business, ought to make a good bid for such an establishment. Without pursuing the subject further, we hold that the starting of an iron smelting furnace or of a Bessemer steel works or both, is of the first importance, as such would attract rolling mills, car works, nail works, stove foundries, possibly locomotive works, and facilities for the establishment of which in Toronto is now being carried on, and other manufacturing of iron, whilst the slag could be utilized in a glass factory. The building of iron or steel vessels is also an industry that will long engage much attention, as we have seen it stated that iron ships can be built in Nova Scotia almost as cheaply as wooden vessels, and in Nova Scotia, why not in Ontario, where ship building is a dearer than in the Maritime Provinces? Iron and steel can be produced as cheaply and of as fine a quality at Belleville, as at any place on the continent and the industry is of so large a character that it ought to be looked after. The enlargement of the Welland Canal opens up a field for such an enterprise, as the great desideratum will be vessels of the largest possible carrying capacity, and as it is well known that iron or steel vessels are much lighter than wooden ones, besides being much more durable, it seems quite probable that ere many years pass iron or steel craft wooden fleets which now float the produce of the great west down the lakes to the principal eastern ports. In fact a few iron vessels have already been placed upon the upper lakes by our neighbors. The island at the mouth of the harbor would, if properly repaired, offer a fine site for a ship-building yard of any description, and the Committee may profitably consider what shall be done with that naturally valuable piece of property, the wharves surrounding which are being allowed to rot and fall to pieces.

Capitalists resident in the city, by investing their money in iron smelting works, could, we believe, do more to advance its interests in every way than by any other means, and if the Corporation could see their way clear to take a certain amount of stock great encouragement would be given to private subscribers.

These are the conclusions which commend themselves to us, and they are offered for the consideration of the Council and of the public. At the same time, whilst thus considering the subject of the City's future, we must not be understood as fully agreeing with the idea that Belleville is now on or about to enter upon the downward path. Our manufactures are now more prosperous than they have been for several years past, which is a most encouraging fact. The completion of the Grand Junction Railway at Peterborough, subsequently to direct connection with the Midland at Oshawa, (which in turn will give connection with the Pacific Junction) and the construction of the Murray Canal, are events which we believe will be of certain occurrence in the near future, and will do much to restore prosperity to Belleville.

The projects which present themselves to our people are highly important, and the future largely depends upon the energy which characterizes them, as "Providence helps those who help themselves." Our opportunities are great, and it should be determined at an early day whether or not they are to be improved as they ought to be. Mr. Dickson's Committee may possibly do something to aid in forming opinion on the subject. It is certainly to be hoped that their deliberations may result to the advantage of the city.

NATIVE GRAPE.—Mr. Gallagher, of the Beauséjour vineyard, Montreal, was in the city to-day. We are glad to hear that Mr. Gallagher has been successful in his operations in the Province of Quebec, and he is now seeking to find a market for his superior grapes in Ontario, and we have no doubt will obtain large orders. The Quebec Government, carrying out the policy adopted last fall by way of assisting in the natural development of the country, a Government bonus of two hundred dollars has been granted to Messrs. Gallagher & Gauthier to encourage them in their cultivation of the grape at Beauséjour. Mr. Gallagher's success in the past is counted sufficient warrant for the substantial encouragement of the enterprise as indicated by a grant of Government money. In this connection it may be mentioned that Dr. Schultz, of Manitoba, intimates his intention of adding one more resource to Manitoba by favoring Gallagher & Gauthier, of Beauséjour, with an order for a shipment of grapes to be shipped that fall.

THOSE "NAVIES."—The Ottawa Citizen says: "If the Montreal Gazette assumes that the Government is paying the passages of laborers to Canada, it is mistaken. The Government is doing nothing of the kind. It is the contractors who are doing it. The Government is simply aiding the contractors by their organization in England. The money advanced for passages by the Agriculture Department is recouped from the money due the contractors, in the Railway Department, and the contractors recoup themselves by arrangement with the men. The Government are not responsible at all. A little consideration would lead the whole press to see this; but there are none so blind as those who will not see."

STALKING LETTERS.—A Toronto report says: "A porter employed in the Post Office, the name of William Meagher, was arrested this morning charged with stealing money letters. When arrested twenty-six letters were found in his possession, but as these were not opened, it is not yet known whether they contain money, and the prisoner was remanded so that authority can be had from the Postmaster-General to open the letters."

THE ALLEGED POISONING.

Arrest of the Suspected Party HIS STATEMENT OF THE CASE.

Yesterday evening at eight, Mr. McCruden was returning up Pinnacle Street from a call at the house of Mrs. Frizone, whose son, David Connors, the man whom the woman had charged with poisoning her. Connors, on seeing the officer, disappeared down an alley alongside the Grand Junction Station, and mounting at his best speed over the intervening fences, he crossed the river on the bridge formed by the saw logs. There was, however, a wide space of open water in the immediate vicinity, and finding it impossible to reach the logs there he dropped from the shed and proceeded up stream, but was not by the policeman, who cut off his retreat in that direction. He again tried to dodge, but was taken into custody, and lodged in the city hall.

In connection with this morning Connors not only denied the woman's statement, but made allegations of a directly contrary nature. He states that during the forenoon the woman drank freely and became intoxicated; that shortly before the noon hour she was standing near the stove in the kitchen and he observed that she was eating blue vitriol from a paper. This he says he took from her and sent immediately out of the house.

Sergeant Frizone, of the 14th Battalion, the husband of the poisoned woman, returned home last night, after an absence of several days in the country. He denies every assertion made by Connors, and states that his wife never drank whiskey or any other intoxicant, and that her conduct was in all respects satisfactory.

This morning Mrs. Frizone was weak and restless, though somewhat improved. She had passed a bad night, but was considered out of danger.

In the Police Court this morning the prisoner was brought up on the charge of giving poison to Matilda Frizone, with intent to take her life. Sergeant McCruden detailed the circumstances of the case as above given, and stated that the woman was unable to appear in court. A remand for a week was applied for and granted. Bail was refused.

Dr. Willson, who is in attendance on Mrs. Frizone, states that when he saw her this morning she was considerably improved in condition, though still suffering a great deal from the effects of the drug, which was doubtless blue vitriol. He does not anticipate a fatal result.

The Bradlaugh Case

London, June 25.—Bradlaugh this afternoon took his seat in the House of Commons outside the bar. The House and the galleries were crowded. Mr. Labouchere said he would move on Tuesday to rescind the resolution denying Bradlaugh's right to take the oath or affirm. Mr. Gladstone said he was unprepared to say what action he would take. The Government will consider to-morrow what measures to propose to reconsider Bradlaugh's rights. His remarks were received with loud cheers from the Liberal side. The Speaker pointed out that it would be inconvenient to discuss the matter on Tuesday, and Mr. Gladstone consequently named Monday for the discussion. Bradlaugh then left the House. Mrs. Annie Besant, who accompanied him, informed the crowd of Mr. Gladstone's announcement, adding that of course under the circumstances Bradlaugh would await the decision of the House, but that he would demand meetings held throughout the country to support the Government. Lord Spencer Churchill (Conservative), gave notice this evening that when Labouchere's motion came up, he would move in amendment that it would be inexpedient and derogatory to the dignity and character of the House to rescind the resolution.

The 49th in Camp.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Three parties of the whole Battalion took place yesterday, at 5:30 a.m. one hour's equid drill, 9:30 a.m. two and a half hours' Company drill, and at 2:30 p.m. 2 1/2 hours' Battalion and Company drill. Drills, and every other duty pertaining to the life of soldiers in camp, are being most faithfully performed.

Among the visitors to the camp yesterday was the old veteran, Col. E. Ketchum. The venerable old gentleman appeared much interested in what he saw; and as he walked over the field, those who knew him instinctively saluted him, feeling that one who did so much for the country in its early history, deserved their respectful attention.

A storm accompanied with heavy rain came up about 5:30 p.m., just at the close of the afternoon parade, but owing to the admirable site occupied, the camp suffered no inconvenience.

This morning Nos. 1 and 3 companies proceeded to the batta in Belleville to put in their annual ball practice, as required by the Militia Act. They are to proceed in wagons as far as the Grand Junction Institute, and march from there to the firing ground; the same means of conveyance will be employed in returning at night.

Divine service will be held on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, probably in the grove near the camp ground. The Rev. M. W. McLean, M. A., will officiate.

After the rain last night the band played for a couple of hours, and their performance was really admirable. The musical spirit of the camp was deeply stirred last night, and as a consequence from almost every tent came some melody. The band of Nos. 4, Capt. Crozier's company, were surrounded by crowds of listeners.

The buglers in camp are said to be the best that ever have been in camp in the County. They were the echoes of the old Bay of Quinte. As was expected, the camp was perfectly quiet last night after the bugles had sounded lights out.

The battalion will be inspected by the D. A. G. of the district on the 1st July, and next day the camp will be broken up.

MORNING DESPATCHES.

AMERICAN.

DENVER, June 26.—Robt. Breckenridge, claiming to be formerly city editor of the Philadelphia Chronicle, was arrested near Gammon City on suspicion of having murdered Jas. and Wm. Egan, of Tecoma, Ka., while they were en route to the U.S. Senate.

NEW YORK, June 26.—The Tribune's Ball more special reports an interview with Mrs. Terry, daughter of Mrs. Surratt, and her husband, Prof. Terry. They both bitterly denounce Gen. Hancock's treatment of Mrs. Surratt.

Washington special: The Tribune's review of Hancock's career in the 5th military district in 1867 and 1868 shows him to have been a tool of conspirators, who intended to overthrow the reconstruction laws. It is shown that Hancock's last active military campaign against the Cheyenne Indians cost nine million dollars and proved a failure.

The Times says that counterfeiting has reached such perfection that the Treasury authorities are in despair, the money made by counterfeiting being in many instances superior to that produced by the Government. The secret service is very much crippled by the scant appropriation of Congress. The hundred dollar issue of National bank notes will have to be called in, because the counterfeit plate can be applied to every issue of the National banks, and as counterfeiter manufacture as good a quality of paper as used by the Government, something of this kind will have to be done.

Hancock received over a thousand congratulatory despatches. His associate on the ticket telegraphed from Indianapolis: "I sincerely congratulate the country upon your nomination. It means harmony between sections and prosperity to all people. (Signed) W. H. English."

The answer is as follows:—I appreciate fully the kind sentiments and compliment conveyed by your telegram just received. I am happy to say I reciprocate them. (Signed) W. S. Hancock.

Hancock announced he should be at the Governor's island every day this season. He is in excellent health and spirits. He declined to be interviewed in regard to the nomination.

NEW YORK, June 26.—The great coal 'con' are exultant over the recent advance of coal. Some corporations claim before June is over a further advance will be made.

Seven European steamers sail to-day with nearly 600 cabin passengers.

Brooklyn census shows the population to be 560,000, an increase of 75,000 since '75. Yesterday was the hottest day in the month. 160 deaths are recorded, the largest number in one day during the year. There were a number of cases of sunstroke.

BEES FROM THE HOLY LAND.—The Montreal Witness says: "Last week there arrived at Quebec by the Allan mail steamer Moravian a large number of hiving bees which have been originally packed in Palestine in small boxes constructed so as to admit of the bees obtaining food, air and water. The bees of the Holy Land are valuable purveyors of honey. The question now is whether they can withstand the climate of Canada, and whether the wild honey upon which it is recorded John the Baptist partly fed can be made in the land of snows. The Oriental honey and figs are abundant, and the honey is called fig and sold throughout Europe. The London papers advertise it and some one should introduce it here. But the transportation of bees is accompanied with risks as well as difficulties. It is recorded that some years ago an enterprising apian carried a large colony of bees to the Sandwich Islands, making sure that they would succeed. He was successful as well as delicious honey in the perpetual summer of that flowery clime. The bees laid in a great stock against the first winter, but finding that the first winter came, abandoned their present habits and left their enterprising patrons with a beggarly account of empty hives."

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.—A moonlight excursion will take place next Monday evening, the 28th instant, per steamer Edwards to the Camp Ground of the 49th Batt. Boat leaves sharp at 8 o'clock and will remain half an hour at the ground. Odd Fellows brass and quadrille bands will be in attendance.

City and Vicinity.

POLICE.—There was one prisoner in the cells last night.

CITY COUNCIL.—A regular meeting of Council will be held on Monday night.

FOR THE WEST.—Four cars of emigrants destined for different points in western Ontario passed west yesterday afternoon on the Grand Trunk.

BUSINESS AGENT.—Mr. Fred. Lawrence, the Business Agent of Forreugh's Show, was in the city to-day arranging for the show, which takes place here on the 12th July.

REGATTA.—A regatta for second class yachts will be given at Massasauga Point on Dominion Day. Money prizes and a silver cup will be given, and three or four of the local fleet will take part.

THE "ANNIE GILBERT."—The services of an engineer having been temporarily secured, this steamer may have her trip this afternoon. Mr. May has gone to Kingston with the object of engaging an engineer.

RAILWAY MEETINGS.—The stockholders of the Grand Junction and Belleville and North Hastings Railway Companies are to meet on Tuesday afternoon, for the purpose of completing the amalgamation of those roads.

CHICKEN.—The first innings of the match between the married and single members of the local Club was played yesterday afternoon. Neither side was fully represented. The Benedicts scored a majority of about 50.

FOR THE CAMP.—The steamer Prince Edward will make an excursion to the camp ground of the 49th Battalion on Monday night, and a stay of half an hour will be made at the camp. The Odd Fellows' brass and quadrille bands will be in attendance.

RUNAWAY.—A butcher's horse started on his own account this forenoon to have a race, and running through a wilderness of teams without doing any harm, turned up Front Street at a galloping rate, but was suddenly brought to a stand still by colliding with a double team which a boy was driving in the Anglo-American hotel yard. Beyond the upsetting of the wagon and frightening the onlookers, who were fearful of serious results, no damage was done.

PROMPT SETTLEMENT.—A card of thanks from Mr. J. H. Hanbly, acknowledging the promptness with which the London and Lancashire Life Assurance Company have, through their general agent, Mr. J. H. Robinson, admitted and arranged for the payment of her claim for $3,000 on their policy on the life of her late husband, will be found in another column. This is commendably prompt, as Mr. Hanbly died on Thursday, the 17th inst., so that the claim has been arranged within eight days.

THE POLICE MAGISTRACY.—The Ontario Government have appointed Mr. Thomas Holden to the position of Police Magistrate for this city, which was some time assigned by Mr. A. Diamond. Mr. Holden has served his party faithfully and ably, and deserved well of them. He also stands well in his profession and has for a considerable number of years been a prominent member of the City Council. The appointment is a good one, and we congratulate the new Police Magistrate upon his advent to office. A new election for a seat in the Council for Ketcheson Ward will now be necessary.

ARRIVED.—The advertising car of Forreugh's circus arrived this morning from the east, and brought with it the advertising brigade of the organization. The car is handsomely ornamented, the interior is fitted up for the accommodation of the men and for the storing of the necessary paper for the ornamentation of bill boards and dead walls, and in addition contains a press which is used for doing "dating" work. As a whole the affair is unique, and is a good exhibit of the push and enterprise of its owner. The agents are billing the city to-day for this great show, which exhibits in Belleville on Monday, the 12th July.

THE WHEAT PROSPECT.—The wheat crop throughout this section, which looked so promising a short time since, now gives evidence of becoming almost an entire failure. The fall wheat that survived the winter is looking well, yet only a small proportion of what was sown but was killed out. Never did spring wheat, a large breadth of which was sown, look more promising than in the early part of the year, but from every section we hear of fields turning yellow, the general impression being that it has rusted, which has been caused probably by the hot sun after the heavy showers earlier in the season.

RAILWAY FREIGHT.—Five cars of iron ore and three cars of lumber arrived from Madoe this morning.

THUNDER STORM.—A thunder storm swept over the city from the west between 6 and 7 o'clock last night, bringing with it a highly welcome rain. Two yachts got caught in the squall, but escaped damage.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—This morning Mrs. Cronk, wife of Stephen Cronk, who resides in Fox's terrace, near the Octavia Street school house, fell down stairs, breaking her collar bone, cutting her head and otherwise bruising herself badly. Being the effects well advanced in years, she feels the effects of her injuries very severely. Dr. Wilson is in attendance.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CENTENARY.—Wednesday, the 30th inst., having been found an inconvenient day for holding the Union Sunday School celebration in connection with the first centenary of Sunday Schools, it has been decided to hold the picnic on Friday, the 9th July. The various schools will assemble at 8:30 at their several schools, march to the Hospital Lot, form in procession there, and accompanied by bands of music, march to the wharf, and from there will be taken by the Prince Edward and Mary Ethel to Massasauga Point.

VANDALISM.—"Stoney" the Stirling News-Advertiser says: "A vicious person or persons one night last week entered the premises of John Hanna, Sidney, and brutally cut several valuable cattle, one of which had to be killed. There seems to be a ruffianly element in the neighborhood of Sager's corners which has caused a great deal of worry to the neighbors, who will, we fear, be compelled to form a vigilance committee and rid themselves of the obnoxious party by means of tar and feathers, which is quite too good for such brutalized humanity. Some time since two fine dogs were stolen from Mr. J. T. Hart, and other depredations have been complained of. Chief Mr. Kinross, of Belleville, has been employed in the mutilating case referred to, and it is earnestly to be hoped he will succeed in ferreting out the guilty ones and bringing them to justice."

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Mr. E. W. Perry left his home, West Bridge St., on Monday afternoon, shortly before 5 o'clock, to go to the Post Office. Just as he was crossing Coleman St., before reaching the bridge, a wild steer which had escaped from the slaughter house, rushed madly past him from behind, pushed against him, and the rope catching round his legs, threw him with great violence to the ground, striking on his head. Major Gillum was passing, and picked him up in an insensible condition—sprung restoratives, and as soon as he recovered consciousness, brought him home. Dr. Hope was immediately sent for, and was very prompt in attendance. His leg was very badly bruised, also his hip and shoulder. His head received such a blow that fears were entertained for some days of congestion of the brain, and his sufferings were very great. At the present time his head is comparatively speaking, almost free from pain, but he is very sore. But he suffers very much with his leg, which will be painful for some time to come.

The Garden Party.
The Garden Party in aid of the Home for the Friendless, given in the grounds of W. H. Ponton Esq., last evening, was a very pleasant affair, and considering the unfavorable state of the weather, fairly successful. The heavy rain storm, which occurred about six o'clock, put a damper on the prospects, and indeed a large portion of the people supposed that the entertainment would have been postponed in consequence. But shortly after the hour appointed a few began to gather, and the stirring music of the Odd Fellows' Band as they paraded through the streets and over the hill, brought out others, and the attendance by nine o'clock was very fair, but had the evening been pleasant there would probably have been three times the number present. To most of those who did attend the appearance and attractiveness of the grounds was a great surprise. Few were prepared to find such an extent of grounds, and the beautiful and artistic manner in which they are laid out, was the admiration of all. Mr. Ponton had gone to considerable trouble and expense in preparing the grounds. Chinese lanterns in great profusion decorated the trees and shrubs, while torches scattered liberally in every part of ground and two locomotive head lights, made a fine illumination, rendering the place nearly as light as day. A small nest building in the west of the garden, which by the way is to be used by Mr. Ponton in camping at the Sand Banks, was occupied by the ladies for the sale of useful and fancy articles, and we understand most of the goods were disposed of at good prices. In the eastern section a table was laid with cake and strawberries, and ice cream, and the ladies were kept busy during part of the evening serving them out to the company. What with the beautiful and variegated lights, the neat and tastefully decorated grounds, the fitting to and fro of fairy forms over the green sward, and the stirring music of the band, it was a perfect fairy scene, such as has been seldom witnessed on more pretentious places, and it is to be regretted that a larger number were not there to enjoy it. The Committee of ladies were indefatigable in their exertions to make everything pleasant, and Mr. and Mrs. Ponton were apparently here, there and everywhere, ministering to the wants of their guests. It was a most delightful occasion, and the results financially, though not so profitable as they would have been if the weather had been so favorable, will add a nice sum to the building fund of the Home for the Friendless.

CHEESE FAILURES.—A New York despatch says: "Some excitement has been caused to-day on the Butter and Cheese Exchange by reports that several large houses have lost heavily through the great fall in the price of cheese and a corresponding effect on butter. In the past two weeks the wholesale price has fallen steadily. The falling off in the export demand has done much to bring about this state of affairs, and together with the heavy receipts, tends to keep the market down."

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.
The Best Salve in the world for Tetter, Itch, Burns, Scalds, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chills, Blisters, and all kinds of Skin Eruptions. This Salve is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every case, and is sold by all the leading druggists. For sale by Jas. Clarke & Co.

Marine Notes.

Seasonable Topics.

The little peach catches the early market.

The early cucumber catches the best crump.

The best strawberries and the best men are generally found at the top.

When a man is climbing the ladder of fame he likes rounds of applause.

A strawberry tree in a half-cup of a dozen strawberries gets into a half-cup of this milk and appear to have a jolly time.

Don't invite a "self-educated" man to address a school. He will be sure to tell the pupils that he never went to school and yet knows as much as anybody.

We meet a great many warm friends during the heated term.

There are the days when a fellow feels like doing nothing and keeping at it.

The market was crowded inside and out to-day, and gardeners' and farmers' early produce brought good prices.

Advertisements in the Intelligencer, as it has the largest circulation of any paper in the Bay of Quinte District.

Strawberries were again in plentiful supply to-day, selling at 8c to 12c per box.

There was a good supply of new potatoes on the market to-day, which readily sold at 4c to 5c per peck.

If you want a servant, or a situation, or board, or a house to rent, advertise in the Intelligencer. It will only cost you 25c for the first publication.

One man can start a story, but the entire population of the city cannot stop it.

All kinds of plain and fancy printing can be obtained at the Intelligencer office as cheaply as at any other establishment in the Bay of Quinte District.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.—Harper's Monthly for July contains the first part of "Washington Square," a new story by Henry James, Jr., "Queen Victoria," by Mrs. Oliphant—portraits of the lady taken during childhood and maidenhood, also of the Prince Consort and other members of the Royal family. The opening paper is on the late Wm. Morris Hunt, by Maria B. Oakley, with engravings from several of his paintings. Midsummer reading will be found in "Bypaths in the Mountains," the first of a series by Rebecca Harding Davis illustrated; and "Summer Clubs on Great South Bay," a humorous description of life on Long Island shore, by Thos. W. Knox. Other illustrated papers are "Santa Fe Trail," by A. A. Hayes, Jr., and "Peacocks and Potentates," with a very interesting portrait. Dr. J. W. Draper contributes a paper entitled "Franklin's Place in the Science of the Last Century." Richard T. Ely discusses the difference between "American Colleges and German Universities," and there is besides a large variety of illustrated poems, fiction and miscellaneous readings.

COMMERCIAL NOTES.

CATTLE SHIPMENTS.—Cattle shipments from Montreal to the west ending June 20th amounted to $3,114 head of cattle and 1,450 sheep. Messrs. Craig & Kennedy shipped 55 head this morning, averaging nearly 1,700 lbs each.

THE CONSOLIDATED BANK.—The shareholders of the Consolidated Bank have appointed a committee to consider the advisability of instituting proceedings against the ex-directors for the recovery of the amount paid in dividends after the capital became impaired, to which action the Montreal Gazette takes exception on the ground that "the Directors have lost their money equally with the shareholders; may, more, many of them are the heaviest sufferers by the failure."

THE BANK OF MONTREAL.—The directors of the Bank of Montreal have decided to bank the utmost confidence must be placed in the General Manager and in the statements submitted by him to the Board. A personal inspection of the accounts and the conduct of the head office and branches by the directors is an utter impossibility, and unless they are prepared to trust the officers whom they employ to conduct the affairs of the Bank, they may as well wind up its affairs at once.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

The Commission say that 16 Musulmans were killed, 12 without colorable pretext. They also report the occurrence of sixty cases of rape, and much robbery. Captain Vassieroff, a Prussian commander of militia and four other officers and thirty-one private have been arrested, but as the officers are mostly Russian subjects it will be difficult to bring them to justice.

LONDON, June 26.—Berlin despatches say the line of frontier adopted by the supplementary conference is as follows: On the east it follows the northern valley crest of Salsbania at a considerable distance from the river up to and northwards around Metovo, lies away a little more than one-third of the Greek speaking Province of Thracia, then strikes across the country to and includes Janina and joins the Albanian considerably above the middle point of its course, and following the bed of the stream falls into the straits of Corfu with the northern arm of the river.

A LOVING JOKE.

A prominent physician of Pittsburgh said jokingly to a lady patient who was complaining of her continued ill health, and of her inability to cure, "You better use the Bitter, for lady took it in earnest and used the Bitter, from which she obtained permanent health, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good patient."

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Tetter, Itch, Burns, Scalds, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chills, Blisters, and all kinds of Skin Eruptions. This Salve is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every case, and is sold by all the leading druggists. For sale by Jas. Clarke & Co.

Poverty and Distress.

That poverty which produces the greatest distress is not of the purest but of the bluest. Deprived of its luster, it becomes weak and wailing, a condition termed anemia in medical writings. Given this condition, and around it swirls and swirls, general and nervous debility, loss of flesh and appetite, weak lungs, throat diseases and consumption, are among the common results. Therefore, if you are a but employ Golden Medical Discovery, which enriches the blood and radically cures these ailments, striking at the root of the evil and removing the cause.

For all bronchitis, throat, and lung affections, severe lingering coughs, weak lungs, consumption in its early stages, asthma and kindred ailments, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the sovereign remedy, and has been tried by its competitors. It is harmless in any condition of the system, yet powerful to cure. Druggists sell it.

A Wonderful Discovery.

For the speedy cure of consumption and all diseases that lead to it, such as tubercular consumption, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Asthma, pain in the side and chest, dry hacking cough, tickling in the throat, Hoarseness, and all chronic or lingering diseases of the throat and lungs, Dr. King's New Discovery has no equal and has established for itself a world wide reputation. Many leading physicians recommend and use it in their practice. The formula from which it is prepared is highly recommended by all medical journals. The clergy and the press have complimented it in the most glowing terms. Go to your druggist, and get a bottle free of cost or a regular size for $1.00. For sale by JAS. CLARKE & CO.

"TEARLESS," the newest wonder for whitening the teeth, delightfully refreshing to the mouth. To try it is to become a friend to the piquant, irresistible, popular Dentifrice of the day. Adwly

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, JUNE 28.

Smelting Works at Belleville.

All the efforts of the local press, aided by the forcible letters from the Hon. Bills [?] in this column, and all the discussion in public and in private on the subject of the establishment of iron smelting works in this city, have hitherto amounted to nothing. True, a few years ago the people passed a bonus of $75,000 to Mr. Partridge, the great iron master of Hazelton, Pennsylvania, for the erection of smelting works, but the depression in the iron trade which set in shortly afterwards, caused the failure of that project, and to-day it seems no nearer realization than it was before the bonus referred to was voted. There is no other place in Ontario so favorably situated as Belleville with regard to the iron smelting business. Connected by railway with the finest iron mines on the continent; with limestone for fluxing at the very door of a furnace, wherever located within the city; having water communication with all ports on both sides of the lake; there is no condition waiting for the manufacture of iron here on the most profitable terms. But unfortunately the spirit of enterprise seems lacking in our midst, and we fear that the golden opportunity will be allowed to pass, namely that of making our city the site of the first iron smelting furnace in Ontario. The city to action when they are told that Toronto is moving in the matter, and unless timely action be taken will forestall Belleville in entering into the business of iron smelting. As other kindred industries will be brought to this city, the iron smelting works, and as the first in the field, they will have the greatest advantage in that respect. The importance of the statement will at once be seen.

Our information on this point is derived from the Mail of Saturday, which reports the proceedings of a meeting held in that city on the previous evening, to consider the project of constructing locomotive works in that city. Mr. Robert Bradford, the report informs us, "stated that Mr. Worts had told him that he would extend the Nipissing railway to the Shinden iron mines in order that the ore might be brought the more readily to the smelting works at Toronto." Should this project be carried out with the energy which usually characterizes the business men of Toronto, a serious blow will have been struck at the prosperity of Belleville, and it will be good-bye to the prosperity of the city in that direction. Toronto is not favorably situated as a location for the smelting business, as the limestone which is used for flux must be conveyed a considerable distance to the works, either by vessel or by railway, necessarily a large expense, while it can be had in Belleville, and is attainable at a much less cost—possibly cost—little more than the expense of quarrying.

Nature has given every possible advantage to our city, and if Toronto or any other place be allowed to take the lead in this matter, it is the fault of our own people. It is exceedingly desirable that, if any action is to be taken, it should be taken at an early day.

PROBABLE MURDER.—News has reached Ottawa of a probable murder at Buckingham. From what can be ascertained it appears a man named William Henry committed a breach of the peace there. When Constable Morrison undertook to arrest him, Henry resisted, and finding the officer was too much for him drew a revolver and shot him. He then escaped and has not since been captured. The wound, it is thought, will prove fatal.

FRUIT AND BOX DOWN.—A despatch from Kingston, June 27th, says: "This evening Christian Becker, of the firm of G. M. Weber & Co., piano makers in this city, was drowned at Kingston while trying to save his little son. It appears Mr. Becker's son was out bathing, a line being put out of the boat for him to get hold of. He lost his hold, and was in danger of drowning, when his father jumped out of the boat to rescue him, casting it to capture. They both struggled in the water trying to make for the shore, but the marginal weight of the boy was too much, and both were drowned."

RAILWAY INSPECTOR.—A despatch from Montreal, June 26th, says: "Mr. Bailey, Chief Engineer of the Toronto & Ottawa Railway, has arrived here en route for Ottawa. As he proceeds he is thoroughly overhauling the old line and making changes where they are desirable."

NOTES BY THE WAY.

THIS TO HASTINGS.

When the thermometer is in the nineties it is a relief to get away from the heat and noxious miasms and stifling dust of the city, and breathe the pure, invigorating atmosphere which is to be found out in the broad fields, on the hillsides and in the valleys. Whether you walk through the meadow, or ride over the highway, or thunder along the iron track, the change from the close air of the city to the pure air of the country is most welcome, and can only be appreciated by those who enjoy it. Saturday afternoon in company with Mr. Brennan, the Superintendent of our local Railroads, the writer took a trip to Hastings over the Grand Junction Railway. The brief hour was glad to get away a brief hour from the dust and heat and bustle of the city, and to catch a sniff of the fresh air, and spend the quiet rest of the Sabbath day amidst some cool and shady retreat. Once out from the smoke of the city, and the pestilential vapors which rise from a hundred busy cess-pools, an agreeable change steals over the senses—the air is fresh and cool, and the road is a sort of perfumed which comes from flowers and field and forest, and the eye feasts upon the smiling fields of waving grain and the beautiful panorama which Nature in her loveliest garb spreads out before you. It is a welcome change, and how the little ones laugh and crow and jump as they watch the ever-changing scenery—the horses, the boat and tail-coat, the locomotive, the train of passenger cars, the cattle quietly feeding in the valley, the sheep and lambs scattered over the hill-side—as we rush with lightning speed over the iron highway—past farm house and school and church—now plunging into the thick of the forest, thundering over trestle and bridge, winding along the hill-side, following the tortuous course of the valley, and emerging out at a level plain, where are broad fields of meadow, of barley and oats and wheat, and rye and peas, in most luxuriant growth—past orchards, heavily laden with fruit which will soon be yellow and russet and golden—past hamlet and village, until near the station, when the little ones discover the cosy retreat alongside the river, and recognize the watchers at the door and on the steps waving their handkerchiefs, which find a responsive welcome from the windows of the house. Then there is clapping of hands and ringing laughter, and faces wreathed with smiles, as they anticipate the realization of their dreams. Happy dreams! Happy little ones! Let them crowd as much of mirth, of joy, of pleasure, of happiness into the few brief hours which are theirs—let them kick and jump and romp and play to their heart's content, for the days will come soon enough when they will have to battle with the stern realities of life—when their laughter will have turned into sorrow, and the romp and play will become the drudgery of hard, unceasing toil. Let them be merry and gay when they can, and may, and who amongst us who have crept up into the thirties, and forties and fifties, but would be glad to take their places and live our happy days at Campbellford and steam up grade to Hastings, which is reached about seven o'clock.

Since the Grand Junction Railway was taken hold of by the contractors a great improvement has been made in the condition of the track. The Superintendent, Mr. Brennan, who appears to know what he is doing, made a thorough inspection of the track, and found the condition of the track to be such that it would be a waste of money to do more than to patch up the defects at once doubled the section gang and commenced making repairs where most needed. In low places the road bed has been raised, the kinks taken out of the rails, new ties laid down, ditches made, culverts repaired, and the work of putting the road in first class order gone on with. Already a very great difference has been made in the condition of the road, and when the work is completed, which will be in about ten weeks, the road will be in capital order. No less than forty-five men are now engaged on the different sections making these repairs. Several additional freight cars have been added during the week, so that now the road will be able to furnish sufficient accommodation to carry the freight, which seeks an outlet by this road. Four goods are now upon the road, two having been ordered by the Grand Trunk Railway Company, and negotiations are now in progress for two more, which will make six in all; there are now three passenger cars, and arrangements are being made for the purchase of several more, so that the demand for excursion parties may be supplied. There are ten new box cars, ten new ore cars, and new flat cars, the latter having arrived to-day from the London (Ont.) Car Works.

The extension of the railway to Peterboro' is progressing rapidly, and there is little doubt but that the road will be completed and open to Peterboro' by the first of October. The contractors have abandoned the idea of going over the Oubourg road and are going into Peterboro' by an independent line. This will necessitate the building of a bridge over the Oubourg above the locks, which will be nearly three hundred feet in length. It will be seen by advertisement that tenders are asked for the building of this bridge.

The Bridge across the Trent at Hastings is rapidly assuming shape. It is about three-quarters of a mile above the station at Hastings and is 460 feet in length. There are seven piers and two abutments all of which are complete—there is one span of 500 ft on each side, two spans of 100 feet, and in the centre is a swing bridge, with two clear openings of 50 ft each. The third span is now being raised, the superstructure has been framed, and it is expected the bridge will be ready for the iron by the 15th of July.

Mr. Dinwiddie, the contractor, has the contract for two other bridges on the Road—one, a pile bridge over the river Ouse about 320 feet long, and the other over the Indian River, which will be a Queen Truss 144 feet in length.

The distance from Hastings to Peterboro' is about 22 miles; of this 14 miles are reely graded, 4 are under way, and with the staff of men now employed, numbering about 350 men, it is confidently anticipated that the road will be completed and in operation by the first of October. So mote it be.

Twoed Notes.

Some of our Twoed fellows were rather surprised on Thursday last by the appearance of two red coats in the village, non-commissioned officers in search of recruits, &c., &c., belonging to Her Majesty. I believe they succeeded in capturing a recruit, which were frantically carried away by some unscrupulous persons, as they should know better, as any man acquainted with the regulations, is or should be better informed, the law being very strict on the subject.

We had a good shower in the vicinity of Twoed this evening, (Friday), which in the farming line looks excellent.

A friendly game of quoits was played in the village this evening by S. Bottoms and T. McCauley. McCauley's side won by one point, when the others played for the ice cream for the whole.

New Regulations.

The Canada Gazette of Saturday contains the following: His Excellency the Governor-General has been pleased to declare by authority of the 5th section of 40th Vic. chap. 10, that the duty to be levied on tomatoes in cans and canned meats shall be at the rate of two cents per pound, which rate shall include the duty on the cans and the weight on which duty is payable shall be declared by authority of the cans.

Also, where doubts should have arisen as to the kind and class of instruments included in the term "cheque" used in the sixth section of the Act, 42nd Vic. (1878) Chap. 17, entitled, An Act to amend and consolidate the laws respecting duties imposed on promissory notes and bills of exchange, in order to avoid all such doubts in the future His Excellency the Governor-General, on the recommendation of the Hon. the Minister of Inland Revenue and under the authority of the twenty-third section of the Act above and has been pleased to declare, and it is hereby declared that any instrument which is not an order or request addressed to a bank or banker by a customer of such bank or banker, requiring the payment of a sum of money on demand is not a cheque and is not therefore exempt as a cheque from payment of duty under the said act.

MORNING DESPATCHES. EUROPEAN.

London, June 28.—The Standard says it understands that after a somewhat excited meeting of the Cabinet a resolution was adopted to support Mr. Labouchere's motion to rescind the vote of the House regarding Bradlaugh. The motion will not formally be made a question of confidence, but many Liberals who voted in the majority on the last occasion will abstain from voting on this. Bradlaugh addressed 100,000 persons at Northampton on Saturday, and after his speech a unanimous vote of confidence was passed. He also addressed a large meeting in London on Sunday. Various other meetings have been held in London and elsewhere in his favor.

AMERICAN.

BUREA VISTA, Col., June 28.—Last night an incendiary attempted to burn the Lake House, but was caught in the act, and was charged by a mob, who fired several shots, fatally injuring an unknown man and severely wounding John Moon and James Matthews. The crowd also attacked Judge Casey, but he escaped. The intention was to burn the house and kill the judge.

St. Paul, Minn., June 28.—During a fight in the bear garden at Fisher's Creek on Sunday, Ed. Brennan attempted to separate the combatants, and was struck with a loaded cane and killed.

Rivers, Wis., June 28.—G. W. Dellinger's extensive flouring mills were burned last night, loss $46,000.

New York, June 28.—Some of the largest sugar refineries in this city, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore, have proposed a combination to keep up prices.

Adolph Cook, of Morrisania, while lighting a bakery furnace with kerosene, was fatally burned by the explosion of the oil.

The army corps seem to have mostly run their course. James's Co., and have also nearly disappeared in Suffolk Co. When from 300 to 400 tons of hay are or nearly cut every year, from present appearances not more than 25 tons will be gathered this season. All the crops are suffering from drought, but especially oats and grass. Wells and cisterns are running dry.

John Jacob Astor Bristol, eldest son of Chas. Astor Bristol, the famous librarian, was struck on 6th Avenue yesterday and died, aged 32.

Miss Ada Mark, an actress connected during the past season with Fanny Davenport's Company, joined the Rev. Mr. Collyer's Unitarian church in New York. Mr. Collyer's address said: "I hope that hereafter the barrier between the church and theatre will be entirely broken down, and that actors and actresses may mingle with us."

The heat yesterday drove people from the city in crowds to the adjacent watering places. 224 deaths were reported yesterday, the highest number for any day this year; 14 deaths were from stroke.

Jumped the Rail.

A SHOCKING SCENE ON A KANSAS RAILWAY.

SARGENT, Kansas, June 27.—Yesterday morning on the T. & S. F. RR., three miles west of here, a train was running at the rate of twenty miles an hour when the smoking car jumped the track and the last two cars went over a five foot embankment, the engine and baggage express escaped.

The scene in the cars was beyond description, women and children crying and screaming for help, men bleeding from wounds and crawling out of windows.

One lady was caught between the broken seats and her husband lay unconscious a short distance away, while their child sat unharmed among the cushions. J. J. Jenkins, of Des Moines, Iowa, was killed.

Mr. Keenan, of Arkansas, sustained a contusion of the brain. His wife is wounded in the groin, back and thigh, and both will probably die. Frank Wheeler, of Campbellville, Canada, was injured in the back, and several others were badly hurt. Two of the train conductors were prompt assistants. It is supposed that the engine broke a rail while passing over it.

A LONELY JOKE. A prominent physician of P. O. Oubourg said jokingly to a lady patient, "who was complaining of her continued ill health, and of his inability to cure her," "try Hop Bitters." The lady took it in earnest and used the Bitters, from which she obtained permanent health. She now laughs at the doctor for his joke, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good patient.

CAN BE CURED

IS A FACT ATTESTED BY THE HIGHEST MEDICAL AUTHORITIES IN THE WORLD.

A careful observation of the laws of health and the nature of the disease, and the

EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME AND SODA will accomplish this result. This preparation has all the virtues of these two most valuable medicines, and is a perfect substitute for them, and we make the following qualified statement, that SCOTT'S EMULSION is being used with better results, and and prescribed by more physicians, than any other medicine, and the Western

Children, Coughs, Bronchitis, Scrofula, Anemia, General Debility and the Wasting

Disease, and many other remedies known to medical science. The rapidity with which patients improve on this food medicine diet, is truly marvellous.

MESSRS SCOTT &amp; BOWNE: 60 West Thirty-sixth Street, New York, September, 1876.

GENTLEMEN: I have frequently prescribed SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH

HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME AND SODA, and regard it as a valuable preparation in scrofula, rickets, and other diseases of the bones, and in the Wasting

Disease, and many other remedies known to medical science. The rapidity with which patients improve on this food medicine diet, is truly marvellous.

Yours respectfully,

A. H. SEXTON, M. D., Baltimore.

MESSRS SCOTT &amp; BOWNE: Gentlemen: -Within the last two months I have fairly tried

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME AND SODA, and

I can testify to its value in the treatment of scrofula, rickets, and other diseases of the bones, and in the Wasting Disease, and many other remedies known to medical science.

The rapidity with which patients improve on this food medicine diet, is truly marvellous.

MESSRS SCOTT &amp; BOWNE: Gentlemen: -In September, 1876, my health began to fail, and my physician pronounced it a spinal trouble; under his care I got some relief from pain, but my strength did not improve, and early in the winter, I began to raise blood and rapidly grew worse. In May I was taken with violent bleeding, and my life was in danger. I was spared for many weeks; violent symptoms appeared, night and morning cough, night sweats, and a return to the spinal trouble. My physician stopped the bleeding, and then or-

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30.

Stocks to its Text.

The Ottawa Free Press sticks to its text, and asserts that sugar, tea, coffee, bread, beef, clothing, and other articles known as the "necessaries of life" have risen in price from 25 to 50 per cent. under the N. P. If our contemporary has any readers idiotic enough to believe so foolish an assertion, we are quite willing that they should do so. In order to show how false its assertions are, we present the following comparison of prices, which is compiled from the Globe market reports of March 6, 1879, (just before the N. P. came into effect) and of June 24th of the present year, the days selected being Thursdays, when full reports for the week are given. The prices compare as follows, the highest and lowest quotations being given in each instance:

Coffee, 79c	June 24, 1880.
Tea, 18c	18c
Sugar, 18c	18c
Bacon (roll), 20c	37c
Hams, 10c	10c
Flour, per 100 lbs.	$13.50 to $14.00
Wheat, 10c	10c
Barley, 10c	10c
Oats, 10c	10c
Peas, 10c	10c
Beans, 10c	10c
Apples, 10c	10c
Potatoes, 10c	10c

Now if our contemporary can manufacture an advance of "from 25 to 50 per cent" in the price of the articles above quoted—which includes all the "necessaries of life" contained in the Globe's market report, it is clearer than all other people are. Perhaps it could tell its readers, how much increase in the prices of several of the articles named has occurred at the places of production, and how the New York market compares with ours on or about the dates named, say for instance in the articles of tea and sugar. Then it might compare the Chicago markets with those of Toronto for the articles of pork, hams and bacon, and those of Liverpool as to flour and oatmeal, still adhering to the dates chosen as nearly as may be, and thus it would ascertain to what extent the N. P. is responsible for the rise in prices. If our contemporary has not the necessary data to furnish this information, we offer the suggestion that it may be found in the Parliamentary reading room. We strongly suspect that it has been speaking without knowledge, and ascribing certain effects to causes as to which it is supremely ignorant, and that it has grossly misrepresented the facts we have partially shown it above. To exactly what degree this has been done, the Free Press can ascertain by carrying out the suggestion above offered as the only means of sustaining the position that it so confidently assumes, if such can be done.

We therefore challenge the Free Press to examine the files of any, respecting the political or commercial journal, quote honestly therefrom and make good its sweeping assertion—if it can. We have so far helped it on its way, but failing to make good its position it must stand convicted of deliberate misrepresentation, of which it has undoubtedly been guilty.

The Grand Junction.

An important event in the history of local railway enterprise is the amalgamation of the Grand Junction and Belleville and North Hastings Railway Companies, which was consummated on June 29th, at meetings of the Directors and shareholders of each of these Companies. The Company will hereafter be known as the Grand Junction Railway Company, and Mr. Thomas Kelso was elected as its President. This was a fitting appointment, as Mr. Kelso was one of the first residents of the city to move in the matter of obtaining railway communication with the Georgian Bay, which we hope to see secured within the next twelve months. He has always largely interested himself in the matter, and has worked with great energy and much ability to attain the carrying out of the project.

The object of the amalgamation is to reduce working expenses and, by the issue of bonds, to raise the money necessary to equip the line with a sufficiency of rolling stock, to place the road in a first class physical condition, and to secure the extension of wharves—now utterly insufficient—as well as to furnish facilities for the shipment of iron ore. All this, we are assured by Mr. Bickford, the Managing Director, will be done with as little delay as possible.

The amalgamated road is now doing a large and increasing business; it is under able management, and with its opening to Peterborough and the addition of such facilities as are above indicated, a large benefit is certain to accrue to the city in the near future from its operation.

Dominion Day.

To-morrow the people of the Dominion of Canada will celebrate the completion of the thirtieth year of the Confederation, which was so happily inaugurated on the first day of July, 1867. The year has been one of the most important in the history of the Dominion, as during its currency the construction of the Pacific Railway has been pushed on other sections, and still further portions of the line have been placed under contract, thus providing the most rapid possible way the means of peopling our great North-West. Other great public works, namely the enlargement of the Welland, St. Lawrence and Ottawa canals, are also being pushed on in a vigorous manner, whilst the working expenses of the Intercolonial Railway have been so reduced that the road is no longer the tremendous tax on the revenue of the country which it was under the management of the Maclellan Government. Another year's experience of the N. P. has proven satisfactory to the people at large, although still crowded against by the N. P. as well as the Ottawa canal. A good harvest last year has resulted in restoring prosperity, and an equally good one promises for this year, so that there is much to be thankful for.

Locally the year has been marked by rather less dullness than the previous few years, and a decided improvement is to be noted in our manufactures, as well as in general business, whilst the prospect is more hopeful in view of the certain early completion of the Grand Junction Railway to Peterborough, the erection of a public building in the city, and the condition of the Murray Canal project, which has engaged the personal attention of Ministers, and seems to be likely of realization at an early date.

With all these and many other minor blessings, the people will gladly hail the birthday of the Dominion, and will unite heartily in its celebration.

Grand Junction and Belleville and North Hastings Railways.

A joint meeting of the Directors of and shareholders in the above roads was held in the Grand Junction Company's office, Pinnacle Street, on the afternoon of June 29th at 2 o'clock p.m., for the purpose of considering and ratifying a certain agreement and deed of amalgamation, and for the purpose of carrying out the terms of such deed of amalgamation and issue of bonds by such amalgamated Companies and the execution of mortgages to secure the same upon the property of each of said companies respectively.

Of the Grand Junction Directors there were present Messrs. Thos. Kelso, President, H. Hon. Robt. Read, A. Diamond, N. B. Falkner, Belleville; H. Cameron, M. P., Toronto; and James Ferris, M. P., Campbelltown.

The North Hastings Railway was represented by Messrs. J. McDougall, President, R. Cowan, Montreal; A. F. Wood, Madoc; A. Hugel, Port Hope; Jas. Crossen, Cobourg; and W. A. Foster, Belleville.

Mr. Cameron read the deed of amalgamation, which provides for the issue of bonds for the payment of claims and purchase of rolling stock; that the number of Directors of the united Company shall be seven, exclusive of ex-officio directors, of whom five shall form a quorum.

Mr. Kelso read the resignation of Mr. D. B. Robertson as Secretary of the Grand Junction Railway Company. On motion of Mr. D. B. Robertson, seconded by Mr. Cameron, the resignation of Mr. Robertson was received and accepted, and W. Sutherland, jr., appointed Secretary, pro tem.

The deed of amalgamation was separately considered by the Directors of each Company and adopted, after which the Directors adjourned.

The Mayor, E. O. Bickford, Toronto, and A. Robertson, M. P., were also present at the meeting of shareholders. Meetings of those of each Company were held separately, and the amalgamation agreed to and issue of bonds authorized.

A meeting of the amalgamated Board was then held, when Messrs. McDougall and Cowan resigned their position as Directors, they being contractors.

On motion of Mr. Ferris, seconded by Mr. Cameron, Mr. Kelso was elected President of the Company as amalgamated, which will hereafter be called the Grand Junction Railway Company.

Mr. Sutherland, jr., was elected Secretary to the Company.

Hon. Robert Read was elected Vice-President of the Company.

Mr. Cameron, Q.C., was elected standing Counsel and Solicitor to the Company.

Mr. Cameron moved for the issue of bonds to the extent of $100,000 per mile on all the line of the Company, the sum to be secured by mortgage and to form a first lien on the property of the Company. The rate of interest to be 5 per cent, and the bonds to be payable in twenty years.

The President asked authority from the Board to sign leases for elevators at Stirling and Campbelltown.

Mr. Ferris moved that the President be authorized to sign the leases after their approval by the Solicitor.—Carried.

The Board then adjourned, subject to the call of the President.

"Bonnie Bird," which won the Queen's Plate at Ottawa on the 25th is owned by J. J. Kelso at Woodville, Ont., is 4 years old and was driven by "Edgy Currie."

Obituary.

It is one mournful duty to record the death of JAMES SISK, for some years a resident of this city, but of late years of St. Thomas and the West. About nine o'clock on Sabbath morning last, with all his family gathered at his bedside, he passed away. His decline had been gradual and long, afflicted as he was with unquenchable indigestion and consumption of the bowels; yet the crisis, as is often the case, came sooner than expected. Born in 1815, he was in the 62nd year of his age. His parents were Irish, and he was born either on the ocean or in Nova Scotia. His infancy and childhood were passed in New York, where he was left an orphan when about 12 years of age. Owing to the kindness of a friend in protecting him while an orphan. When of age he went into business for himself in Nicholson, Pa., made some property and lost it by the disaster of a flood. He married in 1840, and came to Belleville in 1862. Both Mr. and Mrs. Sisk have yet in this city many warm friends cherishing their memory, many while they lived here by their liberality and kindness of heart. When Rev. J. Carroll, D.D., was pastor of Pinnacle Street Methodist Church, Mr. Sisk was associated with Rev. J. Carroll, Mr. Sisk was converted, and joined the Wesleyan Methodist Church. Subsequently he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, in which communion he died. When he had been found in our western peninsula, he was among the first advocates, a pioneer of the considerable money in it. He had the full benefit of the prosperity of the place and the unceasing experience of its decline. In his spirit of enterprise for the development of the territory he started the Chatham, Huron and Erie Railway scheme, of which Oil City and Petrolia Section is a link. One of the Charter Members of the Board of Alma College, he was up to the hour of his death one of the most earnest promoters and liberal supporters of the scheme. His chief joy was in visiting the first academy, an anticipating the success of the enterprise; everywhere he was a true friend of liberal education and of the highest advantages for all the people. He will be long remembered for his cheerful intercourse, his cheerful, unfeigned generosity, and fearless advocacy of equal rights for all. His first wife, the mother of all his children, died at Oil Springs in 1873; his second, a resident of St. Thomas, whom he married in 1876, survives him. Devoted children, many friends, and the promoters of several good enterprises, bevaill his loss.

New Vessels.—The completion of the Infelix, the Ajax, and the Agamemnon, which is promised during the present year, will make an important addition to the available strength of the British navy. The Infelix, the largest of the new vessels, is a vessel of 11,400 tons displacement; while the Dandolo and Dullio, her rivals in the Italian navy, are only 10,570 tons. The armament of the Infelix, consisting of four 80 ton guns, is, it is true, inferior to that of the Italian ships, each of which carries four 100 ton guns; but, on the other hand, there can be no doubt that the English vessel is of greater strength than the Italian men-of-war. The Ajax and the Agamemnon are sister ships, each of 8,492 tons, so that by the completion of the three vessels 27,544 tons of ironclad shipping will be added to the immediately available strength of the navy. The Ajax and Agamemnon carry only four 35 ton guns, but as these weapons throw a projectile weighing 700 pounds with sufficient velocity to penetrate 14-inch armor, the vessels must be regarded as offensively of considerable power, while they possess great defensive strength.

The 49th in Camp.

(From our own Correspondent.)

All the Companies of the Battalion were present at the various parades yesterday, and in consequence the battalion drill was performed with more satisfaction than previously. There was a marked improvement in the marching and evolutions in the ranks, and was observable in the afternoon. Captain Panton of No. 6 Company acted as instructor for the battalion, and it is only justice to say that he did his work well. He thoroughly understands each movement in its most minute part, and gives instructions intelligently, and in a manner easily understood.

Yesterday in regard to the weather was all that could be desired. The sun was clouded most of the day and a cool breeze blew from the bay. While the battalion and band were out in the afternoon a good many visitors were on the grounds.

A complimentary call was made in the evening by the officers and band at the residence of Nelson Gilbert, Esq., where a pleasant hour was spent.

The excursion by the Mary Ethel in the evening was not very numerously attended. Wind southerly, strong.

To-morrow will be an interesting day in connection with the 49th in Camp. The day of the district, Lieut.-Col. Stranahan, will take place about noon.

Items are scarce and my communication to-day is consequently short.

Marine Notes.

The large Murray brought a cargo of lumber from Trenton this morning.

The Kingston News says:—The trade in iron ore this season has been very large, and profitable for the carriers. This will ultimately be one of the largest trades in connection with shipping from Kingston, and it will be a wise policy to give it every facility.

THE CANAL DISASTER.

Navigation Stopped for a Week.

(From the Witness.)

The following additional particulars of the accident to the Lachine Canal, we copy from the Witness of last evening:

THE CAUSE OF THE ACCIDENT.—WHAT THE ENGINEER SAYS.

Mr. D. McLean, the chief engineer of the Bohemian, was standing on the wharf close to the sunken steamer when questioned by our reporter, and in reply to a question said, "I got the bells to go ahead—full steam. After we struck, the bells were sounded to reverse, but, of course it was no use, then. After she struck, if I had not gone ahead at full steam, we would have been swept through the bottom lock gate. There were only twenty-five pounds of steam on at the time. I am in the engine-room, and go entirely according to the bells."

In the course of some further conversation Mr. McLean intimated that the blame seemed to be attached to the mate for not having given the signals correctly. The damage to the engine, which is below water, he thought, would not be very serious.

THE LOCKMAN'S STATEMENT.

The lockman was sought out by many who desired to obtain an account of the accident. Several times the assertion was made in the groups collected around him that this was not the first time the Bohemian had been run recklessly through the locks, and the Canal Superintendent, Mr. Conway, was heard to remark: "The Bohemian will have to pay for this." The lockman attributed the blame to the officer in charge of the Bohemian.

REPAIRING THE "BREAK."

Superintendent Conway in less than an hour after the "break" had men at work. Several were sent to look after the lock-gates swept away, but these could not be found. It is the intention to put up stop locks so that the barges now in the basin may be floated out. It will probably be five days or a week before the damage done is repaired, and in the meanwhile all upper lake navigation will be stopped.

THE LOSS.

No estimate of loss can be given at this early date. Besides the loss to vessels the mills on the canal are all shut down, and a large number of men will be idle for several days.

RUMORS OF ACCIDENTS.

There were several rumors about about people being drowned, but upon investigation they proved to be rumors merely.

THE SCENE AFTER THE DELUGE.

was one probably only surpassed by the torrent itself. Even at three o'clock the water continued to pour over the wharves, overflowing Niagara itself in the number and variety of falls. The barges, Zeb Raynold, loaded with lumber, lies on one side in the lower lock, the Glenary reclining a little lower, while over the lock gate and side walls continues to pour a miniature horse shoe fall. The wharf at the foot of McGill street is well flooded, and the water level is almost within the stern of the Allan Line vessel. Into the large new basin pours a fall along its whole length.

The Long Island Disaster.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

New York, June 30.

The deaths are estimated at from 50 to 75. A passenger says an old lady, mother of the freight clerk, ran up to a gentleman and exclaimed: "For God's sake, sir, help me. I am old and cannot save myself." The gentleman pushed her back, saying, "This is not a moment to save; it is every one for himself," and he leaped overboard.

The body of J. H. Skidmore was found this morning at the foot of 115th street. He jumped overboard from the steamer after he had been with his brother, who was saved. The body of the Morgue is supposed to be that of the Rev. J. W. Diller, D.D., formerly rector of St. Luke's Church, Brooklyn. It is not yet identified. Two more bodies were picked up off Ward Island.

MORNING DESPATCHES.

AMERICAN.

TRENTON, N. J., June 30.—The Grand Jury presented 14 indictments against Hadden, late cashier, and some directors and other officers of the collapsed First National Bank, Newark.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Yesterday the Treasury Department sent out 51,000 interest checks for 4 per cent loan, covering the entire interest on that loan. One check which goes to Vanderbilt, represents an interest on the 30th part of the entire funded debt of the U. S., and the eleventh part of the registered loan. The other ten-elevenths are held by over fifty thousand persons.

New York, June 30.—(Congressman Starin says) will give the annual river census of 2,000 new boys and boat blacks to morrow.

Ex-Town Treasurer Dwyer, of Guttenberg, N. J., known as "Honest John Dwyer," was convicted yesterday of embezzlement of public funds while in office.

The papers are still giving columns of details of the Senneca disaster. An old gentleman who clung to the boat till burned to death, despite the efforts of his daughter to induce him to leave, was Rev. Dr. Jacob Diller, rector of the Emeritus St. Luke's Episcopal church.

Subsidiary papers have been started for Captain Smith and engineer Weeks. Three persons have subscribed one hundred and twenty dollars, and sent money to the Sea office.

It seems probable that the number lost will reach forty. Seventeen bodies have been identified, two unidentified, and seventeen are missing.

THE GLASGOW BANK FAILURE.—The effects of the Glasgow Bank failure are still painfully apparent in Scotland. Stockholders who were compelled to sacrifice their property are now in extreme poverty; the small holders who depended on their stock for an income are destitute. A relief fund of nearly a million for their benefit has been subscribed and is held in trust, but it is entirely inadequate to meet their wants. Real-estate in Glasgow and other cities has depreciated fully 30 per cent, and a part of this decrease is attributed to the depression consequent upon the failure of the bank. It is estimated that the farmers and landholders in Scotland have withdrawn deposits from the banks to the amount of over eight millions of dollars, under the pressure of the times. Emigration, as a means of escape from the dilemma, is quietly spoken of, and the situation is not improved by the want of sympathy between land owners and tenants. It is stated that two or three agents or pioneers of companies proposing to emigrate are already in the United States.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30

City and Vicinity.

No PAPER.—As to-morrow will be a statutory holiday, the Daily Intelligencer will not be issued.

FIRST PAGE.—Some correspondence and other matter which has been deferred will be found on the first page of to-day's issue.

EXCURSIONS.—Attention is again directed to the advertisement of the Ogdenville excursion to Massena Point and Trenton to-morrow.

HARVESTING.—Numbers of poor people have lately been securing their annual harvest of firewood, which they obtain by stripping the saw-logs of their bark. Very large quantities of fuel are thus obtained.

THE DRIVE.—The drive down the Moira of saw logs and other products of the forest is very nearly completed. The tail of the drive yesterday passed Stinson's dam, about two miles up the river, and by the early part of next week all the logs, &c., will be in the boom at the mouth of the harbor.

CRICKET.—The Belleville Cricket Club will meet their old-time opponents of the Port Hope team in a match game here to-morrow. So far this season the Port Hope players have not done so well as usual, but they will to-morrow present a strong eleven, and the game is sure to be an interesting one. The local club will be represented by the following players: Dean, Mayne, Corby, Thomas, Jenkins, Reeves, Peden, Wallbridge, Kemp, Frowell, and Clarke. This is the same eleven that defeated Oshawa on the 18th inst.

RAILWAY NOTES.—Could not the Grand Trunk authorities have the tracks on the east side of the station cleared when passenger trains are about to arrive? Such action is very desirable. The passenger traffic on the Grand Trunk yesterday evening was very heavy. The express from the east, which consisted of ten cars, was followed by a special passenger train of six cars, the train having been divided on account of the large number of passengers. Mr. T. H. Cooper, Assistant Superintendent, made a visit of inspection here yesterday.

FOREPAUGH'S GREAT HERD OF ELEPHANTS.—Forepaugh's Great Combination of Menagerie, Circus, and Trained Animal Show, which is to exhibit here on the 12th July, has more performing elephants than ever have been seen at one time on this continent. Eleven elephants will appear in one grand parade of 5 O'Leary Elephants in Military evolutions, two African Elephants in acts of Equitation, and one Siam Elephant, walking the tight rope. These ponderous brutes represent a cash outlay of nearly $300,000.

SCHOOL EXAMINATION.—The semi-annual examination in connection with school No. 3, Tyendinaga, was held in the school room on the forenoon of Friday, the 25th inst., and was conducted by the teacher, Mr. Garrett. In the afternoon the pupils of the school of Miss Downs (who certainly seems a very lively and energetic teacher) and to whom the success of the picnic is principally due) and Mr. Garrett, accompanied by Mr. Rayburn's Grove, near the Bay of Quinte, where a bounteous repast was served by the most prominent ladies of the two sections, Mesdames J. C. Maracle, D. Claus, D. C. Maracle, T. T. Claus, Brant, M. Campbell, the Misses Hill and Porter. Among others who attended we had the Rev. Mr. Baker, Messrs. M. Hill, A. Culbertson, J. Lott, Maracle, Brant, Roberts and Porter, and friends from the cities of New York, Toronto, Ottawa and Kingston. After all had regaled themselves heartily, they spent the remainder of the afternoon very pleasantly in croquet-playing, swinging, dancing, ball-playing, boating, for which Mr. Hill, to whom all present felt greatly indebted, kindly furnished his beautiful yacht, and on the occasion, and in various other amusements till the indication of a severe storm at 5.30 p. m., when all having had a general good sociable time, concluded that it would be advisable to immediately depart to their respective homes.—Cont.

BUCKLE.—The proceeds of the garden party held at Mr. Dunton's on Friday night last, amounted to $75.

THE IRON THRONE.—Property seems to be about to return to the iron throne, as it is stated that three of the mines which were recently closed will be put in operation again at an early day.

BARBAR.—The ladies held by the ladies of St. Thomas' Church yesterday proved to be highly successful. There was a large attendance during the day and evening, and the receipts will show a goodly total.

FIRE TANK.—The new fire tank, erected by the Corporation at the corner of William and Court Streets, was being filled to-day. No. 2 engine was doing the work, the water being forced up hill through 2,750 feet of hose.

ONE HUNDRED PERFORMERS.—The Buffalo Democrat alluding to Forepaugh's great show, says that no circus ever came to that city and introduced one hundred performers into the arena, previous to the advent of Forepaugh's great show. It will exhibit here, July 12th.

THE TRENTO.—Celebration.—The steamer Artemis will make several trips between Belleville and Trenton to-morrow, stopping at the camp ground each trip. She will leave Belleville at 10 a. m. and 2.30, 5.30 and 8 p. m., leaving Trenton at 1, 4 and 7 p. m.

GOOD TIME.—Mr. Stephens' new steam yacht is seemingly likely to prove fast, as she made the run from Kingston to Clayton—a distance of 25 miles—on her way to Brockville, in 2 hours and 15 minutes, or at the rate of a little more than 11 miles per hour. This is a very good time for a small craft, with new boiler and machinery.

W. T. A.—The following were the officers elected for the ensuing quarter for the Workingmen's Temperance Association: President, Brother W. J. Diamond; 1st Vice-President, James Cunningham; 2nd Vice-President, Hugh Walker; Recording Secretary, A. D. Walker; Finance Secretary, Geo. Maiden; Treasurer, A. McKeown; Conductor, Z. Soles; Assistant-Conductor, Osborne; Warden, Nulty.

PERSONAL.—Mr. George F. Austin, C. E., passed the morning inspecting the work to be done in the harbor, in company with Ald. D. B. Robertson, Chairman of the Harbor and City Property Committee. Mr. Austin, who has just made a complete examination of the route for the Murray Canal, reports that he found no rock, up to a depth of 22 ft., although it was previously stated that the rock existed at a depth of 5 feet from the surface. This is most encouraging news, and will further tend to ensure the construction of this important work.

MINISTERS AT BATH.—On June 29th, Sir John A. Macdonald, accompanied by Sir Leonard Tilley, visited the scene of his childhood at Bath, having been invited to attend a picnic given by Father McWilliams, the Roman Catholic priest of Bath, and his congregation. There was a very large attendance, including Messrs. Kirkpatrick, McGuire and McIlroy M. P., Mr. Calvin, M. P. P. and others. Sir John was presented with a highly complimentary address. Sir Leonard, in the course of a very able speech, showed that the N. P. had worked very hard, and pointed out that wages in several lines of business are being increased. The revenue for the year, he stated, would be $14,800,000, instead of $12,000,000 as formerly, or $300,000 more than he had estimated. Sir John also expressed much satisfaction with the working of the tariff, and stated his confident belief that the Pacific Railway would not be in the end cost Canada a single farthing. At this moment, he said, there are a number of capitalists offering to build the road, desirous of taking it off the hands of the Government. These offers are under consideration. The picnic was a great success.

Cheese Market.

A downward tendency has characterized the cheese market during the past week, until buyers ask themselves when will it reach bottom. Buyers laid heavily on their purchases during the early part of the season, and some failures are reported in consequence, which adds to the demoralized state of the market.

It would seem that the large shipments have been the principal cause of the depression of the market, which could only be remedied by a curtailment of production; but, as we have seen remarked, with the remembrance of the sudden and unexpected loss of last fall, there is small chance of a curtailment of the production this season. Yet we would say that any day a building boom, or any such sudden rise in price, again in building on the sand, with every chance of disappointment.

The total shipment from this section during the past week was about 4,000 boxes, one quarter of which went forward in consignment. No cheese was shipped during the week that cost over 7½¢ per lb., and to-day the choicest make will only command 7¢.

The cable to-day stands at 4½¢ against 5¢. Last week, a fall of 10¢ during the week. There was no cheese market held here to-day, as at the last meeting of the Board it was decided to hold the market in future on Saturdays. The next cheese market will be held on Saturday, July 3rd.

TAKING FOREIGN CAPITAL.—The New York State Bill to tax the capital of foreign banks doing business in the State one-half per cent on the average of all sums used has been signed by the Governor. The probable effect of this legislation will be the withdrawal of millions of foreign capital from the New York money market, and the consequent depreciation of the value of money in Canada, as a good deal of Canadian capital is invested in New York, and English capitalists may also transfer a part of their money to the Dominion for investment.

The Bearbrook Murder.

Five Persons Arrested as Accessories—A Description of the Fugitive.

OTTAWA, June 29.—In connection with the Bearbrook tragedy it is understood that it is the intention of the Russell Council to give a reward to the parties assisting Henry. Diligent search has been made in the woods surrounding Bearbrook. Constable Caruthers has arrested four of the Harrison family, also Mrs. Wm. Henry, as being accessories. He was in the city last night in search of her. The following is a description of the escaped man:—About six feet high; dark complexion; wears a moustache; high forehead, with a deep furrow across his brow; heavy eyebrows, and very rough skin; has a front upper tooth out; a little stooped.

The Rifle.

THE IRISH AND AMERICAN MATCH.
DOLMONT, June 29th.—The weather to-day was cloudy, but not threatening. The wind was straight on the target, which was unfavorable for high scoring; the air was tolerably clear and soft; 200 members of the Royal Irish Constabulary arrived in numbers at the match. At the 500 yards range the American team scored 436 out of a possible 450 and the Irish 434; at the 600 yards range the Americans scored 437 and the Irish 428; at the 1,000 yards range the Americans scored 420 and the Irish 416. The correct grand totals are:—Americans, 1,292; Irish, 1,259.

Correspondence.

Whilst correspondents will be accorded space for the expression of their ideas on topics of public interest, it must be in all cases understood that the views expressed are simply those of the correspondents themselves.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.
Dear Sir:—The correspondent who sent you a notice of the concert given in Marmora, on the 10th of June, in aid of the English Church, gave the names of the ladies, who kindly assisted that evening, with the exception of one—I refer to Miss Helen Parker of Stirling, who played very beautifully the accompaniments for many of the other singers, (she and Miss Pools of Malco, were the only ones who did play) and she sang as well—some excellent songs—one of them especially, called "The Fair," a very difficult piece was most effectively rendered, and gave great pleasure to the audience.

I cannot think your correspondent intentionally committed the error, but it seems strange that the name of the lady who did so much towards the entertainment, should be omitted, when the names of the other ladies, who took part that evening, were given.

Mr. Gilbert Parker, of Frankford, gave recitations and also a song that was received with great applause.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—Closing score at 11 p. m. Scott 505; Reid 500; Eaton 471; Callahan 460; Edwards 451; Guerrier 446; Danier 434; Sheridan 404. This closed the original match, but the management arranged with the leading pedestrians to continue 5 days longer. Those remaining on the track to compete with fresh contestants each had a hundred miles. The continuance is to begin at once.

MIDDLTON, N. Y., June 30.—A fire at Liberty this morning destroyed the dry goods store of Seales & Purvis, and the hardware store of John Wales. Loss $22,000; incendiary.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Arrived the State of Nevada from Glasgow, Australia from London. Arrived Oshawa.

PANAMA, June 30.—The Jesuit chapel were thronged on Tuesday in the Province. At Little 600 persons, headed by the Chairman of the committee of commerce and waited on the Jesuits to express sympathy. The last of a series of meetings held in Paris in the Cirque de Hiver to protest against the Jesuit decrees, a considerable crowd assembled outside the building, and blows were exchanged between the mob outside and those issuing from the hall. The mob hooted at a number of the principal priests. In the Deputies yesterday Baudry Jasson made an ineffectual attempt to make political capital out of the foregoing affair.

QUEBEC, June 30.—Arrived Helvetia.
LONDON, June 30.—A telegram has been received confirming the despatch that peace was concluded.

Buenos Ayres, June 30.—A telegram reports a defection among the provincial troops. This probably signifies that the inhabitants of the city were brought to their senses by the first but moderate course. President Avellaneda has exercised pressure on the Governor of the Province.

PARIS, June 30.—An immense crowd evaded, notwithstanding the upper classes were flocking all day yesterday to the principal Jesuit establishments. Thousands signed the visiting book, and carried off flowers as mementoes.

WEATHER REPORTS.

TORONTO, June 30.—Probabilities for the next twenty-four hours: for the lower lakes, moderate to fresh winds, mostly southerly to westerly, fine hot weather.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Indications: lower lakes, particularly, occasional rains.

A Losing Joke.

A prominent physician of Pittsburgh said jokingly to a lady, who complained of her continued ill health, and of her inability to cure her, "Try Hot Bitters." The lady took it, and in a few days she was cured, from which she obtained permanent relief. She now laughs at the doctor for his joke, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good pain.

False Impression.

It is generally supposed by physicians and the people generally that dyspepsia cannot be cured, but we are pleased to say that GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWERS has never, to our knowledge, failed to cure dyspepsia and all its attendant troubles. As our Stomach, Costiveness, Sick Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, &c. Out of the 50,000 communications last year, not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters received from Druggists and Physicians. This great remedy was discovered by Dr. J. C. Clark, of New York, and is sold by J. C. Clark & Co., and L. W. Yeo.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by Dr. J. C. Clark, of New York, and is sold by J. C. Clark & Co., and L. W. Yeo.

Many leading physicians recommend and use it in their practice. The formula from which it is prepared is highly recommended by all medical journals.
